49 Of 76 Aboard Ditched Plane Plucked From Atlantic

Gale Hinders Rescue; Six Bodies Found

By ANTHONY WHITE

LONDON (AP) — Battling raging seas, rescuers today plucked from the North Atlantic 49 survivors of a ditched chartered airliner carrying American servicemen and their families. A grim search continued for 21 others — including two children—still missing.

Only six bodies have been recovered.

A massive international air-sea mercy fleet converged on the crash scene 500 miles west of Ireland.

The British Air Ministry said five of the six rafts carried by the Flying Tiger airliner had been accounted for. Radio reports that more survivors were sighted clinging to another raft were being investigated.

One rescue ship radioed she had sighted a raft but as darkness fell no further word was received and hope faded.

Gale winds and heavy seas also hampered rescue operations as seaplanes were prevented from letting down on the water.

The four-engine Super Constellation took off from McGuire Airport, N. J., Sunday bound for Germany and ditched at 10:12 p.m. after the pilot radioed three of the engines failed.

The Swiss ship Celerina radioed that she had picked up the 49 survivors.

The survivors — some injured and all of them suffering from shock — were transferred from the Celerina to the Canadian aircraft carrier Bonaventure by helicopter.

The Bonaventure radioed that she was proceeding toward Ireland while the survivors received medical care in her sick bay. The carrier expected to land the people at Shannon by helicopter Tuesday night.

The pilot of the downed plane, Capt. John D. Murray of Oyster Bay, N. Y., radioed of his fight to keep the plane in the air before ditching. He was reported to be one of the survivors.

Capt. Milton McCurry of Miami, Fla., pilot of one of the returning amphibious search planes, told newsmen at Prestwick, Scotland, there was a strong possibility that the missing passengers had a chance for survival if they were on rafts and could be picked up soon.

The chartered airliner carried 76 persons—68 American servicemen and their families, and a crew of eight.

Two dramatic races were in progress.

In one the rescue ships and planes were desperately trying to locate the missing survivors before 10-foot waves, cold and

Two Passengers Former Marinites

Two of the passengers aboard the Flying Tigers plane that ditched Sunday night in the Atlantic were former residents of San Rafael, it was disclosed today.

They were Maj. Carl R. Elander, son of Mrs. Robert Elander of West Point, N.Y., and his wife, Lois. The couple lived on Clorinda Avenue, San Rafael, for about a year in 1957 while Major Elander was stationed at Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco, according to Mrs. Jose G. Alicastro of 70 Marina Boulevard, San Rafael.

85 PER CENT OF MARIN TROOPS IN FOR VACCINE

SHE LIKES IT STRAIGHT

Four-month-old Darian Alioto is too young to be given a cube of sugar, so Dr. Ted McCarthy drops Sabin oral polio vaccine directly into her mouth at San Rafael High School K.O. Polio clinic and she obviously likes it just fine. Darian's father, John C. Alioto of San Rafael, holds her. She was one of 124,127 Marinites who received the vaccine yesterday. Marin's turnout topped five other Bay Area counties. (Ken Molino photo)

Virtually all of Marin turned out yesterday to take cubes of sugar which will prevent type one poliomyelitis.

In eight hours at 20 school buildings, 124,127 Marinites received their initial dosages of Sabin oral vaccine —84.5 per cent of the total 1960 census population of 146,820.

Added to the 4,692 who received their vaccine earlier in advance inoculations of K.O. Polio volunteers and San Quentin prisoners, this brought the total vaccinated to 128,819—or 88 per cent of the population.

The turnout yesterday is believed to be the largest, percentagewise, ever to receive polio inoculation in any one day in any county in the United States.

It topped the turnout in the five other Bay Area counties which joined with Marin, through their medical societies, for a coordinated K.O. Polio campaign. The six-county turnout yesterday totaled 2,537,700 people.

Said Dr. Eugene P. Shatkin, chairman of the Marin Medical Society's K.O. Polio committee:

"In vaccinating 84.5 per cent of our population, we exceeded our most optimistic expectations and are proud to announce that Marin County has achieved the highest percentage of people immunized among the six Bay Area counties and to our knowledge the highest percentage ever immunized in a county in one day."

The sun shone on Marin as long lines formed well in advance of the 11 a.m. opening of the K.O. Polio clinics at 20 schools.

The lines shortened rapidly as the clinics opened and the throng of volunteers—doctors, nurses, pharmacists, Boy and Girl Scouts, members of the Red Cross, the Marin Medical Assistants, the Marin Medical Society Auxiliary and "just plain people" who had wanted to help—began efficiently registering the throng, passing out little paper cups each containing a cube of vaccine-impregnated sugar, and receiving the rain of quarters contributed to pay the cost.

Marin Led Six Bay Counties

County percentage totals —including those who received their first doses in advance of yesterday's mass vaccinations—were announced as follows:

Contra Costa	332,633	83

Makeup Dates Scheduled

"Makeup dates" for those who were among the 12 per cent of Marin's population who failed to receive first Sabin polio immunizations yesterday were announced today by Dr. Eugene P. Shatkin, K.O. Polio committee chairman.

The type 1 vaccine sugar cubes will be given at the Marin County Health Department, Fourth Street and Grand Avenue, San Rafael, tomorrow, Wednesday and Friday from 1 to 4 p.m.

Those who were unable to get their first immunization yesterday and who receive it at the county health office this week can continue with the second and third doses on the scheduled days — Nov. 4 and Dec. 9 — said Dr. Shatkin.

Stewardess Was To End Flying Days

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Ruth Mudd, a stewardess aboard the Flying Tiger Line plane which ditched in the Atlantic Sunday night, was fired a few days ago and had decided to quit flying, one of her San Francisco roommates said today.

It was not known whether Miss Mudd, 24, was among the survivors plucked out of the Atlantic.

Switched Day Off

LYNHURST, N. J. (AP) — It was stewardess Carol Ann Gould's day off.

But the Flying Tiger Line needed another flight attendant to accompany the 68 servicemen and their families to Frankfurt, Germany.

Officials of the line called Miss Gould's mother, Mrs. Edward Ziegler of Lyndhurst Sunday.

"I told them where she could be reached—at her girl friend's house where she stayed for the night," Mrs. Ziegler said today.

"If only I hadn't given the number to the person who called."

BOARD TO DISCUSS HOUSES ON POLES

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Marin City's "houses on poles" are to be discussed tomorrow by the county board of supervisors.

Supervisor Peter Behr, after a visit yesterday to the site where the 59 homes are under construction, said he would bring up the matter at tomorrow's board session.

About 80 Marin City residents met last night in the community lounge to hear complaints which began Thursday after the first home on poles, the "Inverness," was walled in. The protests are mainly against construction on poles, residents saying they had expected homes on concrete foundations.

They also complained that there is no closed-in garage, no hardwood floors, asphalt driveways instead of concrete driveways, redwood instead of concrete retaining walls, according to Frank Philips. He is chairman of a citizens committee which called last night's meeting.

No action was taken at the meeting, Philips said, but committee officers have agreed to meet again to discuss costs of the homes now being erected. No meeting date was set.

Philips said 25 persons signed a paper last night saying they object to pole-type foundations.

"I'm planning to withdraw my $300 down payment if the type of house is not changed," he said. Thirty residents have made $300 deposits on the homes.

Frederick Martin, representing Barrett Homes Inc., of San Francisco, builders, said today as yet no one has asked to withdraw a down payment. He said at last night's meeting that his firm would transfer down payments already made to other homes to be built later. Six hundred homes are planned in all.

"The die is cast," Martin told the gathering. He said materials are ordered, everything is crystalized and the firm is bound by contract to go ahead.

Martin said the second home, a "Belvedere" model, is being floored today and should have the walls up this week. It will sell for $15,950.

Martin also told Marin City residents that, though nothing could be changed on the 59 homes, concrete foundations

10 Believed Dead In Navy Plane Crash

KODIAK, Alaska (AP) — The burned wreckage of a Navy patrol plane that carried 10 men was sighted by a search plane today on an island on the southern coast of Alaska.

The Navy said there was no sign of any survivors. Three bodies were seen near the wreckage, the Navy reported.

The search plane radioed Navy headquarters at Kodiak that the wreckage was spotted near Cape Cleare.

A ground search party was dispatched but there was no estimate of its time of arrival.

Reward Increased In Mail Robbery

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—The reward offered for solution of the $1.5-million mail truck robbery Aug. 14 near Plymouth, Mass., was raised from $50,000 to $200,000 today.

Postal officials said they believe the $200,000 is a record reward offered in the history of American law enforcement.

Prowler Slips Away With $70

A burglar broke into Forest Knolls Lodge this morning and ransacked the place, then slipped out with about $70 in change just minutes before officers closed in.

Sheriff's Sgt. Kenneth Irving said a Forest Knolls resident, Danny Bredion, had notified bartender Nick Casanova. The bartender had closed the lodge about 11 p.m.

By the time Casanova and officers arrived, the prowler was gone. The money was missing from a drawer behind the bar. The place had been ransacked, but nothing else appears to be missing, Sergeant Irving reported. The Sergeant said the prowler had climbed the roof to enter through a window.

Quentin Pair Admit Roles In Check Ring

Two San Quentin convicts, accused of being members of a forgery ring that planned to counterfeit payroll checks inside the prison print shop, pleaded guilty today before Judge Thomas F. Keating in Marin Superior Court.

Robert Gilette, 30, serving time for felony assault and attempted robbery in Sacramento, and Antonio Bucaloy, 30, Monterey forger, admitted conspiring to commit forgery.

Judge Keating set Oct. 15 as the time for sentencing the pair. They face a penalty of one to 14 years in prison.

Charges are still pennding against two others; Robert W. Minor, 29, of San Francisco, who worked as correctional officer at the prison, and Albert Leo Martin, 30, a Sacramento express company employee. Minor is scheduled to be arraigned next Monday, and Martin will plead in two weeks.

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety contends that Minor and Martin were important links in a ring that planned to smuggle in payroll checks as samples and eventually turn out $125,000 worth of counterfeit checks in the prison print shop.

Fuel, Water Problems For Schirra Orbit

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Spacecraft fuel and water consumption will be major items under study when astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr., makes his intended six-orbit flight around the world, now set for Oct. 3.

Proper supplies of fuel to control the spececraft's attitude and water to maintain comfortable cabin and suit temperature are necessary if the next goal in Project Mercury, an 18-orbit, one-day flight, is to be met while using essentially the same spacecraft.

Project officials made several disclosures about the flight today as engineers worked to correct a valve problem which cropped up in the capsule last Friday. The trouble necessitated removal of the 4,200-pound craft from atop its Atlas booster rocket and caused a five-day delay in the planned Sept. 28 launch date.

A leak was detected in the valve and subsequent investigation revealed it was sticking. The valve is to be replaced and the present timetable calls for the spacecraft to be rejoined with the Atlas Wednesday. Six to eight days of checkout are then required before firing.

John F. Yardley, Cape Canaveral base manager for McDonnell Aircraft Corp., which makes the capsule, said the most important thing he'll be looking for on Schirra's flight will be water consumption.

"There is ample water aboard for a six-orbit mission," Yardley reported. "We're redesigning the capsule for an 18-orbit flight but we don't know how much water we'll need."

Yardley, who was responsible for preliminary design of the Mercury capsule, said the three-orbit journeys of astronauts John H. Glenn Jr. and Malcolm Scott Carpenter gave engineers no indication of the amount of water needed for one-day missions.

Yardley explained this was because Carpenter and Glenn tried to squeeze many things into their relatively short five hours in space. The activity generated body heat which resulted in extensive use of the water coolant system to maintain a comfortable temperature inside the space suit.

Glenn and Carpenter ran dangerously low on hydrogen peroxide fuel and both had empty tanks when they landed. This was caused primarily by the astronauts' mismanagement of their fuel supply. Carpenter at one point inadvertently had two fuel-consuming control systems operating simultaneously.

WANT THANT REPLACED

Russia Again May Seek U.N. Troika

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko was reported seeking support today for a three-man board to supplant the United Nations acting Secretary-General Thant.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk met briefly yesterday with Thant, strongly backed by the United States for re-election as the sole executive of the United Nations. Rusk will talk with Gromyko tomorrow.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev first told the General Assembly in 1960 that the U.N. executive should consist of three men, each with a veto, representing Western, Communist and neutralist countries.

The Russians shelved that so-called troika plan to permit Thant's election last Nov. 3 to the remainder of the five-year term of the late Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold expiring next April 10.

Over the weekend, an informed diplomatic source said, Gromyko told another assembly delegate the Russians still want the troika, and the principle should be applied from top to bottom of the U.N. structure

If Thant is to continue in office, he must be re-elected by the assembly after first being recommended by the Security Council, where the Soviet Union could veto him.

The United States came out for Thant's re-election months ago. Gromyko, talking with a reporter last night, declined to express an opinion about Thant.

That was after Gromyko, speaking in the assembly's general debate, said the United Nations would deal more effectively with the tasks it is faced with "if the three existing main groups of states—the Socialist countries, members of the Western bloc, and the neutralist countries—were represented in its leading bodies."

Delegates noted that this was only a vague approximation of the troika idea, that the secretary-generalship was not referred to and that Gromyko gave the subject only one short paragraph out of a 10,000-word speech.

African, Asian and American sources have said that no matter how hard the Russians push the troika idea they can never get majority support for it.

Some have remarked that the Soviet Union is bound to agree to Thant's re-election because he has strong support in the Asian-African group, which comprises 53 of the 108 U.N. members.

Redding Fire Blamed On Smoking

REDDING (AP)—Smoking in bed has been listed as the probable cause of the fatal $500,000 fire which destroyed the 74-year-old Golden Eagle Hotel Saturday. Three persons died in the six-hour blaze, two are missing, and four are hospitalized.

Fire Chief Wilburn W. Grant said yesterday he thought the fire started from some one smoking in bed on the second floor. He said the hotel register listed the missing men as Mike Hodges and Melvin J. McDaniels, both of Sacramento.

A third body found yesterday was identified as Charles E. Brack, 28, of Idaho Falls, Ida. Identified as dead Saturday were Ed DeBon, 66, a Eureka truck distributor, and Herbert J. Johnson, 63, Redding rancher.

Argentina May Have Elections

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Backed by triumphant army rebels, President Jose Maria Guido set out today to bind the nation's wounds with a hint of amnesty for all and a promise of free elections.

Guido went on the radio last night hours after the last resistance crumbled in north Argentina, ending five days of armed forces conflict that shook the country.

Guido was thrust into the presidency last March by the military high command that took a beating from rebel forces led by Brig. Gen. Juan Carlos Ongania.

Organia accused the high command of making Guido a virtual prisoner with the aim of leading Argentina into military dictatorship. He and his backers said they wanted to free Guido.

Guido switched to the rebel side in the midst of the conflict. While he told the nation he alone would exercise the powers of chief executive, he laid down a policy advocated by the rebels.

"There will be elections of new authorities within the briefest possible time in free pools," Guido declared. "This is the firm purpose of the government."

Larkspur Boy On TV In Science Action Show

He is John G. Burke, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Burke of 25 Monte Vista, Larkspur.

Arrangements for the boy's TV appearance were made by Arthur W. Relfe, newly appointed manager of the bank's San Anselmo office.

"Science in Action," now in its 13th year, is viewed each Monday on KRON-TV (channel 4) from 7 to 7:30 p.m.

During his appearance on "Science in Action," the Redwood High honor student will show a study of the effects of alkylbenzenesulfonate on the algae chlorella.

Painting Found

LONDON (UPI) — A missing $14,000 Renoir painting was turned in to police yesterday by two bus drivers who said they found it in the street and at first kicked it into the gutter as rubbish.

The painting, a landscape, was lost Sept. 16 when it apparently fell from the trunk of a car.

Peace Corpsman Going To Africa

By THERON A. NEWELL

Novato's first member of the Peace Corps left yesterday to begin final training before he starts his duties in Africa.

Jeffry Mareck, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest F. Mareck of 100 Chamberlain Lane, visited his parents last week on a furlough from Peace Corps training. He had just finished a nine-week intensive training course at the University of Maine, to equip him for his job in Sierra Leone, a newly independent former British colony on Africa's West Coast, adjoining Liberia.

Mareck was graduated from Novato High School in 1960, attended Santa Rosa Junior College, and last summer worked in the Lower Yukon River country of Alaska with the U.S. Geological Survey.

A class of 60 began the training for the assignment to Sierra Leone, Jeff said. Of these only 21 were left at the end of the course.

At the university, their days began at 5:30 in the morning when they took a three-mile run. After that they did 45 minutes of calisthenics. Then they studied from 8 a.m. until 9 p.m., with time out for meals.

Themne, the native language of Sierra Leone, was entirely a spoken language until this summer, young Mareck said. Selsier Conteh Morgan, a native of Sierra Leone, worked with a group at the University of Maine headed by Dr. David Crabb, to reduce Themne to writing in the Roman alphabet.

Jeff said he thought it would be quite a thrill to take the written language to his own country for the first time.

The country was settled to a large degree by ex-slaves from Jamaica and Nova Scotia, similar to settlement of Liberia by freed slaves from the United States, he said.

Freetown is the capital, but Mareck will be stationed in Makeni, a town in the interior.

Young Mareck, who was born in San Francisco, has lived in Novato for eight years. At Novato High School, he was a discus thrower and shot putter on the track and field team.

The hobby of "rock hounding" led him to join the geological survey team in Alaska last summer.

He plans on carrying on his geological investigations in Sierra Leone. After his two years in the Peace Corps, he plans to resume his studies to become a geologist.

"Sierra Leone is completely unexplored geologically," he said.

The Peace Corps team to Sierra Leone is divided into four sections. Jeff will work in local water supplies. Their job will be to drill wells with a portable rig in native villages in the middle of the country.

Other groups will work in school construction, road and bridge building, outboard motor repairing and maintenance, and teaching the natives how to run their own cooperatives.

Mareck will spend two weeks in Puerto Rico to become acclimated to a moist tropical climate before leaving for Sierra Leone. He has had all 22 of the required shots before going into the tropics, he said.

"If I had known it required all that, I might not have signed up," he said jokingly.

Television, Film Camera Stolen

A burglar ransacked a home in the Almonte area outside Mill Valley Thursday, carting off a portable television set, a movie camera, and an electric razor.

Fred Clarence Bisho of 235 Princeton Avenue told investigators he arrived home about 6 p.m. and discovered the break-in. The thief had broken the kitchen door.

Bisho estimated the loss at $270. The prowler left his home in such confusion that Bisho could not determine whether other smaller items are missing.

Deputy Clerk Wins Award For Knitting

Phyllis Hellwig of 18 Bayview Avenue, Mill Valley, who does a good job as deputy clerk in Marin Municipal Court, is also a skilled knitter.

Yesterday, she received an "honorable mention" ribbon for a Scandinavian knit sweater which she had entered in the home economics division at the California State Fair. The red and white "ski-type" sweater was on display in Sacramento until the fair closed Sept. 9. the next day.

Chrysler Prices

DETROIT (UPI) — Chrysler Corp., making the industry's first announcement on 1963 car prices, said today it will cut some Chrysler models by as much as $134.

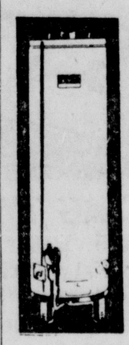

But other Chrysler and Imperial models will cost as much as $128 more because previously optional equipment like power windows and bucket seats have been made standard for 1963.

Sausalito Police Have Nine Heroes

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Sausalito's nine police reserve officers come from as far as San Rafael on the north and Daly City on the south.

Five change khaki uniforms of the day for blue uniforms and badges at night. They are soldiers.

Of the other four, two work for the federal government, one for Marin County, and one is a banker.

All have one thing in common: They like working in law enforcement.

Sausalito Police Chief Howard Goerndt sums them up succinctly: "They're a Godsend," he says.

The nine "unsung heroes" are required to work an average of eight hours every two weeks but have been putting in many more hours than that, the chief said.

They work mostly during evenings on the four to 12 shift. Requirements are the same as for regular patrolmen, Goerndt added. The men are given on-the-job training by Goerndt, training officer Tom Zink, and the senior officer on duty.

"They spend 70 per cent of their time patrolling the hill areas," Goerndt continued. They carry guns, are provided with jackets, trousers and hats, are loaned hat pieces and badges and must buy their own "leather." Leather consists of handcuffs and holster, gun and holster.

If reserve officers are called to work by the chief, they are paid $2.50 an hour. If they are serving regular required hours, they are unpaid.

"We are always accepting applicants," Goerndt added.

Of the soldiers, three plan to enter law enforcement work on discharge from the Army. One civilian, a contractor, has like plans.

Sp/4 Jerry Sass of Fort Barry said, "I took criminology in college and want to follow through in some line of law enforcement after release from the army."

Married, Sass lives in San Francisco. He says "the City of Sausalito is small but it has a lot of different situations that arise that are interesting."

From Fort Cronkhite are Sp/4 Leslie Floyd and Sp/4 Harry E. Palmer. "It's the most interesting work I have ever done," said Palmer of police work. He is from Tacoma, Wash., and plans to stay in California. Palmer works about eight hours a week, he said, mostly on the graveyard shift—midnight to 8 a.m.

Two other soldiers, who asked that their names not be used are from San Francisco Presidio and Fort Scott.

The former, a specialist 4, lives in Daly City and has done military police work almost five years in the Army. He said he worked in MP work two years in Germany, "doing everything — from foot patrol to gate guard to 'prison chaser.'" The last is the sending of prisoners on work detail. This soldier plans to take examinations for a police job in the Bay Area when he completes his Army duty.

The Fort Scott soldier said he has done MP duty and is developing background experience in civil police work in the event when he gets out of the service he is able to go into law enforcement.

One civilian, a father of three, has worked three years on the Sausalito force as reserve. Two civilians work in San Francisco, Donald C. Hirsch of Sausalito with the federal government and Dave Gurnesky, who is a banker.

San Rafael contractor Leon Eddings says he will take a drop in income if he eventaully goes into police work fulltime. He has been a reserve in Sausauito one year and once worked as a junior deputy sheriff in Lagunitas in a patrol set up by former Sheriff Walter Selmer.

"Sausalito has one of the finest groups of fellows in the whole country to work with," said the husky Eddings, " and the work is never dull."

WATER SHORTAGE TOLD IN REPORT

The most critical water shortage in its history and the addition of the biggest outside source of water were the highlights of the past fiscal year of the North Marin County Water District.

The report reviews the district's activities for the 12-month period ending June 30, 1962.

During the year, the district had to impose water rationing when Stafford Lake was reduced to 400 acre feet, which is only 10 per cent of its capacity. Water was rationed between Aug. 15 and Sept. 15, 1961.

Then on Dec. 15, the 30-inch pipe line connecting the Russian River aqueduct was put into operation. Total cost of the 10-mile line was $1,105,207. It was designed and engineered by the staff of the district.

The extreme water shortage was alleviated somewhat by the purchase of water from the Marin Municipal Water District in the spring of 1961. The North Marin District also constructed a diversion system to divert the flow from Boyman Canyon westward into Stafford Lake.

The peak day of use was one day last June when 4.7 million gallons of water were used. The district had to draw two million gallons from the Russian River source to supplement the local system.

To meet such demand in future, the district installed an automatic control system which reports storage levels from the Lynwood and Loma Verde tanks and will be connected with the Sunset and Trumbull tanks when they are completed.

The North Marin didstrict started its own licensed laboratory during the year to do its own bacteriological analyses. Prior to this year, the Marin Municipal district had done the tests as a courtesy.

A four-acre site was bought from Frank Pinheiro to be used as a corporation yard for the district. This is adjacent to the district office on Vallejo Avenue.

The district also joined with the City of Novato, Novato Sanitary District and County of Marin to make an aerial survey of the area.

Kwajelein Has Marin Colony

A small contingent of Marinites is colonizing Kwajelein in the Marshall Islands.

One of the pioneers in the movement is H. Edward McKinney, former operator of a San Rafael employment agency, who edits a small daily newspaper for island inhabitants.

Assistant resident engineer at the base is Marvin Brigham of San Rafael, who with his family is the most recent arrival from Marin County.

C. S. Shields, retired from the Air Force and previously stationed at Hamilton Air Force Base, is superintendent of the aviation department and assistant resident manager in charge of operations. His home is in Lucas Valley.

Supervisor of the construction department on Kwajelein is L. S. Hutchinson, a San Rafael resident for several years and an independent contractor. His wife is employed as a secretary on the island base.

"All take turns reading my copies of the Independent-Journal when I am through with them," writes McKinney. "The I-J is received about three weeks late but we all agree that what you haven't read or heard is still news.

"As editor of the island's daily newspaper, with limited wire coverage, I manage to keep them informed as to what's going on in the world generally, but we all look forward to the I-J and its coverage of Marin County news."

EDITS ISLAND PAPER—H. Edward McKinney, a San Rafael resident for 20 years, works at his desk as editor of the Daily Hourglass, published for residents of Kwajelein, Marshall Islands, in the mid-Pacific. McKinney, known for his work with an employment agency in San Rafael and activities with the SPEBSQSA chapter in Marin County, has been on Kwajelein since June 1.

Savings, Loan Application Announced

An application for a charter for a new federal savings and loan association in Marin County was announced today by Harold S. Elberg of Sleepy Hollow, former owner of Bilmar Plastics, San Rafael.

Elberg said that others joined with him in seeking the charter are Mrs. Elizabeth Rudel Smith Gatov (former treasurer of the United States), Edward J. Grady, Dr. Jack L. Gazzola, Charles W. Rosenbaum, Jackson A. Bennett, Jack A. Cooper, Mozart Kaufman, and William H. McDevitt all of Marin County.

A federal savings and loan association, he said, is owned by the depositors rather than by stockholders or financial holding companies. He said Marin County now has no federally chartered association whose board of directors and executives are local residents. It was for this reason, he said, the group made application to the Federal Home Loan Bank Board.

Elberg said the proposed name of the new association is the San Rafael Federal Savings and Loan Assn. It is planned to be located in downtown San Rafael.

Tennis Tournament

Jackie Quits Concert To Avoid Big Storm

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy pulled a disappearing act last night at the opening of Lincoln Center's new Philharmonic Hall, an historic occasion marked by suitably bombastic music, free-flowing champagne and no little mystery about the first lady's whereabouts.

The glamorous first lady, who made a flying trip from Newport for the big cultural event, created a wave of excitement among the audience of 2,532 government bigwigs, industrial tycoons, showbusiness celebrities and socialites when she arrived for the New York Philharmonic's first concert in its new $15.4 million home.

They gave her a standing ovation as she entered the presidential box, a vision of elegance in an evening gown of pink satin topped with a jet-embroidered black velvet bolero.

But when her towering Gibson Girl hairdo, in a flattering new auburn shade, could not be sighted through hundreds of uplifted opera glasses following the nationally televised concert's intermission, the audience buzzed with speculation. Had the first lady let the nation's most ambitious cultural project down? Had she disliked a specially commissioned work by American composer Aaron as much as one patron who shouted:

"Stop that --- ---- noise?"

Only a few of Lincoln Center's inner circle who were in the Philharmonic Hall's green room when Mrs. Kennedy visited conductor Leonard Bernstein at the half knew the reason for the first lady's quiet disappearance. She had been informed that weather at Newport was worsening and that she would have to fly back immediately in order to be there tomorrow to play hostess to visiting Pakistani President Mohammed Ayub Khan.

Pane Smashed At Juanita's

Vandals threw a rock through a window at Juanita's Galley at Waldo Point and shouted threats at the proprietor, Juanita Musson, shortly before midnight Friday, she complained to sheriff's deputies.

Miss Musson told Deputy Herrick Morgan that a group of Negroes in a car swore at her and shouted, "Come out and we'll take care of you." She said she did not pay too much attention to them until a rock came flying through a three-by-six window about 11:45 p.m.

She ran out but could not identify the attackers because of the dark. Miss Musson said the men in the car also threatened to burn her place down.

Milk Price Upped Half-Cent A Quart

Marinites who have their milk home-delivered won't notice the difference until they get their bills on Oct. 1, but the price went up a half-cent a quart yesterday.

Store price is now 25 cents per quart, and home-delivered milk, 25½ cents. Half-cent increases were authorized by the California Bureau of Milk Control in 12 Central California counties.

'Chutes Mystery In San Geronimo

Parachutes were reported entangled among trees in San Geronimo this morning, but the source remained a mystery.

Sheriff's deputies said that a Raymond Bellah, who identified himself as a member of the Western Sport Parachute Jumpers Assn., called yesterday at 7:30 a.m. to report he would be jumping in the Black Point area.

But a man jumping in the Black Point area could not have missed his target by that much, deputies said. Black Point is some 12 miles away from San Geronimo.

Zone Plea On 37 Acres Due Planners

A request to rezone 37 acres west of highway 101, east of South Novato Boulevard and South of Sunset Parkway from limited agricultural to multiple residential will go before the Novato planning commission at 8 o'clock tonight in the community building.

The same request was made last year by Sutter Development Co., but withdrawn after protests by Lynwood Park residents. The same firm has filed the new application.

Other zone changes to come before the planning commission include a request by Harry Johnson to change from single family to multiple family three and one-half acres on Madrone Avenue in the Essner Park subdivision.

Architectural supervision has been asked for an addition to the Novato Community Methodist Church and for an 18-unit apartment house at Hill Avenue and Diablo Avenue, requested by Jack Caristi.

Parolee Given 5 Years To Life For Robbery

Paroled convict Anthony Dennis O'Gorman, 28, of Forest Knolls, who robbed the Eat and Run Restaurant in Kentfield at gunpoint last month, must serve five years to life in prison.

O'Gorman pleaded guilty before Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court and admitted he was carrying a loaded gun at the time he held up two employees of the restaurant on the morning of Aug. 11. The judge sentenced O'Gorman to prison for first degree robbery, which carries a term of five years to life.

Elmer Clayton White and Dennis Russell White, no relation, were closing up the restaurant about 12:45 a.m. when O'Gorman forced thim back into the restaurant at gunpoint and robbed them of $7.50.

From a description of the getaway car, Fairfax police stopped O'Gorman on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard a few minutes after the stickup.

Transistor Imports

NEW YORK (UPI) — A move by U. S. transistor makers to lower prices on some transistor radios has been followed by a decline in imports of Japanese transistor sets. A company which imports Japanese sets, said sales are down 10 per cent from last year.

Driver Charged With Leaving An Accident

A Tiburon man was charged today with leaving the scene of an injury accident and sheriff's deputies were looking for a man who deliberately knocked a Kentfield girl off her bicycle.

Booked by the California Highway Patrol in San Francisco was Robert Burton, 64, of Apt. 102, Hilarita Housing, Tiburon, accused of a felony for allegedly leaving the scene after hitting a stalled car on Golden Gate Bridge.

Officers said that Joan Garten Smith, 32, of San Francisco lost control of her southbound car near the south tower of the bridge about 1:40 a.m. today, hit the right-hand curb and careened across the divider, stopping crosswise of two lanes.

Passersby Gail Binkley of Santa Rosa and Thomas Linebaugh, a sailor from the USS Hancock, told officers they stopped to help the woman and saw a northbound car slam into the victim's stalled auto, knocking it out of the way. The other driver sped away.

Miss Smith was taken to Mission Emergency Hospital in San Francisco for treatment of severe facial injuries.

The woman was cited for failing to drive on the right-hand side of the roadway.

According to the girl's father, who reported the incident, a man who was a passenger in a 1959 model station wagon reached out, grabbed the girl's arm and threw her off the bicycle as the vehicle passed by. She suffered only minor injuries and scratches.

Deputy Wade R. Powell said the license number of the car was traced to a dealer in Linden, Wash.

Freshman Class Offices Go To Girls

For vice president, Karen Goldberg, although she entered the race late, beat out two boy candidates, Dave Deal and Robert McLennan.

Tish Gallivan had no opposition for treasurer.

Jackie Hartman was elected commissioner of social affairs in an all-girl contest.

Marilyn Corona and Dolly Ringo were in a run-off for yell leader from a four-candidate field in which the only boy was among the two losers.

Elected to the student congress were Fred Buehler, Margie Costello, Sharon Dixon, Cindy Hunt, Barbara Leamish, Christine Owen, and Sandy Wechsler.

Student body president Gene Maiolini said he was not permitted to disclose the vote tallies nor the order in which the candidates finished.

Men's Clothing Reported Stolen

A thief, possibly armed with a .32 caliber pistol, broke into a parked car outside Juanita's Galley this morning and stole about $720 worth of men's clothing.

Jerry Edward Calvillo, who was in the process of moving from his San Francisco home to 6017 Redwood Highway at Ignacio, told officer he stopped in for a bite at Juanita's Galley north of Sausalito about 5 o'clock this morning. When he returned to his car, he noticed a 1955 cream colored car speed away.

He noticed the right window of his car had been smashed, and about 30 items of clothing missing. Sheriff's Deputies Ray Tschirgi and Joseph Kelly said the thief left a loaded clip for a .32 caliber pistol lying on the front seat of Calvillo's car.

Bank Of America In Corte Madera Due Town Planners

Plans for a branch of the Bank of America in Corte Madera will go before the town planning commission when it meets at 7:30 p.m. today in the town hall.

The bank plans will be submitted developer Fred R. Sanford, whose proposed $500,000 business complex between Tamalpais and Meadowsweet drives includes an office building and possibly the new postoffice.

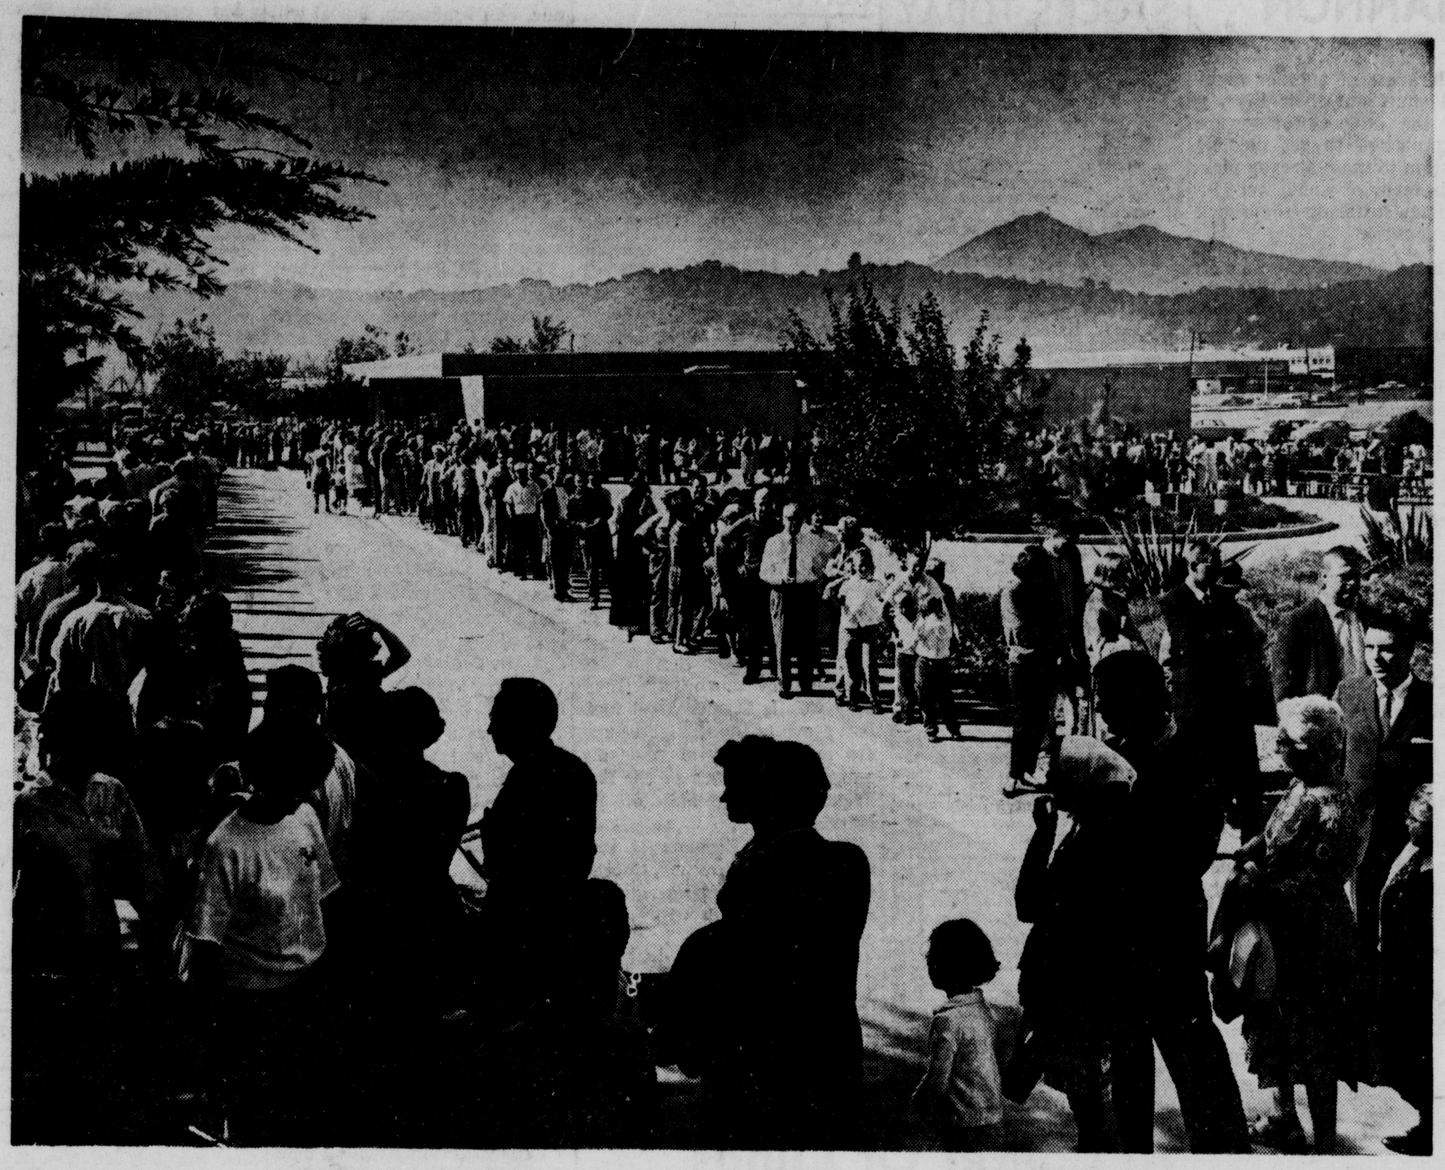

The commission will review plans for 22 apartments proposed by developer Maurice Miller on Deer Run Road in the Meadowsweet District owned by Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Beatty.

Plans by Robert C. Burns for a medical-dental building at 5643 Paradise Drive and revision of the town general plan will be discussed.

LINEUP FOR POLIO—Long lines stretch from K.O. Polio Clinic at San Rafael High School as it opens for first of three K.O. Polio Sundays. The San Rafael High clinic gave 11,687 doses—most of any of the 20 clinics in Marin's record-breaking attack on polio virus. The long line shortened rapidly as the throng, most of whom had filled out registration forms in advance, moved through clinic receiving their sugar cubes of Sabin vaccine. As at four other schools, crowd here so exceeded expectations that additional vaccine supplies had to be sent during day from county center at Marin General Hospital.

PAPA HAD HIS HANDS FULL — Mrs. William L. Hildeburn of Kentfield pops Sabin polio vaccine sugar cube into mouth of her husband at Redwood High School K. O. Polio clinic as he holds son Charles, 6 months. Interested watchers — who also took their first doses of the oral vaccine—are sons Will, 5 and John, 2.

Marin Turns Out For Oral Vaccine

able assistance of Boy Scouts in directing parking.

There was a holiday spirit to the throngs. As the lines moved along, people chatted and joked—and guessed as to how big the turnout would be. (Nobody, apparently, guessed as high as 84.5 per cent.)

"Why shouldn't we be happy?" quipped a man in the lineup at San Rafael's Davidson School. "We're all going to get sugar."

Another recalled the sugar rationing days of World War II and said, grinning, "the lines were never like this."

Five of the 20 schools — San Rafael, Terra Linda and Tamalpais Highs, Lagunitas and Novato's Lynwood—ran short of supplies as the turnout far exceeded predictions which had been based on study of the 1960 census tracts. Red Cross vehicles rushed additional supplies from K.O. Polio Center at Marin General Hospital.

The National Guard had made initial distribution at 9 a.m. of supplies of the vaccine—kept frozen at 15 degrees below zero — sugar cubes, signs, registration forms, and dozens of other items necessary for each K.O. Polio center.

So smoothly did the operation go that volunteers at two schools—Lagunitas and Fairfax's Manor—called K.O. Polio headquarters to ask, "Send us more customers; we're not keeping busy." Yet 2,251 appeared during the day at Lagunitas, and 5,981 at Manor.

Only major difficulty developed in traffic and parking direction at Terra Linda High School, which is reached by a dead-end street. San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa said a different parking plan would be worked out for the second K.O. Polio Day on Nov. 4.

Dr. Shatkin said today it has not been decided definitely whether to give Type 3 or Type 2 vaccine on the second day. If Type 2 is given, the third K.O. Polio Day—scheduled for Dec. 9—may be moved later because the Type 2 takes longer to develop immunity in the body, he said.

SAN RAFAEL — San Rafael High School, 11,912; Davidson School, 7,091.

FAIRFAX — Manor School, 5,981.

GREENBRAE — Greenbrae School, 5,692.

Electioneering Nipped In Bud

Electioneering got mixed into the K.O. Polio campaign in Novato yesterday.

James Rose complained to Supt. James Bunker of Novato Unified School District that campaign lilterature for Max Rafferty for state superintendent of public instruction was being passed out to the crowd at Novato High School waiting to take Sabin polio vaccine.

After checking with County Counsel E. Warren McGuire on legality of such activity on school property, Bunker had Robert McKeay, high school principal, order the literature distributors off the premises.

Similar literature was passed out at the sidewalk in front of Marion School in Novato—off the school property.

Rayna Tom Carmen, 51, a North Fork, Madera County, Indian, was returned from Springfield, Mo., federal Medical Center where he had been under treatment for chronic mental illnesses.

U.S. Judge M.D. Crocker of Fresno has ordered Carmen to be examined by psychiatrists Oct. 15 to determine if he is sane enough to stand trial.

He faces a murder charge for the ambush slaying of Wilburn McSwain on the North Fork Indian Reservation.

Berlin Still Shows The Scars Of War

By SAMUEL W. GARDINER
Special to the I-J

BERLIN (Thursday) — If you can keep from crying as you view Berlin, you are a brave person.

The ruins of World War II have been partially removed, but there are plenty of them here yet. At one point, 3,000 Allied bombers attacked within one and one-half hours and decimated it; 40,000 people were killed.

The Marin Executive Delegation to the USSR toured both West and East Berlin today. There are ruins in both — and much rebuilding in both.

West Berlin is now building about 23,000 apartments per year, all privately financed. They claim to have West Berlin 80 per cent rebuilt, but there is a lot of destruction yet apparent.

I must add that immense strides have also been made in East Berlin. On both sides, apartment house construction seems to have been the chief source of pride. On the West, we have data; on the East, we looked but have little actual data.

The Wall and East Berlin made a deep impression on all of us. We had been well indoctrinated by our State Department to remember that on the other side of the Iron Curtain we are guests and should conduct ourselves as we would expect our own guests to act. I will therefore only say that going to East Berlin has been a memorable experience.

One reason for the wall may have been that comparisons between East and West were too easy. Probably the main reason for it was, however, that three million people defected from East to West before it was built and the number was increasing rapidly up to August, 1961, when the border was closed.

This trip is proving to be positively fantastic. Upon arrival at Tempelhof Airport, Mayor John F. McInnis of San Rafael was met by a special car and representative of Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin. The rest of us took the airport bus into town where we all met at the Hotel Bristol Kempinski.

With little time to turn around, we left again for the city hall and a personal conference with Mayor Brandt and Dr. Thiessen, senator for economics. Aside from seating us at a specially prepared round table for coffee and pastry, we were briefed on Berlin affairs at some length.

Mayor Brandt speaks English and is an intriguing person. Everyone here assumed that he will succeed Konrad Adenauer as the leading figure in West Germany.

West Berlin is clearly a thriving, prosperous reconstructed metropolis of 2.2 million people. Brandt expressed its indebtedness to the United States for Marshall Plan aid and military support. However the facts and figures show achievements which outdo the whole of the 16 million people of the East Germany Communist regime — and Berliners are proud of that.

235th Known Suicide Off Gate Reported

What was termed the 235th known suicide from the Golden Gate Bridge was reported Saturday when a man identified by police as Glenn Wilson McCurdy, 36, of Petaluma, plunged from the middle of the span.

A half dozen witnesses saw the man halt his car in the southbound lane and go over the west rail, said California Highway Patrolman Wallace Erskine. Seven minutes later a Coast Guard cutter found the body "dead center" under the bridge. No note was found.

Freshmen Elect Douglas Manuel

Think you have grass cutting troubles? The world's largest known grass is the giant bamboo, Dendrocalamus Giganteus, which may attain a height of 120 feet and a diameter of 8 to 12 inches.

In the other efforts were being pushed to get medical attention to those already picked up, many of whom were injured and suffering from shock and exposure.

The 7,004-ton Cunard freighter Andania radioed that she had sighted a raft from the ditched airliner with people aboard.

The 9,041-ton Swiss ship Celerina took 48 survivors aboard after being directed to the scene by Lt. Joseph K. Lewis, 25, of Tuscaloosa, Ala., the pilot of a U. S. Air Force C-118.

Lewis arrived at the scene just as the Super Constellation was ditching, made an accurate fix and circled the area.

The British Admiralty said many of the survivors were injured and neither of the first two ships to reach the scene had a doctor aboard.

At 10 a.m., the Air Force reported the weather in the area closing in rapidly with visibility extremely poor and gales whipping up huge waves.

The 34,000-ton Cunard liner Mauratania, with a luxuriously equipped hospital and full medical staff, switched its course and sped to the rescue.

and other improvements might be put into future homes at an extra cost of $2,000 to $3,000 each.

"It looks like a fishing pier to me and I don't want to live on a fishing pier," C. J. Williams, treasurer of the committee, told the audience.

Another speaker, Mrs. Juanita Cobb, Sausalito School Board president, said she didn't mind the poles at all and wished they were building on her lot so that she might move in by Christmas.

The homes were designed by Vernon de Mars, of the firm of De Mars and Reay. He is head of the department of architecture at University of California and was formerly chief of design standards for the National Housing Agency.

Besides Philips and Williams, committee officers are Robert Horton, vice chairman; Joseph Bell, secretary, and Benjamin Miles, recording secretary.

Atmosphere Linked To Cancer Of Lungs

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI)—A scientific team led by an authority on environmental cancer believes every community has its own atmospheric potential for causing lung cancer and it's high time these individual potentials were being minutely investigated.

Dr. W. C. Heuper, chief of the environmental cancer section of the National Cancer Institute, and his five associates, investigated only four potentials from the atmospheres of eight American cities and found all of them capable of causing cancer—in mice.

The four potentials were aromatic and aliphatic hydrocarbons which the exhausts of motor vehicles and industrial plants put into the atmosphere. The eight cities were Atlanta, Ga., Birmingham, Ala., Cincinnati, O., Detroit, Los Angeles, New Orleans,, San Francisco and Philadelphia.

Particles of these four chemical fractions were dissolved and injected into mice and invariably gave rise to cancers at the sites of injection. Because mice are not people and because injection site cancers are not lung cancer, the scientists made no direct comparisons among cities.

But their evidence indicated each city had a different potential which involved much more than four chemical fractions in pure form. Also involved were the effects of varying climates and amounts of sunshine on these and other ingredients of atmospheric pollution.

"The present studies represent merely a first and preliminary step in a prolonged and comprehensive program dealing with relationships between air pollutants and heard hazards, including cancers," they said in reporting to a technical organ of the American Medical Assn.

But it was clear to them that "every community has at atmospheric carcinogenic (cancer-causing) spectrum which depends upon local conditions but also climate, solarization and geologic conditions."

They were critical of the scientific evidence which has assigned cigarette-smoking a principal role in the increasing rate of lung cancer. However, they thought the evidence "justifies the conclusion that cigarette-smoking has contributed to or aggravated the action of other carcinogenic respiratory pollutants by producing especially functional disturbances of the bronchial muscosa.

"It would be most unwise, on the other hand, if through an exaggerated emphasis placed on the significance of cigarette-smoking, the study of general and local industry-related air pollutants would be impaired or neglected.

"The available evidence rather definitely assigns to these factors an important role as human respiratory carcinogens. The obvious and proven lung cancer hazards related to these agents deserve serious attention especially since they can be controlled by proper sanitary and technologic measures."

Frightening Asthma Attacks End In Minutes As New Formula Unblocks Lung Passages Fast

New Medical Formula Restores Free Breathing Without Vaccines, Shots Or Narcotics. Calms Anxiety. No Prescription Needed.

New York, N.Y. (Special)—A team of scientists has announced a new formula that stops frightening asthma attacks in minutes and unblocks lung passages fast.

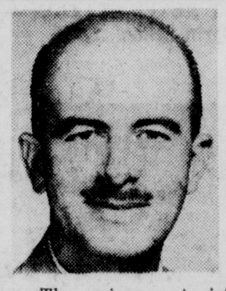

Medical tests prove this formula promptly restores free breathing, so calms anxiety and relieves the worst symptoms of asthma—the straining for breath, the gasping, the wheezing, the terrible fear of suffocation. All without vaccines, painful shots or habit-forming drugs. This formula is so safe when used as directed, it can be sold without prescription in tiny tablets called BRONITIN®.

Doctors know that when asthma strikes, breathing tubes become swollen, lung passages become blocked, so air is "trapped" inside lungs and less and less oxygen can enter. Now BRONITIN, with two asthma relieving medicines that doctors prescribe for their patients, acts quickly to open bronchial tubes and loosen the mucus that blocks lung passages. Trapped air is released and new vital oxygen enters the lungs.

The result is: free breathing is restored, tension eased and so fears are calmed in minutes. Sufferers can now look forward to restful sleep.

Check Your Spine As Well As Your Car

by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

The wise motorist will have his car checked and repaired as soon as any of the important parts begin to show signs of wear and tear. Most car owners know that continued driving of an automobile with a faulty carburetor or distributor will cause damage and inefficiency in other parts of the vehicle.

The same thing happens when disease overtakes us. If we neglect a digestive fault for instance, the intestines, liver, gall bladder, circulatory system, the heart and other organs soon will begin to lose their efficiency because of the extra demand placed upon them.

But because of the body's amazing system of defenses, some time may pass before we notice the symptoms which indicate disease. Symptomatic pain is a warning signal that something is wrong and requires attention.

Most of us agree with the old saying that an "ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." But how can we be sure of prevention?

The nervous system is the master system of the body. When the flow of nerve energy to any organ or part is blocked, disease will occur in that organ or part. Such interference in the nervous system nearly always occurs in the spine, which carries the main nerve cables.

When a spinal bone or vertebra is pushed out of line by a fall or an accident, it will press, pinch or stretch one or more of the nerves inside or just outside the spine. As a result, the organs effected will not get their proper nerve supply and may become diseased. The obvious answer then is to repair the nerve supply.

Chiropractors specialize in finding and correcting nerve interference in the spine. The adjustments they are able to make with their trained hands are painless and effective.

District Protest Due Supervisors

First protest about recommended supervisorial redistricting in Marin County will be put before county supervisors after 9 a.m. tomorrow in the form of a letter from the Stinson Beach Progressive Club.

A special meeting of the club "strongly opposed" the advisory committee's proposal to remove Stinson Beach and Bolinas from Supervisor Peter Behr's District 3 and place them in Supervisor George Ludy's District 4, according to the communication.

Instead of accepting the view that these two communities logically belong to the general coastal area, the meeting felt that "topographically (they) resemble Southern Marin in the predominance of mountains, coastal shoreline and scarcity of tillable farm lands."

The letter says that Stinson Beach is only nine miles from Mill Valley, not describing the roads, but noting that it's "even less by air."

A final point is that there is community with interest on resort and commuting factors, also being within Tamalpais High School District.

The letter suggests that the advisory committee have another hard thought about all this, and let well enough alone.

Recount by the assessor's office will put up to the board a finding that only 22.66 per cent of qualified signers of Terra Linda-Marinwood petitions for "Santa Margarita" incorporation had signed petitions, though representing 26.43 per cent of the land value. County counsel has found 25 per cent needed in both categories.

Afternoon business taken up from 1:30 p.m. will include proposed courthouse remodeling, several items concerning the imminent move to the civic center and a recommendation by public works director Donald R. Frost that the county recommend the suggested "J" line of freeway in the Novato area.

Twenty items from the county planning commission will be dealt with.

Bomber Worries Vatican

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Worried Vatican authorities closed the great central doors of St. Peter's today to shield the mother church of Roman Catholicism against an unknown bomber.

Vatican gendarmes stood reinforced guard as Italian police and explosive experts sought clues to the origin of two incendiary bombs found in the church Saturday night. Had they exploded, the devices could have ruined the church and destroyed its art treasures.

A high Vatican source said there was little doubt the intended bombing was directed against the Ecumenical, or World-wide, Council opening in the basilica Oct. 11.

The usual throngs of visitors were admitted today through a smaller door, under close scrutiny of Italian plainclothes police.

The security moves were described as the tightest in Vatican history.

The time bombs were found at the base of the tiers of upholstered wooden seats installed for the 3,000 prelates who will attend the council.

EXECUTIONS DUE REPORT ON VIDEO

Two Marinites, whose opposition to capital punishment springs from different backgrounds but in both cases from long service at San Quentin Prison, will appear soon on the "Huntley-Brinkley Report" on television.

Chet Huntley and a crew were at the Greenbrae home of former prison warden Clinton T. Duffy Saturday to make a filmed interview with Duffy based on his recent book, "88 Men and Two Women" — a story about the 90 executions at which he officiated at San Quentin.

Last Thursday, Huntley interviewed Rev. Byron Eshleman, prison chaplain, in New York. Eshleman's book, "Death Row Chaplain," followed Duffy's into print by only a few weeks.

The two interviews, said David Teitelbaum, "Huntley-Brinkley Report" writer, will be fused for a special program on capital punishment which likely will be telecast in mid-November. The program is seen in the Bay Area over station KRON-TV (channel 4).

Fire Brigade Asks Aid From Women

Muir Woods women will be asked to be prepared to assist the Nut Hill Volunteer Fire Brigade, said Chief Gerritt Orton at a meeting Friday of the Muir Woods Improvement Assn.

Orton outlined progress in the organization of the volunteer group. Women will be able to help the firemen, in the event of fire, by preparing food for the men.

The group also discussed plans for the Oct. 6-7 Mountain Fair.

The next meeting will be held Oct. 19.

Bankers' Battle Shapes Up

The fight could be touched off by an exhaustive report sent to the White House last week that calls for the first major overhaul of the nation's banking system since 1933.

The report prepared under the direction of comptroller of the currency James J. Saxon contains sweeping recommendations that would greatly expand the lending and branching powers of federally chartered banks.

The report supplied the chief topic of discussion for some 7,500 delegates at the second day of the four-day ABA convention in this resort city.

Commercial bankers tended to favor many of the recommendations contained in it, but state bankers were critical of some of its features which they feel would weaken their competitive position in relation to national banking institutions.

State banking officials took sharpest issue with the proposals that would grant national banks broader lending authority and permit them to establish branch offices in areas where this authority would supercede state laws.

Harry B. Freeman, president of the state bank division, said that such branching authority "without regard to state law is contrary to the state's rights concept inerent in our present free enterprise system.

The first cartoon in America, "Join or Die," was designed and published by Benjamin Franklin in May 1754.

CALIFORNIA CANDIDATES

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Republican Richard M. Nixon calls the governor's office, as run by his opponent, "the weakest link in our law-enforcement chain." Two officials backing Gov. Edmund G. Brown vigorously disagreed.

Nixon in a statewide radio broadcast last night said organized crime now has a firm foothold in California. He said California's crime rate is nearly double the national rate.

Dist. Atty. Tom Lynch of San Francisco, Brown's co-chairman, retorted that Nixon had used rigged figures on the growth of crime and has slapped the face of the state's peace officers.

And Walter Dunbar, state director of corrections appointed by Brown, said Nixon is obviously uninformed about the state's prisons.

The Democratic governor scheduled a 90-minute question-and-answer telecast tomorrow night from Santa Barbara.

Nixon said: "State, county and local officials have been handcuffed" by the Brown administration.

Lynch declared FBI statistics for the first half of this year show the crime rate nationally rose 3 per cent while it rose less than 1 per cent in Los Angeles. He said the figures for the state are not compiled but the trend in 1961 was for a smaller state increase than nationally.

"Nixon's proposals on narcotics are vague and two years late," Lynch said. "The narcotics control program which the governor sponsored in 1961 is nationally recognized as the best in this country."

big influence

Your first baby affects your whole pattern of living, makes you stand taller, look farther ahead. As your money takes on new importance, you can expect these 8 big changes.

1 You'll face new demands on your income. If you've never budgeted before, you may face a real need to do so now that your money must do more. A new baby means more money for food, for services. An evening out means baby sitting expenses added to the entertainment cost. You'll probably go out less often, make it a bigger evening when you do. If your increased expenses make it difficult to pay accumulated bills, you may need to see how you can consolidate them.

2 Your medical expenses will increase. While your youngster is growing up, your medical expenses will probably be greater than ever again until you are advanced in years. But medical plans, by and large, favor families with children and your insurance program can give you protection, too. Large medical bills can often be paid by a loan from your bank. Pay for all deductible medical expenses, including medicine, by check, for reliable income tax proof.

3 You'll need major appliances. A baby in the house can make a washer-dryer, a bigger refrigerator, a freezer, even a television set (for your escape) seem an urgent necessity. The down payments may be easy to manage—but before you pile up too many monthly payments, decide the total you can wisely afford to spend this way. Your bank manager can help you judge your safe credit limits.

4 Your housing needs may change. Is your present place big enough? Will taking baby for an airing be a major project? Can you rent a larger place at a price you can pay? Or would a house be a better answer? How much should you spend for one? How much will you need for a down payment? What will it cost for upkeep? Should you try to find a home that will provide all the major appliances and include them in the mortgage? Expert counsel saves costly mistakes.

5 You'll find it more difficult to save. When expenses are adding up, it's a temptation to slow down on your savings plan "until you catch up." But a family needs at least an emergency fund of available cash, and even a small amount saved systematically adds up surprisingly fast. Special savings funds for insurance payments or taxes help you budget ahead. Relatives and friends may give money to your new baby and a special savings account for these gifts can grow along with your child.

6 You will have more responsibility. A totally dependent wife and baby makes a father consider their care in case of his illness, and insurance assumes a new importance. But don't buy it piecemeal. Have your agent take a new look at your whole situation, including the social security and employee benefits available to you, and ask him to work out a plan that gives you the maximum protection you can afford. Be sure you alter social security and veteran's records to cover your new baby. And don't overlook the new need for a Will. If you haven't thought it necessary before, ask your lawyer now about this sensible protection for your family.

7 Vital records assume a new importance. That brand-new birth certificate is an important document, isn't it? Do you have a special place to keep it? What about your own? Your wife's? What about your social security and military service records? And where are you going to keep your Will? A desk drawer may be handy, but it's smarter to put all these important personal documents in a safe deposit box where they're protected from fire, theft and loss.

8 You should expect the unexpected. Take a look at where you're going, get ready for the changes that are coming, talk to the experts who can help — and you'll enjoy the responsibilities of parenthood more as the years go by.

South wins the first trick with the queen of hearts and leads out the ace of spades, not being a mind reader. He discovers the bad news, of course. How should he proceed?

At first glance it seems that South should cash the ace of diamonds, ruff a diamond, discard a diamond on the ace of clubs, and return a trump through East.

East puts up the jack of spades to force out the king. Now you cash the ace of hearts and ruff a heart with dummy's eight.

Too bad. East declines to over-ruff. Now South can get back only by using up a trump, after which he cannot draw trumps.

You can get to a similar position if you start by ruffing a low heart with dummy's eight of spades before touching the diamonds. East refuses to over-ruff.

Now you go down if you return a trump through East. The jack of spades forces out the king.

You cash the ace of diamonds, ruff a diamond, discard on the ace of clubs, but now you must use up a trump to get back. You cannot afford to waste this trump.

There's nothing hard about the right play, but you do have to follow the right sequence. After discovering the bad trump break, cash the ace of hearts and ruff a heart with dummy's eight. East refuses to over-ruff.

Get back to your hand with a diamond to the ace, reserving the trump play for later. Ruff a diamond in dummy, discard a diamond on the ace of clubs, and then lead dummy's last trump.

East puts up the jack to force out the king, but now you are in your own hand without wasting a trump. You can afford to lead the ten of spades to force out the queen. You still have the deuce of spades to ruff a club or diamond return.

Then you can draw East's last trump and cash the king of hearts.

ABC Is Good For Papers, Readers And Advertisers

Every once in a while we like to call your attention to an unique organization, a nationwide organization which performs a service of self-regulation to a great industry.

We are speaking of the Audit Bureau of Circulation, better known as the ABC. Its purpose is to provide accurate information on how many copies of a newspaper, magazine or other publication are actually purchased; not printed, purchased.

This is a three-way arrangement between the publishers, the advertisers and you, the readers. It's purpose is to benefit all three.

Here's how:

Before ABC (and sometimes still, among publications which don't belong to ABC), claims of circulation were fantastic. Sometimes the number of papers printed were cited. Other times, numbers of papers circulated were claimed as the net paid circulation, although no proof was given as to how many of them were paid for.

How many paid readers a publication has is important to an advertiser because it has been clearly demonstrated that a reader is more interested in something he buys than in something given to him. He's interested enough to put out his money for it.

This is not possible, of course, in the radio industry or in the television industry, where they make fantastic claims of "readership," claims that no one can prove or disprove.

This is also not possible with other types of advertising, like billboards or streetcar posters, or even the junk mail you receive in your mailbox. There is no way to show advertisers what "readership" any of these advertising methods produce.

But ABC provides this for printed publications. With a careful auditing system, carried on independently but with publishers' cooperation, net paid circulation figures are available for advertisers to know just what they are buying.

And ABC is tremendously conservative, in fact lags well behind actual figures of a growing publication. For example:

The official ABC net paid circulation figure for the Independent-Journal right now is 28,702 papers. But that official figure was compiled as of Sept. 30, 1961. Since then, the publisher's sworn statement of March 31, 1962, is 30,158 papers and today's net paid will be something over 31,000 papers.

Nevertheless, until the ABC does its annual audit (we hope it will be soon) our ABC circulation remains at 28,702.

Now what does such exactness mean?

To the publisher, it means that his paper will be in fair competition with other publications and not involved in circulation flights of fantasy.

To the advertiser, it means a solid foundation on which to determine what space to buy, to compare rates and to compare results.

To the reader, reading an ABC newspaper means he is dealing with solid, straight-forward business people, that the advertisements in it are there because the advertiser knows what he is buying and wants to buy it. That gives a reader knowledge that as the advertiser can rely on what the publisher says, so can the reader rely on what both the publisher and the advertiser say.

Good business practices mean reliable businesses. The ABC is proof of good business practices. That is why ABC is good for all three, the publisher, the advertiser and the reader.

BECOME A WELL-INFORMED VOTER

Most voters have at least a passable knowledge of presidential candidates, as well as those in their own election district.

Where they fall short is in the wide middle group—the dozen or more offices between the top and bottom of the voting list.

One post-election poll, for example, revealed that less than a third of the voters in one state could name the Congressional candidate they had supported a short time before.

Another poll asked a cross-section of citizens if they could name the two men running for the Senate. Only 27 per cent could identify the man who had been representing them for the past six-year term, and only 7 per cent knew who his opponent was.

Laborious as it is to make a reasonably thorough investigation of candidates, there is no surer way to exercise your God-given freedom of choice in a responsible manner.

"Do not neglect the grace that is in you." (1 Timothy 4:14)

Let me show my appreciation for the blessings of freedom, O Lord, by living up to its obligations.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Many Gomez Back And Bubbling; Ricky Helps Nature; Doorknobs Up

Manny Gomez is back from Spaian, door knobs are getting taller and Richter Von Vetter is balancing nature on one corner of Mount Tamalpais.

Gomez, the bombastic one, rolled back into town last week, just a little late for the City Council meeting.

He said he had not attended any planning commission or city council meetings in Europe, but that he did talk at length with his cousin, Joseph Garcia, the ex-mayor of Caltama.

"THEY HAVE the same growth problems in Spain we have," said Manny. "But over there they work differently than we do. They facilitate and work with the people. You find this in Italy, England and Germany. They work to help the man invest his money because he is the one who is building the country."

Manny said he is negotiating for an apartment unit and a motel in Spain, that he is unhappy with the "ugly cut" which has appeared in Blithedale Canyon in his absence, as well as a remark made by a councilman who said he made more money attending planning commission meetings than at his jewelry store.

"I'll be back at City Hall meetings," he said.

Ironically, though surrounded by friends of nature, Richter does not cater to yellow jackets. Or, in different words, he likes them too much. Richter, or Ricky for short, stalks them, grabs them in his mouth, chomps them—and eats them.

"At first I was puzzled," Austrian-born Marchegger said, "I thought they would bite him. They haven't." We asked about how many a day Richter caught and Marchegger replied, jokingly, "If it is a nice day, he gets about 2,000 at least."

GEORGE PATTERSON, superintendent of construction on the addition to Old Mill School, says that door knobs are 38 inches from the floor. In the old building they are 34 and 36 inches. "The kids are getting taller," said Patterson. "In fact, everybody's getting taller."

"DON'T LET THEM build a highway on the best high school site (Trestle Glen). Write to Peter Behr," a sign reads on the bulletin board at the Board Walk in Belvedere.

IT'S TIME for the apple leaves to fall. And a good sight if you're out catching the wine in the air are the kids standing on the steps at the Episcopal Church of Our Saviour picking sunflower seeds out of some of the biggest sunflowers you ever saw.

IT IS WITH sadness we report the passing of Mummy, the cat we never met. The 21-year-old tabby lived all her life on a hill in Inverness, often sleeping on a table in the living room.

"She had been recovering from a bad cold," Tad Alvord reports. "She had lost weight but was regaining it. One night she ate a very large dinner and went in and went to sleep and never woke up again. She was 21, going on 22. She was 147 by human standards," said Tad.

The Flower Of Constancy

The chrysanthemums has symobilized constancy for centuries in China. This flower's happy habit of blooming after most others have quit is responsible for the designation.

Marin's chrysanthemums are blooming now and will continue into deep November. Their warm colors will transform many drab, tail-end gardens into show places.

In Japan, where chrysanthemum culture is almost a national avocation, the flower is deep in the tradition of the people. It is used to represent the Imperial Family.

There Is More Than One Reason For Not Calling Person 'Fathead'

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

When you call someone whose intelligence you doubt a "fathead,"—aside from the obvious physical danger—you show your own ignorance. Brain cells contain little or no real fat.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Fort Bragg Girl Had School Spirit

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

My wife and I attend many football games during the season and have noticed the blase attitude towards school spirit. This attitude has increased into a sickness that has taken away from the enjoyment of the game.

So it was refreshing to say the least to watch the Fort Bragg cheerleader Miss Christine Peterson (Terra Linda-Fort Bragg game).

It was American youth at its finest hour, and no one watching could not have been moved by the brilliant and exuberant Miss Peterson who never allowed the tide of battle or the stifling heat drain her enthusiasm.

This is the spirit that made this nation great and which saw it through many harrowing times. This is the flag waving-hats in the air attitude that we had given up as lost in today's youth.

We need the Miss Petersons as they may have never been needed before. We can all take pride in her. Let's follow the Miss Petersons and never be ashamed to stand and shout down apathy and nonparticipation.

Let Candidates Speak Nicely

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I venture to predict that the first candidate for governor who says something kind or nice about his opponent and continues to say it from time to time will be elected.

As a devout Republican, I concede that several of Brown's judicial appointments were not wholly bad. On the other hand, I'm sure that any sane Democrat (if there are any) will concede that Eisenhower would not repeatedly express his admiration for a candidate for high public office who honestly deserves epithet of "Tricky Dick."

Yours for sanity and a modicum of sweet reasonableness, even in political warfare.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Marin County Supervisor George Whiteley of San Rafael held out against his four colleagues in opposing Marin acquisition of Angel Island. Mrs. Caroline Livermore urged that the county include the island in its master plan before the army could set up a guided missile center.

State Sen. John F. McCarthy denounced what he termed "wanton extravagance" of Golden Gate Bridge directors and said he might seek legislation to have management transferred to the California Toll Bridge Authority.

20 YEARS AGO

Auditor Leon de Lisle announced that sign-up for U.S. bond buying was proceeding in county offices at such high velocity that it might be possible to abandon plans for a special sales campaign among county employees. Half the county workers signed for payroll deductions within the first two weeks.

Mill Valley and San Rafael took inventory of local stocks of men's rubber boots and shoes, preparatory to rationing such articles. Women's and children's rubbers remained unrationed.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

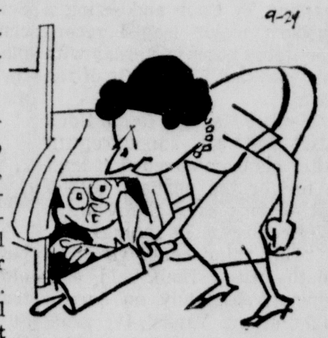

First citizen:—Say, Herb, how did that ruckus with your wife come out last night? The whole neighborhood could hear you two giving each other what-for! Second citizen:—Aw, there was nothing to it. Inside of five minutes I had her coming to me on her hands and knees.

First citizen: — I never knew you had it in you! What did she say? Second citizen:—She said, "Come out from under that bed, you contemptible coward!"

Mrs. Appleby had talked her husband into taking her to Florida for a winter vacation, and here they were after dinner in Miami Beach one evening, looking up at a full moon, hidden from other tourists by a big potted palm.

A young man and his girl sat down near them, and not realizing they were being observed, fell into each other's arms. Whispered Mrs. Appleby to her husband, "Oh, Luther, he doesn't know we're here, and he's going to propose. Shouldn't you whistle and warn him?"

"Why should I?" objected Mr. Appleby grimly. "Nobody whistled to warn ME!"

Size Of Ted Kennedy's Victory Gives Him Head Start On Lodge

WASHINGTON — The size of Teddy Kennedy's victory in the Massachusetts primary gives the President's youngest brother not only the Democratic senatorial nomination, but a long lead over his Republican opponent, George Lodge.

Lodge is not going to throw in the towel—he is not that kind of a person or that kind of a campaigner—but Kennedy's massive vote gives him a tremendous leg-up in the election.

I'm not saying that Kennedy is in. But the odds are definitely on his side. Lodge will have to come from behind with a rush if he is going to have a fair chance of countering the political forces which the Democratic nominee now has going for him.

THE ADVANTAGES which give Kennedy his formidable lead are these:

1—His 2-to-1 victory over Edward McCormack, himself a popular and powerful figure in Massachusetts, gave Kennedy something like a 2-to-1 victory over Lodge in this pre-election trial run; that is, Kennedy and McCormack between them polled twice as many Democratic votes (800,000) as the combined vote of Lodge and Rep. Laurence Curtis in the Republican Senatorial primary.

2—Since the proportion of registered Democrats to registered Republicans is 3-to-2, it is evident that the Kennedy-McCormack race drew many more independents to it than the Lodge-Curtis race, and in Massachusetts the independents hold the clear balance of power.

3—AND THEN THERE is the White House—from whom many "blessings" can flow. At a press conference several months ago, President Kennedy was asked if he would actively help his brother get elected. He laughingly remarked that he didn't expect to send in any political troops but might dispatch a few training missions. Let's not be naive; before the Kennedy-Lodge campaign is over, there will be more than training missions coming from Washington.

Bear in mind that Teddy Kennedy has made the central slogan of his campaign: "I can do more for Massachusetts." Obviously nothing could help him better than to be able to demonstrate that he can do things for Massachusetts even before he is elected.

I think you can expect to read soon about a Defense Department procurement conference which will come at just the right moment.

THE SCENE OF the conference was originally to be in New York state, but somehow the word got around that it would be more constructive and convenient for everybody concerned—or for somebody concerned—to have it in Boston in mid-October, or not much later, and certainly before Nov. 6.

None of this means that George Lodge is out of the running. Of course he is in the running, but for quite a time he will be running uphill.

Hickey Blames Inept Pass Defense For 49er Loss

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A dejected Coach Red Hickey today blamed collapse of the San Francisco 49er pass defense for the Prospectors' 45-24 loss to Detroit.

Newly-acquired Milt Plum had his second big day in a row for the Lions as he hit 16 of 22 passes for 272 yards and four touchdowns against the befuddled San Franciscans.

A near-capacity Briggs Stadium crowd of 51,032 yesterday saw Detroit move out to a 31-10 lead and then hold on in the face of a desperate 49er comeback.

John Brodie, who also had a hot day, took charge and piloted San Francisco to two quick touchdowns.

Then came the turning point of the game.

Operating out of the "Shotgun" offense, Brodie hit Bill Kilmer on the San Francisco 35 with a pass. Kilmer put on a dazzling broken field run as he twisted his way to the Detroit 10. But old pro Night Train Lane of Detroit knocked the ball out of Kilmer's hands and Detroit pounced on the pigskin.

Plum took over and quickly directed the Lions to another touchdown. Thus what might have been a 31-31 contest had Kilmer held on to the football was turned into a 38-24 rout.

The Lions added icing to the cake when Danny Lewis burst through a drawn up 49er defense for a 64-yard run in the game's closing moments.

Despite Kilmer's costly bobble, the presence of the former UCLA star at starting halfback seemed to add noticeable oomph to the Prospector attack.

Kilmer ran for 25 yards, passed for 49 more on the option play and caught four passes.

Others who sparkled for the 49ers included pass receivers Bernie Casey and Clyde Conner, with five catches and one touchdown each, and J. D. Smith, who ran for 41 yards and caught four passes, one good for six points.

Brodie hit 18 of 26 passes for 256 yards. He operated out of the Shotgun formation about one-fourth of the time.

But the continued inability of the 49er defense to hold down the opposition was what depressed Coach Hickey. Chicago used a ground attack to pound out a 30-14 win Sept. 15 and it was the Detroit passing attack which did the job yesterday.

Hickey said that the 49ers did not rush Plum enough and that the backs did not cover their men well.

Two years ago the 49ers' defense backfield of Dave Baker, Jerry Mertens, Eddie Dove, and Abe Woodson was hailed as one of coming greatness.

Two years later, Baker is in the army and Jim Ridlon and El Kimbrough are trying to fill in for him. But Mertens, Dove, and Woodson still have not reached their predicted heights. They did not get the job done yesterday.

Giants Home For Windup

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The San Francisco Giants returned home today still flirting with the National League pennant and now hoping they can make St. Louis sing the blues.

The Cardinals whipped the front-running Los Angeles Dodgers 12-2 yesterday at St. Louis to help bring the Giants to three games out of first place. St. Louis will come to Candlestick Park to start a three-game series be- Tuesday.

The Houston Colts will open a three-game stand at Los Angeles tomorrow. All national league teams are taking a day off today before the final week stretch.

The Giants smashed the Colts, 10-3, at Houston yesterday to regain some of the ground they lost on their recent road trip. San Francisco started the journey only one-half game behind the Dodgers but won only three of 11 games.

Bill O'Dell picked up his 19th victory of the season for the Giants. He gave up seven hits and had a shutout until the ninth inning, when Houston scored three unearned runs.

McCOVEY'S HOMER

It was also number 19 yesterday for Willie McCovey, who blasted a three-run homer to cap a seven-run sixth inning for the Giants. Matty Alou helped out with four of San Francisco's hits off four Houston pitchers.

San Francisco started the scoring in the second with a single by Orlando Cepeda and a double by Ed Bailey. The Giants scored two more runs in the fifth inning on singles by Harvey Kuenn nad Matty Alou and a passed ball.

Losing pitcher Bob Bruce lost the mound in the catastrophic sixth. Houston's Bob Tiefenauer and Russ Kemmerer made brief pitching stands before the inning was over.

The seven-run spree featured singles by O'Dell, Chuck Hiller and Willie Mays. Matty and Jose Pagan doubled before McCovey slammed his 420-foot homer off Kemmerer.

The Colts made their scoring debut in the ninth, a wild inning that opened on Roman Mejias' grounder through Pagan's legs.

WOODSON RAMBLES—Abe Woodson, San Francisco 49er back, streaks on one of his long kickoff returns in yesterday's game with the Detroit Lions. This runback was on a kickoff in the fourth period and illustrates the fine blocking by the 49ers. Detroit won the game 45-24. (AP Wirephoto)

Weatherly, Gretel Repeat Tomorrow

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI)—A gusty and rainy wind blew over Newport today but the forecast said the skies would clear for the America's Cup boats tomorrow in the fifth — and possibly last—race of the U.S.-Australian encounter.

Australia's Gretel was hauled from the water yesterday and refloated again today after minor repairs and hull polish.

Both skippers, Bus Mosbacher and Jock Sturrock, planned to take their sloops out for practice sails today.

Weatherly was a strong favorite to wrap up the 111-year-old competition tomorrow.

This is a best-four-out-of-seven affair and Weatherly, the U.S. entry in this 12-meter sloop competition, already has won three races against one for the challenger, Australia's Gretel.

GREAT EFFORT

So it could all end tomorrow, over a 24-mile, windward-leeward course, six miles on each leg and twice around—sort of like a huge bathtub. But regardless of which way it ends, it will not be without a great effort from the men from "down under."

The Aussies have won only one race, but they have given the defender a great run. Their best, but losing effort came Saturday when they glided across the finish line only 26 seconds behind Weatherly, a heart-breaking defeat.

Gretel's loss on Saturday was the closest race that ever has been run in America's Cup history. It all began in 1851 when the U.S. schooner America brought home from England the cup which this country has retained successfully ever since against 17 foreign challengers.

Saturday's race was run in winds that ran between 6 and 14 knots, from the south mostly, not the kind of breezes preferred by Gretel. She has shown best in strong, better than 20 knot winds, much as they blow usually off the Australian coast where the crew trained. The crew hopes for these heavy winds tomorrow, but the forecasts are not optimistic.

Burford Goes; Dallas Whips Raiders 26-16

OAKLAND (AP) — Chris Burford, an Oakland product playing for Dallas, scored three touchdowns to ruin the debut of a Texan playing for Oakland yesterday.

That's the story of the 26-16 triumph of the Texans over the Raiders as Dallas remained undefeated with a 3-0 records and Oakland fell to 0-2.

Burford, a graduate of Oakland High School and Stanford University, grabbed throws of 12, 27 and 26 yards from Len Dawson in his first showing as a professional in his hometown. Dallas played Oakland before in the Bay Area but the games have been in San Francisco.

Cotton Davidson, the Baylor rifleman whom the Texans traded to Oakland, proved his worth as he hit 20 of 41 passes for 248 yards. He should be tougher when the Raiders meet San Diego at Oakland's Frank Youell Field next Sunday.

In addition to Burford's touchdown, Dallas scored on field goals of 10 and 24 yards by Durwood Pennington and his two conversions.

Redskins Stun Cleveland

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Whoosh!

That was the sound the Cleveland Browns heard late yesterday afternoon when exteammate Bobby Mitchell took off on a touchdown run in their game against the surprising Washington Redskins.

Fizzle!

That was the sound two minutes later of the Browns' threatened quick getaway in the National Football League's Eastern Conference race after Mitchell's touchdown run on a pass from quarterback Norman Snead helped the now-amazing Redskins ring up a 17-16 victory over a team rated at least a two-touchdown favorite.

Ho-ho!

That was Mitchell having the last laugh on his old boss, Paul Brown, who deemed him expendable by trading him to the 'Skins for top draft choice Ernie Davis.

Mitchell, the halfback the Browns didn't want and the one the Redskins so desperately needed, has helped turn the Eastern race into the expected dog fight, and-hold on-put Washington into first place.

The Redskins, who tied Dallas a week ago, lead the Browns, New York Giants, St. Louis Cardinals and Pittsburgh Steelers, all 1-1, by a half game today. The Giants, losers a week ago to the Browns, evened their record with a 29-13 victory over Philadelphia, now 0-2. St. Louis fell before the Green Bay Packers 17-0, while the Steelers edged Dallas 30-28 as Bobby Layne set a pair of NFL career passing records.

FOUR-WAY TIE

The Packers, Detroit Lions, Chicago Bears and Baltimore Colts are all 2-0 in the Western Conference. The Lions continued their rampage behind new quarterback Milt Plum, whipping the San Francisco 49ers 31-10, the Bears belted the Los Angeles Rams 27-23 and the Colts defeated the Minnesota Vikings 34-7.

Mitchell lost favor in Cleveland with his sometimes erratic play, and when he became a Sundays-only player last year because of Army duty, his effectiveness was cut even more. So Brown bundled him and rookie LeRoy Jackson of Southern Illinois off to the Redskins for Davis, the Syracuse All-America and Heisman Trophy winner.

The deal has worked in the Redskins' favor. Davis has not been able to play because of a blood disorder, while Mitchell and Jackson, the first Negroes ever to play for the 'Skins, have helped put teeth into Washington's attack. Mitchell scored three times against Dallas last week, and then tormented his old buddies no end yesterday.

WINNING PLAY

After fullback Jimmy Brown fumbled near midfield and Ed Khayat recovered for the 'Skins, Snead hit Mitchell with a pass over the middle, and he jolted free from a converging group of Browns' defenders and streaked down the sideline to complete a 50-yard touchdown play. Bob Khayat kicked the winning punt.

The 'Skins then blocked two field goal tries by Lou Groza in the final minute to nail down the victory, which matched their season totals in each of the last two years. Groza field goals of 32 and 37 yards and Tom Wilson's touchdown had given Cleveland a 16-10 lead.

Y. A. Tittle hit end Del Shofner with two touchdown throws, Don Chandler kicked three field goals and the Giant defense did the rest. Though giving Sonny Jurgensen 33 completions in 57 tries for 396 yards, New York's defensive unit blocked three field goal attempts, turning one of them into a 77-yard TD play, and intercepted three passes. It held the Eagles six times without a TD inside the 20-yard line.

TOUGH DEFENSE

Green Bay's defense held the Cards' hard-running offense to 16 yards including 9 by John David Crow. The Packers' offense, led by Jim Taylor's 122 yards pushing and 40 passing did the rest, with Paul Hornung scoring on a 3-yard run and Max McGee on a 19-yard pass from quarterback Bart Starr. Hornung, who had 28 points against Minnesota last week, added 11 with two extra points and a 13-yard field goal.

Former Ram stars Billy Wade and Joe Marconi led the Bears. Quarterback Wade tossed a touchdown pass and scored once, while Marconi tallied once and gained 81 yards pushing while filling in for the injured Rick Casares.

Wills Steals Record; To Try For 100

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Insatiable Maury Wills is going for 100, but the Yankees will settle for one more tomorrow that would bring them their 12th American League pennant in 14 years.

Wills elatedly announced "I'm going for 100 steals" upon passing Ty Cobb and seting a modern major league record for stolen bases yesterday with his 96th and 97th thefts of the year.

Yankee Manager Ralph Houk also had an announcement after his team clinched at least a tie for the pennant with a 5-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox in 10 innings.

"This thing could go down to the wire," Houk said, convincing absolutely no one in light of the Yanks' 4½ game lead.

Seeing that no one was buying his conservatism, Houk noted that the Yankees play Washington Tuesday night and Wednesday and admitted "we should win one of those."

One is all it will take, but even if the Yanks lose to the Senators Tuesday night, they can still clinch if the second-place Minnesota Twins lost their game to the Cleveland Indians.

ALL DOWNHILL

For Wills as well as the Yankees, it'll be all downhill from here on in.

The 29-year-old Dodger whippet, who broke Cobb's 47-year-old record even though his team was trounced 12-2 by the St. Louis Cardinals, tied the Georgia Peach's mark of 96 steals after singling off Larry Jackson in the third inning and established the new mark after singling again in the seventh.

Wills received a loud ovation from the St. Louis crowd of 20,743 and was presented with the actual base he stole to surpass Cobb.

His two steals came in the Dodgers' 156th game — Cobb also set his record in 156 games during the 1915 season —and Commissioner Ford Frick promptly said of Wills' feat:

IT'S A RECORD

"It's a record. Whether we say it's a record in 162 games or not, there's no question it's a record—the most bases ever stolen in a season."

Despite Wills' record, the Dodgers' lead in the National League was shaved to three games when the second-place San Francisco Giants shellacked the Houston Colts, 10-3.

Don Drysdale, the Dodgers' 25-game winner, failed to last four innings as the Cardinals scored eight of their runs off him and saddled him with his eighth defeat. Stan Musial and Bill White each drove in three runs to help Jackson notch his 14th triumph.

Elston Howard's two-run homer climaxed a four-run 10th inning rally by the Yankees that balked Early Wynn's bid to win the 300th game of his major league career. The loss was the 14th of the season for the 41-year-old Wynn, who has won seven this year. Bill Stafford held the White Sox five hits for his 14th victory.

49ers Are An Improved Club But Plum Was Just Too Hot

RANDOL

There was no excuse for the miserable showing of the 49ers a week ago against the Chicago Bears. But there was plenty of excuse yesterday when the Detroit Lions outscored the Hickeymen 45 to 24.

Despite the apparent run-away, this was a good game to watch, and the score is not indicative of the improved play of the 49ers. The way Lion quarterback Milt Plum was pitching, and the way his ends and backs were catching, even the Green Bay Packers would have had their hands full.

Just like Mother said, there are days like that. Too bad it had to happen to our boys.

COACH RED HICKEY has let no grass grow under his feet. The 49er offense showed the greatest variety and the most imagination in years. The basic T formation was mixed with the Shotgun and even a double wing, with a good mix of formations. Eventually, this will pay off.

John Brodie was on target most of the day, completing 18 passes out of 25 attempts. Comparable to Plum's 16 for 21, but lacking in long-goners.

Wild Bill Kilmer gave notice that he wants to stay in the 49er backfield as a permanent fixture. His passing is no picture type, but it delivers the ball, and his running threat will increase with his experience, as will the correction of his propensity to fumble . . . I hope. Kilmer has the knack of showing up at the right place at the right time, and this is something in-born, not developed.

IT IS IMPORTANT to note that the 49er play picked up after big Bob St. Clair came out swinging after being charged by defensive end McCord of the Lions. If anything, Bob's complacency has been the only thing that has kept him from greatness. When he is fired up, his huge bulk can be menacing.

The 49ers still hurt for lack of a crunching fullback, and if they could beg, borrow, or steal one, there would be a great change in the attack threat. Volunteers form a double line on the right, please.

Next Sunday, at Kezar, the 49ers step back into their own class when they tangle with the Minnesota Vikings, and they should come up with their first win of the year and a chance to get the rough edges off the new attack patterns.

THE OVER-ALL outlook is still not too bright for the entire season, but the 49ers could be an interesting and explosive ball club, a spoiler if you will.

When the doormat Washington Redskins can lick the mighty Cleveland Browns, as they did yesterday, anything can happen in this league. I hope a little rubs off on our boys.

Tam, Terra Linda Romp To Easy Gridiron Victories

Flashy Indians Score 32-6 Over Castlemont

By MAURICE WEINGER

Playing like a championship was at stake, Tamalpais High School completely outran and outhustled Castlemount, 32-6 Saturday at College of Marin Stadium.

The Indians were unbelievable as their defense held the opponents to a mere eight net yards on the ground while the offensive unit ran the ends with ease to set up four of the five touchdowns.

While heroes were plentiful for Tam, quarterback Bill Gillingham did start the ball rolling in the right direction with a first quarter score around right end that capped a 48-yard drive in nine plays. Included in this drive were four remarkable runs by Warren Domino which put the ball on the 19 and a defensive roughness penalty which set up the score from the four.

Tam increased the score on the third play in the second quarter as Gillingham, getting beautiful blocking by Domino and John Hammond, ran from Castlemont's 40 to the 20. A one-yard gain by Hammond was offset by an offside penalty, but Ellis Williams, a sophomore speedster, didn't let a defender touch him on the third down play that covered 24 yards.

The third quarter was a beauty for new coach Pete Belden, who won his first game after being tied a week ago. Three touchdowns came each time Tam got the ball. The first resulted by Castlemont's ineptness to punt and the Indians had possession on the opponents' 34. Ev White drove two and Terry Oldham sped for 12, and then White, on a sensational trap play over left guard zoomed the next 20 to pay dirt.

FANCY FUMBLE

On the ensuing kick-off, Castlemont moved five yards but got fancy on a double reverse and fumbled. Art Foster, the defensive end, scooped up the loose ball on the 38 and was home free to a TD.

The ordeal for the opponent wasn't over yet as Tam's defenders moved the East Bay 11 back 31 consecutive yards highlighted by a bad pass from center on a fourth down punt situation. From the 22, Oldham ran for five but Gillingham got caught for three. With speed necessary, the call went to Williams, who again ran his left side to the one-foot line, from where Gillingham went over on a keeper.

LATE SCORE

Castlemont scored late in the second half when Chuck Locati's pass was intercepted by Bob Kelley and returned 61 yards to the Tam 21-yard line. Quarterback Glenn Sweeny reared back and threw a strike to Phil Coleman for the single tally.

Belden was quite pleased with the results. Asked to name the standouts, the youthful coach remarked, "It was a team effort and everyone was a standout."

THE BIG 96TH STEAL FOR WILLS

Maury Wills of the Los Angeles Dodgers goes headfirst into second base as he steals his 96th base of the season in third inning of yesterday's game against the St. Louis Cardinals at Busch Stadium. Dal Maxvill, Cardinals shortstop, takes the throw. Umpire is Tony Venzon. Wills stole another base later to give him 97. See story on page 8.

Terra Linda Wins Over Sonomans

The Terra Linda High Trojans were basking in the winner's circle today after their second practice football game victory Saturday over Sonoma High School, 25-7, on the Terra Linda High field.

Joe McBurney, Sonoma halfback who suffered a head injury during the contest, was scheduled to be released from Marin General Hospital today. A hospital spokesman described McBurney's condition as satisfactory and said he was "resting comfortably."

Halfback Don Dreusike scored a pair of touchdowns for Terra Linda, one on a seven-yard pass from quarterback Dick Schultze in the second quarter and the other on a 12-yard run through the middle in the third period.

Steve Seymore brought the crowd to its feet with a dazzling 65-yard punt return good for a second period touchdown for the Trojans. The other Terra Linda TD came on a 47-yard run by fullback Ray Miller after he gathered in a screen pass from Schultze in the fourth stanza.

SHORT LEAD

The lone Sonoma touchdown came in the first period, giving the visitors a lead which they kept for only a short while. Dave Inart, scored the touchdown from the one-yard line.

Terra Linda outgained Sonoma, 359 yards to 190 in total yards gained. Terra Linda made 293 yards on the ground and 66 in the air and Sonoma made 160 yards rushing and 30 yards passing.

Schultze attempted six passes and completed four and the other Trojan quarterback, Bob Taylor, hit for one out of two tries. Terra Linda was penalized eight times for 90 yards and Sonoma penalized seven times for 75 yards.

One of the Terra Linda penalties came on a pass play from Schultze to end Bob Cooney in the end zone which nullified the touchdown. The Trojans scored seconds later, however, on the touchdown pass to Dreusike.

The score by quarters:

Terra Linda	0	13	6	6—25
Sonoma	7	0	0	0— 7

Terra Linda scoring — Dan Dreusike on seven-yard pass from Dick Schultze. Steve Seymore on 65-yard punt return; placement good by Chuck Izenour. Dreusike on 12-yard run. Ray Miller on 47-yard run on screen pass.

The Mill Valley Junior Indians crunched the San Francisco Junior Mariners "B" team 31-6 Saturday on San Francisco's Lincoln High School field.

Due to a difference in league regulations, the Mariners had a maximum weight of 115 pounds and the Indians had a maximum limit of 123 pounds. This was the difference in the grid contest.

The league will open play next weekend.

Drake '11' Shut Out Again, 14-0

By RALPH CHATOIAN

The Drake High Pirates today are wondering when they will score their first touchdown of the season.

Failing to come through in their scoring chances against Edison High of Stockton Saturday, the Pirates were shut out for the second week in a row, 14-0, in a battle played at College of Marin stadium.

In addition to Lee, Edison had two other speedsters off the track team in the starting backfield. Johnson and lefthalf A. B. Coleman both run the century in 9.9.

FIRST CHANCE

The first big chance for Drake to score came in the second quarter when it put together a drive which ended on the one-yard line. The scoring threat came alive when quarterback Hamish Tyler threw a strike to end Mike Crabtree setting up a first and goal situation on the Edison nine.

After an incomplete pass and runs around both ends advanced the ball to the one, a power play up the middle failed and the ball went over to Edison.

Next big scoring threat came in the opening minutes of the last quarter when the Pirates got the ball up to the Edison three-yard line and couldn't push the ball into the end zone. Drake got the break to set up the drive when tackle Roger Bovard picked up an Edison fumble on the Stockton team's 37.

Drake advanced the ball to the Edison three but on fourth down, Tom Kolbe, a straight-up type runner, couldn't find daylight through the Edison front wall.

Head coach Bob Franceschini used two quarterbacks at the same time throughout most of the game. Tyler played at the quarterback spot and reserve quarterback Mike Kemp was used in a halfback slot, making use of option plays. Tyler showed the better arm of the two.

Score by quarters:

Ukiah Rally In Second Half Gains 14-14 Tie At Novato

Novato Hornets have one more chance to get a practice game victory before they start to defend their Marin Athletic League football title.

After losing their first practice tilt 26-0, the Hornets fought Ukiah High School to a 14-14 deadlock Saturday afternoon on the Novato High football field.

The Novato gridders were on their way to victory with a 14-0 lead during the third quarter, but Ukiah bounced back with a pair of touchdowns to even things up.

The first Novato score came in the second period on a 10-yard run by halfback John Miller. The second Hornet TD came on a 20-yard pass play from quarterback Roy Otis to right end Ron Heidinger in the third period. Al Blos made both place kicks good to give Novato a 14-0 margin.

Later in the third quarter, Ukiah blocked a Novato punt deep in Hornet territory and took over the ball on the Novato 12-yard line. Seven plays later Ukiah scored with fullback Larry Myers crashing into the end zone.

Then in the last quarter, with about three minutes remaining in the game, Ukiah quarterback Joe Jahn unloaded a 30-yard pass good for the touchdown on a fourth and six play. Then Myers smashed into the end zone for the all-important point after touchdown, knotting the score at 14-14.

THREAT HALTED

Novato then took the kickoff and advanced the ball to the Ukiah 20-yard stripe for a first down with only seconds remaining. Trying to throw the big bomb, Otis passed into the end zone only to have a Ukiah defender intercept the ball and then stop the scoring threat. Two Ukiah plays later the final gun sounded ending the game.

Head coach Marlin Olsen had praise for Otis, Miller and Heidinger for their offensive play. He also noted Ukiah quarterback Jahn, a 6-2 athlete, "threw the ball real well."

Score by quarters:

Novato	0	7	7	0	—14
Ukiah	0	0	7	7	—14

Breaks Galore, But Redwood Loses, 13-6

Unable to capitalize on scoring opportunities, ball control, and a good share of the breaks, the Redwood High Giants went down to their second consecutive seven point loss at Bailey Field in Santa Rosa Saturday night. Final score had Montmery High on top by a 13 to 6 score.

With their first three fullbacks hurt or hurting, the Giants could not move down the middle in scoring territory. Coach Bob Troppmann, understandably disappointed, could still find some solace in the play of senior veterans Jeff Teather, Doug Houston, and Jim Troppmann, and improving performances from at least five juniors — Dave Auerbach, Dave Cox, Steve Minutoli, Dennis Shunk, and Rick Klein.

FIRST MOVE

Redwood made its first move after the opening kickoff. Two completed passes to Doug Houston, a nicely executed roll-out by quarterback Troppmann, and a 13-yard run by Auerbach put the Giants on the Viking seven yard line before the attack fizzled.

Moments later, 200-pound Viking fullback Steve Ostrom burst through a stacked eight man line, caught the Giant secondary flatfooted, and ran 80 yards for Montgomery's first score. Ken Pedersen ran over the point after touchdown for an early 7-0 lead.

Auerbach, the running star of the night, took the kickoff back to his own 46. Steve Solinsky went for eight and Auerbach for fifteen, but the drive flattened and the Giants kicked to touch on the four. A recovered fumble on the Viking 20 gave the Giants another shot at a score but Troppmann's pass was intercepted by big Mike Francis.

Auerbach ran another Viking punt back to the Santa Rosa 35, but again no progress. Next time, Auerbach made it closer with a run-back from mid-field to the Viking nine, Four plays later (actually five,counting a penalty) Montgomery had the ball on its own two yard line.

A fired up Giant varsity finally went all the way after half time. Troppmann recovered a fumble on the Viking 38, Auerbach went for 12, Jerry Rumsey for 10 and then Rumsey again for the score. The PAT run missed and it was 7-6.

The Vikings met the challenge with two strong drives of their own. The first ended with a Troppmann interception on his own eight, but the second ground out the final five yards in four tries against a stubborn Redwood defense, with Ostrom going over. The PAT run was missed and the scoring was over.

STENGEL SIGNS TO AGAIN HEAD METS IN 1963

NEW YORK (AP) — Casey Stengel was signed again today as manager of the New York Mets baseball team. Salary terms were not disclosed, but it is believed he will receive $80,000 for the 1963 season.

Scalpers Hit Title Fight

CHICAGO (UPI) — Ticket scalpers were doing a booming business today in preferred seats for tomorrow night's six million dollar Floyd Patterson-Sonny Liston heavyweight title fight.

The scalpers were demanding and getting $150 a seat for tickets in the first five $100 rows, as champion Patterson and challenger Liston prepared to break camp tonight and motor into the city for their scheduled 15-round bout tomorrow night.

Meanwhile, a brigade of workmen began installing the ring and field seats at Comiskey Park.

A box-office man for Championship Sports, Inc., the promoters, declared angrily, "I don't know what we can do about the scalpers. We positively refused to do any business with ticket brokers on this fight. But some of them apparently sent a lot of stooges around early and bought choice tickets. Now the demand for them is terrific."

RAIN OR SHINE

The demand was stepped up by promoter Al Bolan's announcement that the fight will be staged tomorrow night "rain or shine." However, the weather outlook for the bout is cloudy and cool, but dry. Bolan issued his rain-or-shine edict because of threatening skies today.

"Three weeks ago architect Lionel Levy of New York, who laid out the ring set-up and the seating plan, arranged for a large tarpaulin to be placed on rollers above the ring to protect the fighters in case of rain," Bolan explained.

He added with a grin: "How can we have a postponement—with more than 35,000 people expected at the park and with more than 750,000 expected at closed-circuit theaters throughout this country and Canada?"

RECORD PAY

Liston, who expects to make about $400,000 out of the fight, was still favored at 8-5 today although an early poll of 104 American and foreign writers favored Patterson to win over Liston, 62-42. Floyd hopes for an all-time record purse of $1,700,000.

Both fighters were slated to motor into Chicago tonight in order to sleep here before going to the weigh-in tomorrow at 10:30 a.m. in the Hotel Sheraton. Patterson planned to weigh about 190 pounds, 25 less than Liston's target of 215.

Patterson considered 190 his best fighting weight because that was his figure for the second bout with Ingemar Johansson of Sweden in which Floyd became the first man to recapture the heavyweight crown, by knocking out Ingo in the fifth round.

Liston, 28, is trying for the crown and his 27th straight triumph. He is going after his 34th win in 35 fights. Big Sonny lost only on a decision to Marty Marshall, whom he later knocked out and outpointed.

Lavorante Condition Is Serious

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A neurosurgeon says stricken Argentine heavyweight Alejandro Lavorante has slightly better than a 50-50 chance of living.

Doctors removed a piece of bone from the prizefighter's skull yesterday to ease the pressure of his swelling brain. It was the third operation performed on the boxer since his knockout loss to unheralded Johnny Riggins Friday night.

After the three-hour operation, Dr. J. DeWitt Fox said the 212-pound, 6-foot-4 fighter is "far from out of danger."

"But he responds with boxer-like motions of the arms to painful stimuli, like pinches," said Dr. Fox. He said it would be two days before he could predict Lavorante's future.

Meanwhile, two men instrumental in bringing Lavorante into boxing have been keeping in close touch.

The hospital said Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion who discovered the big Argentinian, called twice from Chicago.

And Pinkie George, Alejandro's manager, has won permission to go into Lavorante's room. George told the Associated Press he put his hand on the stricken fighter's shoulder and said, "Pinkie's here."

BICYCLE BRIGADE TO SCHOOL

Peter Noyes of 119 Hill Drive, Kentfield, was well on the way toward losing a $25 bet with his father, Dr. Chester Noyes, today as he led a number of fellow students to Redwood High School on bicycles. Dr. Noyes bet Peter, who is president of the student body, that by the end of the week 10 per cent of the student body would be following his example and riding to school on bicycles. Today was the first day. (Independent-Journal photo)

Shooting Figure To Court

Albert Clarence Jennings, 33, of 49 Cole Drive, Marin City, suspected of shooting a Richmond youth in the back last month at the Pig Haven Restaurant near Richardson Bay Bridge, was scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

Jennings turned himself over to Deputy Sheriff George Johnson Saturday afternoon and was booked in Marin County Jail on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon. He was held in lieu of $10,500 bail.

Witnesses told Deputy Boyd Burnham that a man named "Slim" walked up to Siminton and asked him who had thrown a bottle at his (Slim's) car, then shot Siminton in the back with a pistol.

Investigators believe that the man named "Slim" is Jennings.

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — A $3,000 bequest will be used to improve the grave of Mrs. Lucy Virgin Downs, the first settler born west of the Alleghenies.

Mrs. Downs was born near Uniontown, Pa., in 1769, but is buried in Old Town, Ky., where she lived for about 40 years.

Kentucky poet-novelist Jesse Stuart heads a committee which will obtain a new gravestone and buy highway tourist markers.

No Hardesty Conflict

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—San Diego County superintendent of public instruction Dr. Cecil Hardesty today was assured of retaining his post even though he has declared himself a write-in candidate for the office of state superintendent of public instruction.

Deer Causes Small Car, Driver To Flip

A deer ran a Novato man's small imported car off the road early today. The car rolled over, landing on its wheels again, and the driver, Thomas Leo Hazel, 37, of 849 Wilson Avenue, suffered only minor injuries.

Hazel told the California Highway Patrol that he was driving north on U. S. 101 near Miller Creek crossing at about 50 miles an hour when a deer ran in front of his car. Hazel braked and swerved, bumping the deer with a right fender, but he lost control, veered over the divider and struck an earthen berm on the far side of the highway.

Hazel complained of back and chest pains, and was picked up at the scene by his wife and taken to a physician for treatment.

It was not known what happened to the deer.

The sun's glare and the obscured vision of a motorist this morning resulted in minor injuries to Lewis Baker, 73, of 1 Hill Road, Fairfax, who was hit by a car while crossing Center Street near the Pacheco-Broadway intersection.

Fairfax police said the driver, Ronald John Bosco, 36, of 12 Valley Road, Fairfax, couldn't see Baker, who was already in the middle of the street as Bosco was making a turn. Baker's right leg was hurt, but X-rays at Marin General Hospital showed no fractures and he was released. Bosco was not cited.

A 22-year-old airman stationed at Hamilton Air Force Base last night received a broken right ankle when his motorcycle ran into the back of a car on U. S. 101 near Entrada the California Highway Patrol.

A/1C Peter Jay Freitag of the 78th Ordinance Maintenance Squadron was given emergency treatment at Hamilton and transferred to Travis Air Force Base, where his condition today was termed good.

Freitag told officers that a car ahead of him, driven by Dino Carlini, 40, of Eureka, stopped too suddenly to allow Freitag to avoid hitting the other vehicle. Carlini said he had to stop for traffic ahead of him. Both vehicles were southbound.

Robert Scott Jackson, 26, an Alameda taxicab driver, was cited by the highway patrol early yesterday for driving for hire more than 10 hours straight without resting following an accident on U. S. 101 two miles south of Highway 37.

Jackson reportedly told officers he fell asleep and hit a guard rail, and that he hadn't slept for 18 hours. He had minor injuries, but went to Mare Island base hospital by himself.

Two San Francisco men were injured, one seriously, early yesterday when their car left East Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley, and plunged 187 feet down a slope, landing in the yard of Wallace J. Meyers at 2 Dorset Lane.

Police said Narciso Ramirez, 21, the driver, apparently fell asleep. He was treated at Marin General Hospital for nose cuts and released. Luis Joe Oliu, 31, suffered numerous facial cuts and serious injuries to his left eye.

After surgery yesterday afternoon Oliu's condition was termed fair. Police said the car plunged from the 187 block of East Blithedale at 3:30 a.m.

Two Brothers Jailed After Drive-In Fracas

Two brothers, suspected of trying to pick a fight at C's Drive-In on Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, were jailed last night on citizens' complaints.

Paul Edward Kordik, 18, of 11 Meadow Drive, Mill Valley, was booked on suspicion of assault and battery and freed on $367.50 bail. His brother, Thomas George Kordik, 23, of 123 Willow Avenue, Fairfax, was booked on suspicion of disturbing the peace. He bailed out for $105. Both are scheduled to appear in Municipal

Raoul Gomez, 24, of San Francisco, told Deputy Sheriff Herrick E. Morgan he drove into C's about 6:30 p.m. with his girl and another couple, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rangel, and their 10-month-old daughter. Gomez said he was giving his order at the counter when the Kordiks asked him if he wanted a fight. When he ignored them, Paul hit him on the back of the head, Gomez told officers.

Bagley, Carrow Debate Tonight

Candidates for Assembly from this Seventh Assembly District will appear on the same stages together twice in two days.

Tonight a debate is scheduled between Assemblyman William T. Bagley, Republican seeking re-election, and Robert D. Carrow, the Democratic nominee, at a 7 p.m. San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce dinner in Rickey's Rancho Rafael, Ignacio.

Tomorrow night the two candidates will appear in Redwood High School auditorium to discuss the issues before the Redwood Political Club. The program is open to the public starting at 8 p.m.

Sickness, death and crime all increase during periods of high humidity due, say the experts, to the weariness and tension that accompany discomfort.

Era Of Breakfast In Bed Is Over

CHICAGO (AP) — Joseph J. Haley, general manager of a new Chicago hotel, says the era of breakfast in bed is over.

"Out of 300 guests, room service orders for breakfast are almost nonexistent. When one of the rare calls does come, we thing, 'Ah. Here's our chance to serve breakfast in bed.' But instead, it usually turns out that the guest is up and waiting, and eats it at a table," Haley said.

Car Broken Into

His 1960 Volkswagen was broken into and $600 in clothing and golf clubs taken while the car was parked on Tiburon's Main Street over the Labor Day holiday, Randall V. Greig of San Francisco belatedly reported to the Marin sheriff's office Saturday for insurance purposes. The car was parked while he was sailing on Sept. 2 and 3.

TEAM TEACHING IN MARIN–I

Pupils Getting The Benefit Of Some Special Talents

By LOREN MacARTHUR

The beat of hands clapping rhythm sounds from one music room at Edna Maguire School in Mill Valley. Down the hall a second class chants the blues. In a third room, pupils hear recordings of Miles Davis or Louis Armstrong.

These seventh and eighth graders are taking part in a "completely new and experimental" program which soon may change the face of education throughout the United States.

"Team teaching," or "better time utilization" as it's known by the professionals, frees teachers to use their specific talents by allowing them to pool their resources.

It can be as simple or complex as a school district chooses to make it. Team teaching is so new there hasn't been time for thinking on it to fossilize. It is found most often in wealthier school districts which can afford to experiment.

Many Marin County school administrators and teachers have inaugurated team teaching programs this year and last, as they say, "with some apprehension." These men and women have earned the right to be called the true pioneers in education today. Here, in their own words, are descriptions of team teaching done in their schools and its effect on the students participating in it.

David Reed, chairman of the music department in Edna Maguire School for seventh and eighth graders in Mill Valley, was not satisfied with the conventional sort of musical education his pupils were getting. For only a half hour each week, the students gathered to sing and sometimes hear a record. One teacher carried the entire music teaching load.

By last spring Reed had acquired two more music teachers, Tod Fleming, a drummer, and Donovan Stahl, a specialist at singing. Reed was most interested in musical form and history. The three, he thought, were wasting their time teaching each other's specialties in generalized classes.

Reed's answer to the problem of using the best of every teacher was his version of team teaching. Edna Maguire pupils now learn music in blocks of six weeks and change teachers each two weeks during the six.

"When we study jazz," said Reed, "one class will work with me listening to all kinds of jazz and learning something about the form of jazz. They go to Stahl and learn to sing the blues or modern jazz. The third unit, with Fleming, is in some related activity. In the case of jazz, they might practice rhythm with each row clapping the beat of a different rhythm instrument. They might make primitive rhythm instruments.

"We'll handle units on history of song, musical comedy, musical styles, exotic music symphonic form in the same way. The approach is completely new, and it's experimental. The idea of cooperating, tossing ideas back and forth, has made us quite excited about it.

"We got some adverse early reactions from students because we're now giving them grades instead of a plus or minus. They'll have to write papers; it's an academic class with meat in it. Now, though, they seem to like it very much. They know they're experimenting in something new."

In districts for younger pupils, such as Reed Union School District and the Dixie School District, team teaching often means hiring an additional teacher to relieve classroom teachers for work with remedial or above-average students.

In the Bel Air School in Tiburon, under principal John Fitch, all first grade teachers work together planning their program so some classes can be taught together. One teacher then gives the main lesson while the others circulate helping individuals or small groups.

Similar programs have been inaugurated in other schools in the Reed district since the arrival of Supt. Edward C. Pino a year ago. Pino formerly was assistant superintendent of Lamphere Public Schools in Madison Heights, Mich., one of the innovators in the field of team teaching.

At the Lucas Valley School in Marinwood, a part of the Dixie district, upper grades are combined for a team teaching reading program where each teacher is able to work with a group of similar ability.

"We did it to really stretch the ability of these youngsters," said Supt. Dennie B. Willis. "We've divided the fourth, fifth and sixth graders up together according to their reading ability. Last year the results were phenomenal as far as rapid learners were concerned. All the students like it because they're doing what they can do and want to do."

At a higher student age level, team teaching programs produce some of their most startling results. The history department at Sir Francis Drake High School in San Anselmo this fall started still a different team teaching program after a successful experimental summer school program.

'We want a program which frees the student to express his own views. We hope to break down the dogmatism that's associated with so much teaching of history on the high school level," said Gerald M. Lucey, a Drake history teacher who, with teacher Duane Miller, originated the program.

"We've combined the senior history classes. We think it's redundant for one teacher to give the same lecture five times a day. This way, one teacher gives the lecture once to the entire group. The idea is that the teacher has more time to prepare a better lecture. The other teachers are free to meet in seminars with small groups.

"Other days the three of us (Lucey, Miller and Richard Campion, former principal of Tamalpais High School) each presents to the entire group divergent viewpoints on the same topic. The students are extremely excited about the uniqueness of being exposed to a number of views.

"Seeing teachers disagreeing frees the student to speak his own views. It breaks down the feeling that students must accept the teacher's world as fact. One of the main problems you have is getting students to realize their own opinions are worth something, and what they're worth is the logic and reason behind them. Team teaching helps them realize this."

Dominican Principal Is Honored

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—The woman author of a best-selling series of children's books believes today's youngsters are losing touch with fantasy because of the nature of current writing for them.

"The general run of reading material for them is factual," said Pamela Travers, British author. "How to do this. How to do that!"

To P. L. Travers, as she signs her works, "A balanced menu" of reading for children must include fairy stories.

"Fairy stories tell how to be," she said. "They're the lessons of the race. They include all the truths."

We asked Miss Travers to suggest what else should go in a balanced diet for children's reading.

"I would prefer the term 'food'," she said. "Food is for eating when hungry. Diet connotes a regime."

She wouldn't eliminate today's "How to" books from the menu. But she would suggest that parents always furnish the "food" of nursery rhymes and hymns, as well as the fairy tales.

"THE OLD RHYMES are built on the same truths as the fairy tales," said Miss Travers.

"Lamentably," she added, "not enough adults are reading fairy tales now, either."

She added that for children reading should be for fun—they shouldn't need to interpret. But for adults, the ideal fairy story starts the reader asking questions . . . interpreting "according to ones own morals."

Miss Travers said the true fairy tales, as those by Grimm, are "passed down through many generations. Most of the great ones we know came out of the East, many from old Persia.

"Do you know, I have found 232 versions of Cinderella alone?"

P. L. Travers is the author of the Mary Poppins series of books for children. Mary is the heroine who gets into all sorts of adventures—and in 12 languages into which the books have been translated. Mary also soon will be the heroine of a motion picture Walt Disney is planning, Miss Travers said.

THE AUTHOR is on a visit to this country for further discussion of the film and also to supervise publication of the new book for adults—"The Fox at the Manger," based on the tradition that on Christmas nights have the gift of speech.

In the field of children's books, she suggested some reading bores children because the author writes down to them.

"I think it is a great pity to think about age groups when recommending reading material," she said. "Perhaps the very young child has to be catered to a bit. But not to the extent that reading is predigested."

"Children like to chew over big words," she said. "It is a pity to understimate the wisdom of a child.

"And I think that anything that is true can be told to children."

PAMELA TRAVERS contends that she does not write for children—"I don't visualize them as an audience," she insisted. "I write to please myself."

She added, "if we are fortunate, we do not leave the world of childhood behind us when we grow up, but carry it complete somewhere within us . . .

"I sometimes find myself roaring with laughter at something Mary Poppins has done."

SEW SIMPLE

How To Save Fabric Sewing Slim-Jims

By EUNICE FARMER

"I'm hoping this suggestion will be helpful as well as economical to many who love slim-jims as I do. This idea will save buying anywhere from ½ to ¾ yards more material when using the wider width materials or those with a nap.

"Cut gussets in the crotch of the pants. When using velvets, plaids, etc., be sure to match the plaids and cut the gusset with the same nap, and allow for seams on both the gussets and the pants." Mrs. James E. Boggs of Tulsa, Okla. has been awarded a tailor trix pressing board for this suggestion.

"I was attracted to a beautiful simple dress that was made on a diagonal cut, using two colors. A third color was used in the form of a bias covering the seam of the dress where the two colors joined. I have searched the pattern books and can't find a pattern like this. Would this be too difficult for me to try to do and would you please help me with any cutting instructions?"

Mrs. C. G. W.

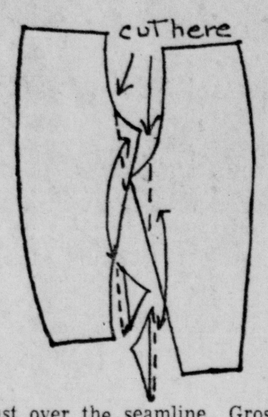

Dear Mrs. C. G. W:

I would begin with a perfectly basic type pattern which can be found in all pattern books First, lay the pattern on a large folded piece of newspaper as you would with your fabric, and cut a new paper pattern which will be the full width of your dress instead of just half the width.

Using your yardstick, carefully mark a line where you wish the diagonal line to appear. If you want a diagonal line in the back, be sure the seams will end at the same point of your skirt. Mark your paper pattern with the words "right side," so you will know that the pattern and the fabric must both be cut on the "right side." Your fabric will not be cut double.

Cut your new paper pattern on the diagonal line and place it on your fabric, leaving a seam allowance on each of the diagonal sections.

The third color, if desired, is achieved by making a bias tubing and pressing it flat, then hand-tacking it to your dress

just over the seamline. Grosgrain ribbon could be used instead of a bias tubing.

This can certainly be a novel and unusual dress and will draw gobs of attention to your sewing. Somehow or other most people would never imagine you had made a garment yourself if you vary from the pattern and add your own little creative ideas because they don't think we are smart enough for that, but that's the fun of sewing.

"Please excuse my hasty letter, but if I don't sandwich you in with my ironing, I won't make it! I have some lovely wool straight-cut skirts that are 2 inches too long, all with a double kick pleat at the hem. Is it better to shorten these skirts on the top? Please help me so I won't botch them up."

Mrs. J. A. B.

Dear Mrs. J. A. B:

Probably the best way to shorten these skirts would be to eliminate the pleats altogether and make a slit opening the width of the hem. In order to shorten a skirt from the top, you would have to replace the zipper, waistband, and re-cut the skirt to fit the side seams. In other words, you would be re-making the skirt the hard way.

Your sewing glossary: Nap—(Last week we discussed the pile of velvets and corduroys).

The following information applies to woolens or any mixtures of fabric that have a fur or hair content which gives it a napped feeling. This also applies to cashmere, some types of metallics or coatings that have a dense pile. These fabrics must be cut with the nap, or smooth as you stroke down.

Before cutting any garment, check with your fingers to see if there is any up or down to the fabric. All pieces of your pattern must be cut in the same direction or they will look like two entirely different pieces of fabric. Mark your scraps with an arrow in chalk so if you need them, you will not make a mistake.

Mary Margaret Peterson Is Bride In Fresno Church Rite

Three-Year-Old Son Now Rebels Constantly, Worrying His Mother

"My son's conduct worries me," a mother writes. "I have even prayed that he would improve, but he hasn't. He is three-and-a-half. Up to his third birthday, he was almost too obedient. But now he rebels continuously. He tries to find ways to hurt me. The worst thing he does is to run out in the street. He waits until a car is coming, so he can scare the driver. My husband says to whack him for it. Is there a better way to make him stop?" Mrs. E. J. W.

I doubt it. Your son is in the normal period of "negativism." Up to about three, most children are little angels. They try to obey. Their mistakes are unintentional; their motives are good. Then, rather abruptly, they start thinking for themselves. They are impelled to experiment with all kinds of behavior. They rebel impulsively, and learn by the consequences of their actions. Gradually, they build their lifelong guidelines, their "consciences." You should not let your son get by with bad or dangerous conduct.

Explain to him what is right and what is wrong. Be consistent. Let him know what you expect. When he is deliberately naughty, crack down, always using the mildest punishment that will teach the needed lessons. But for his most dangerous mistakes, spank him. Don't hesitate. You've waited too long already.

Some folks spank their three-year-olds many times a day. That is a mistake. They lose the effectiveness of the punishment, and gain only resentment. But if you save the spankings for your boy's worst offenses, he'll learn fast. Good luck!

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Our girl is only four, but already she has a bad reputation. She kisses boys on the mouth. Even older boys come around for her caresses. We think she is having innocent fun, but the neighbors are worried. They say she's deliberately naughty. Should we make her stop?" Mrs. S. T.

(A) Yes, you should. Explain to her that kisses are reserved for family members. Answer her questions about it. Be sure she obeys. I'm sorry the neighbors feel as they do; however, their reaction is understandable.

DORCAS SOCIETY TEA WILL MARK FOUNDING OF CHURCH

The 42nd Anniversary of the Dorcas Society of the Fairfax Community Church will be celebrated with a silver tea tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. in Berger Hall at the church.

Slides of the Holy Land, taken last year by Miss Betty Teare, will be shown by her mother, Mrs. Thomas Teare. Chairmen for the day will be Mesdames Claude Miller, Carl A. Benson, A. A. Boulter and Florence Dierks. Charter members Mrs. Carl A. Benson and Mrs. A. F. Adams will pour tea.

In 1917, when there were no protestant churches in the Fairfax area, four women responded to a notice posted in the Fairfax Postoffice. They met at the Women's Club in Fairfax, and after a number of fund raising events, mostly lunches for business men, Dorcas was formed as the first step to start a church. Meetings were held at the Women's Club. Then a joint venture with the Masons for a building to be used both as a church and as a hall established the first church, on Park Street. Some years ago it was sold and the present church on Sir Francis Drake was built.

Mrs. George Hellyer of San Francisco is chairman.

No Yardsticks

Today's foot-measuring devices differ greatly from the yardsticks of yesteryear, which only registered the length of the foot. One foot-measurer in use today gives the length and width of both feet at the same time for accurate fitting.

Still Pressing

NEW YORK (UPI)—The ironing board is far from shelved by the advent of wash and dry clothes. One manufacturer of ironing board covers estimates 1962 sales of irons at 7.680 million. That, said the firm, is a total of $110 million spent on the ordinary iron. Ironing board sales run about 10 million units a year and covers average between 50 and 60 million, said the firm.

Foreign Study Becoming Major Trend

Overseas study is taking the shape of a major trend in U. S. higher education. Formerly, it attracted only graduate students and a few rare undergraduates. But today, were they all in one place, our wandering scholars would fill a university larger than all but a half dozen universities in the United States.

According to estimates, nearly 25,000 young Americans from hundreds of U. S. colleges will spend at least part of the 1962-63 school year at foreign universities. Notable is the fact that a growing proportion of the U. S. students heading overseas is made up of undergraduates, chiefly sophomores and juniors.

AS MIGHT BE expected, Europe is experiencing the largest influx. Seven of every 10 U. S. collegians enrolled in other countries this year will be studying there.

What's behind this trend? The broader world view of today's student, says the Institute of European Studies, largest U. S. organization conducting foreign study programs for American undergraduates.

Travel certainly lures some students. But officials find more and more youngsters want to enrich their future studies through on-the-spot investigation of Europe's culture, history, politics and languages. Back on their "home" campuses, most prove to be better students for the experience.

Helping to stimulate the trend is the cost of study overseas, where universities are often heavily subsidized. Eleven months in Europe may cost from $2,000 to $2,500, including full tuition for the year, room, board, study trips with academic guides, and round-trip ocean-passage — roughly equal to a year's tuition, room and board at private U. S. colleges. A six-month stay, including a semester of study, may range from $1,400 to $1,600.

BUT THE UNWARY student faces problems and pitfalls. Foreign study, it says, is rewarding in the degree to which the student can be "immersed" in the European university and the culture of a different land. The amount of immersion depends on his previous education, his ability in a foreign tongue, and his capacity for adjusting to alien ways.

The alternative to "immersion" is "drowning," which the Institute believes is the almost certain fate of the average U. S. undergraduate who attempts independent study in Europe. Universities there are essentially graduate schools for those who have a solid background of general knowledge and can exercise considerable initiative in specialized studies and research. No homework, quizzes, term papers or mid-semester exams are used to guide and measure scholastic progress.

The vast differences between the two systems have challenged American educators convinced of the value of foreign study for U. S. undergraduates. To bridge the "educational gap" they have supplemented European university courses with language instruction, special lectures and orientation to Europe.

THE RESULT IS an accommodation of European learning to U. S. college requirements. American colleges are keeping close tabs on overseas study in the absence of international accrediting agencies, but most of them accept credits earned on programs they regard as academically sound.

Some 200 U. S. colleges and universities have approved the three programs conducted by the institute in Europe. In each of its centers—in Vienna, Paris and Freiburg, West Germany —the institute combines formal lectures, seminars and academic field-study with opportunities for immersion in the European university.

Students live in private homes to deepen their acquaintance with European life. During university vacation periods, faculty members lead them on study trips in western Europe to give them firsthand experience of art, culture and political institutions and provide them with background for formal course work.

THE VIENNA AND Paris programs are open to juniors and some sophomores, while the Freiburg program is limited to juniors.

Most educators agree that, in the sciences and in business fields, for example, foreign universities can add little to what the U. S. undergraduate may readily obtain at home. What Europe does have to offer, especially to liberal arts students and those in general studies, is the wealth of its art, literature, history, political variety, cultural tradition and languages. Those attractions are helping to make Europe a "branch campus" for U. S. collegians.

AMERICAN SCHOLARS take an orientation tour through Vienna's Inner Ring, central and oldest section of the city, led by an institute faculty member. Vienna and Paris programs are designed for U. S. College sophomores and juniors and a West Germany program is available to juniors only.

U. S. STUDENTS enrolled with the Institute of European Studies attend a psychology class taught by Dr. Viktor Frankl at the University of Vienna in the city that is the birthplace of modern psychology.

Opera Salute For 'View' Luncheon

"Have a Ball at Fol de Rol" is the salutation of "Fashions With a View" on Thursday, at the Ondine in Sausalito, with a promenade of American designer fashions and furs.

Invitations have gone to Marilyn Horne and Giorgio Tozzi of the San Francisco Opera Company, to be the "guests with a viewpoint," saluting the Opera Guild, sponsors of the "Fol de Rol."

Showing the fashions will be Mesdames John Willcutt, David Sederquist, Hal Wagner and Yvonne Buchi. Luncheons and fashions will begin at 12:30 p.m.

Out Of The Past

Take the word "past"—give the letters a subtle twist and lo, you have "spats"—the over-the-shoe, shin-climbing "boot top." For daytime they're simple and tailored and for evening they go as respendent as a queen's jewel box. A narrow strap fits under the shoe, and the spot climbs as high as you want it to. Whether plain or fancy, it's a real fun note this fall.

North Bay Council To Open Fall Term

The North Bay Council of Chapters of Children's Home Society will welcome members tomorrow at the first fall meeting at 10:30 a.m. at Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club. Jolly Rogers, Peter Pan, Chicken Little, Rose Red, and Tom Thumb are the five chapters included in the North Bay Council of Chapters.

Mrs. James Kean, serving her second year as council president, will introduce the newly elected officers, Mesdames William Maxwell, vice president; Joseph Huffaker, recording secretary; Clyde Nelson, corresponding secretary and Andrew Kozak, treasurer.

Mrs. Grace Hahn, assistant director of volunteers for Northern California, introduce the guest speaker, Miss Martha Burnside, caseworker from the San Francisco office of Children's Home Society. Miss Burnside will discuss the role of the social worker in the adoption program.

'Men In P-TA' Topic For Meet

Dr. Mitchell Soso of Santa Rosa, men's participation chairman for the 14th District of the California Parent-Teacher Assn. will be guest speaker at the Marion School P-TA meeting in Novato at 8 p.m. Thursday in the multi-purpose room. Dr. Soso will speak on "Men in the P-TA."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Hemophilia No Longer Is Hopeless And Victims Need Not Live In Fear

Van Dellen

Hemophilia no longer is hopeless and its victims need not live in fear of bleeding to death from every scratch or bruise. Those surviving childhood can lead a near normal life by compensating for the few restrictions the condition imposes. They should avoid manual labor and take a job or learn a profession in which the risk of injury is minimal.

Everyone knows that hemophilia is hereditary and is transmitted to sons by mothers who carry the trait. The daughters born to a female carrier and an unaffected male stand an even chance of being carriers, and the sons of being hemophiliacs. On the other hand, if the father has hemophilia, all of the sons will be normal provided the mother is not a carrier; the daughters will carry the trait.

HEMOPHILIA IS RARE among women but may occur when the father has hemophilia and the mother is a carrier. This is noted more often today because of the tendency of persons with common infirmities to get together. Dr. R. G. Macfarlane told of a young man with hemophilia who was so impressed with the way a girl nursed her hemophiliac father he married her. Their daughter has the disease.

Hemophilia is caused by a congenital deficiency of either of two blood clotting factors. Hemophilia-A has too little factor VIII (AHF) whereas hemophilia-B is deficient in factor IX (PTC).

THERE ARE 12 different factors in blood that play a role in blood clotting, hence various bleeding disorders are possible. Some bleeders lack this, and others, that. Diagnosis can be made only by running specific tests to determine clotting defects.

Treatment of bleeding is aimed at augmenting the deficient factor in the blood. Those with hemophilia-A need fresh blood or plasma because factor VIII is not found in serum or stored blood. Factor IX is more stable and is present in plasma, serum, and stored blood.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

DISTURBED FOCUSING

K. M. writes: What is the cause of eyes going out of focus?

REPLY

Many chapters in the standard books on ophthalmology are devoted to this subject. The individual may need glasses, the eyes straightened, the circulation improved, increased tension within the eyeball (glaucoma) decreased, to discontinue toxins such as alcohol, or other conditions corrected that interfere with sight.

PSORIASIS AND ARTHRITIS

R. S. writes: Is there any difference between psoriatic arthritis and the other kinds?

REPLY

There is some suggestion that psoriasis is the outward manifestation of rheumatoid arthritis. But the evidence is by no means positive. The 8 to 10 per cent of psoriasis victims who develop arthritis probably would have developed the condition, regardless of the skin disorder.

CLIMATE FOR BRONCHITIS

T. R. writes: What kind of climate is good for bronchitis?

REPLY

There is no perfect climate for bronchitis. A warm area, where colds are not common, should be ideal. A dry climate aids those who bring up excessive secretions, provided the dust in this area is not bothersome. A moist climate helps when the respiratory membranes are dry.

BABY NOT HARMED

Mrs. W. writes: If a pregnant woman is given an antibiotic for an infection would the baby develop side effects from the drug?

REPLY

No, even though penicillin and the other antibiotics pass through the umbilical cord.

Today's Health Hint—Insect sprays and powders are hazardous when used improperly and carelessly.

Tariff Walls Won't Tumble Overnight

NEW YORK (AP)—The world's tariff walls won't come tumbling down overnight.

As Congress puts the finishing touches on a sweeping grant of powers to the president to work toward freer trade, the key word today still is bargaining.

The president will have power to bargain with the Common Market and England and Japan. The goal is to lower, perhaps abolish in time, their tariffs or quotas or other restrictions on the admission of American goods.

In return the bargain would include similar lowering of barriers or penalties in this country on the admission of foreign goods.

Such bargaining is usually a long, slow process. It can go on, industry by industry, item by item, for many months or even for years.

Tariffs are only one of the walls that nations raise against others' goods. After the war, most European nations put strict quotas on the amount of American goods, item by item, that could enter.

They also imposed currency restrictions that made it hard or impossible for an American manufacturer to get his money back in dollars or other currencies.

Quotas and currency barriers have been falling steadily in recent years. But some still remain.

The United States in turn has many trade barries still. These range from strict quotas and allotments on importation of sugar, to tariffs that can be raised when domestic manufacturers show they are being hurt by foreign imports. This provision, though modified, is still in the bill.

Also, we have trade agreements with some countries whereby they send here only a certain volume of particular products, to leave a major percentage of the market to American industry.

Both the United States and the Common Market have plenty on which to bargain.

What Congress is giving the president is the power to do this bargaining, more power than his predecessors ever had. The expectation is that the Common Market and others will see enough advantages to themselves in freer trade to reach agreement with the United States along these lines.

If all sides are the gainers, the resulting greater economic health of the non-Communist nations will weigh heavily in any future conflict with the Reds.

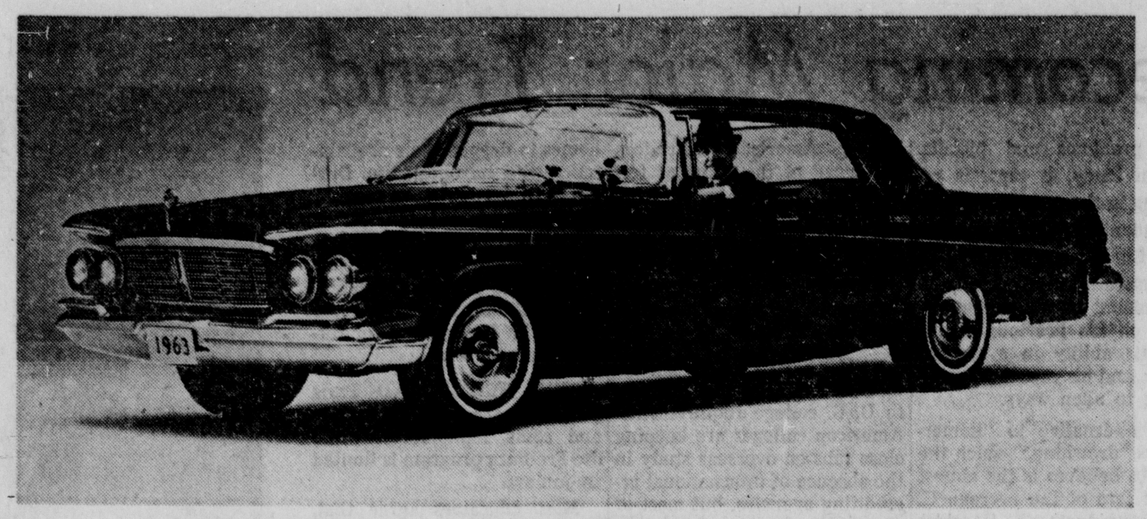

The very fact that the president will have power to make such deals will make the Common Market more willing to enter into bargaining sessions.

But in every case the special interest of various American industries and agriculture will remain. Many trade barriers, therefore, may be slow in coming down, or may be lowered only gradually.

The president's triumph in getting these powers is unquestioned. But the final bargains may be some distance away and far from being a sure bet—either on our side or the Common Market side.

NEW LARK WAGONAIRE

1963 AUSTIN HEALEY SPORTS CONVERTIBLE

This prestige sports car of the British Motor Corp. line features as standard equipment a tough vinyl-treated top that can be raised or lowered by one person from inside the car. The occasional four-seater also has a new wrap-around windshield and removable flexible plastic rear window. The model is now being shown at E. F. Sweeney British Cars, San Rafael.

Two Youths Hurt As Car Rips Rail

Two youths were treated at San Rafael General Hospital after the car driven by one tore up 100 feet of chain-link fence on the Highway 101 Frontage Road in Terra Linda Saturday.

Police said the car's right bumper caught in the fence, preventing it from plunging into a 15-foot drainage ditch. Gary A. Richter, 18, of 430 Via Herbosa, San Rafael, said he was watching another car when he lost control of his car while southbound.

Richter complained of pains in his head. His passenger, Donald D. Kehrli, 20, of 34 Karl Avenue, San Anselmo, was treated for ac ut forehead and sent to Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital for further treatment.

The Most Up-To-Date Method
Of Buying And Selling Real Estate

MULTIPLE LISTING

- IT GETS FASTER RESULTS!
- IT COSTS NO MORE!

Thousands of homes have been sold by Marin REALTORS through the efficiency of the Marin County Multiple Listing Service.

This modern cooperative system has conclusively proved to property owners its value as a sales asset.

Unlike the "old days" you do not have to shop around from office to office to list your house. Today you sign one agreement with one MARIN REALTOR, and your listing — with photograph and giving complete details—is broadcast from the Real Estate Board office to its entire membership. Automatically the property you wish to sell is called to the attention of a Sales Force of more than 700 realty experts. Any Marin REALTOR will multiple list your home. Whether he or a fellow REALTOR sells it, only one commission is paid.

Phone your nearest Marin REALTOR, ask him to put your name on Multiple Listing.

Dear Maude:—

You said when you found a house of your dreams, it would have to be new, and yet have complete charm, and above all, PRIVACY, and a view that went as far as Mt. Diablo, the Bay, and above all, Mt. Tamalpais.

You also made a specific request it must have a different fireplace . . . preferably a massive rock type . . . you said, it must have original design . . . like maybe an amber mullioned glass entry . . . that it had to have 3 large bedrooms with their own private deck . . . that the bathrooms must be elegant . . . that the kitchen must be perfection with every conceivable built-in . . . that it must have a fabulous living room with a gigantic deck and above all . . .

NO GARDENING! You certainly asked for everything possible that would be in a perfect home . . . AND we finally found it . . . for only $26,500! Get over here quick and bring your check book!

P.S.—We didn't forget your low-down-payment request either —we have a most agreeable seller!

STENSTROM BUICK SALE

'56 Buick $695

4-DOOR—Here's a 4-Dr. Super Hardtop we sold new in '56 to local dentist. It's absolutely without a scratch or mark of wear inside or out. White with green two tone. Power steering, dynaflow, radio, heater, ww tires and all the Buick extras. Just turned 50,000 miles which means a lot of trouble-free miles in this clean older car.

'56 Buick $695

WAGON — Special model 4-Dr. Estate Wagon that we sold new in '56 to local couple. Their children are grown now so they purchased a new 4-Dr. hardtop. Light green with full leather interior. Dynaflow, radio, heater, power steering and all the extras. Not a mark on this wagon. It's been used strictly for family transportation and has never been used commercially. The cleanest older wagon we've seen in years.

'56 Buick $495

COUPE — Special 3-Dr. Riviera Hardtop Coupe in light green with white top. Dynaflow, radio, heater and many other Buick extras. One owner car that's really clean inside and out. Would make a wonderful second car for the family.

'54 Dodge $350

4-DOOR — Another one-owner car that defies its age. Light green paint doesn't have a scratch. The interior is almost like new. Almost new tires. Automatic, radio, heater and numerous other extras. So clean—you'd think it was a '57 or '58 model. Wonderful transportation for the Marin family.

Gale Hinders Rescue; Six Bodies Found

By ANTHONY WHITE

LONDON (AP) — Battling raging seas, rescuers today plucked from the North Atlantic 49 survivors of a ditched chartered airliner carrying American servicemen and their families. A grim search continued for 21 others — including two children—still missing.

Only six bodies have been recovered.

A massive international air-sea mercy fleet converged on the crash scene 500 miles west of Ireland.

The British Air Ministry said five of the six rafts carried by the Flying Tiger airliner had been accounted for. Radio reports that more survivors were sighted clinging to another raft were being investigated.

One rescue ship radioed she had sighted a raft but as darkness fell no further word was received and hope faded.

Gale winds and heavy seas also hampered rescue operations as seaplanes were prevented from letting down on the water.

The four-engine Super Constellation took off from McGuire Airport, N. J., Sunday bound for Germany and ditched at 10:12 p.m. after the pilot radioed three of the engines failed.

The Swiss ship Celerina radioed that she had picked up the 49 survivors.

The survivors — some injured and all of them suffering from shock — were transferred from the Celerina to the Canadian aircraft carrier Bonaventure by helicopter.

The Bonaventure radioed that she was proceeding toward Ireland while the survivors received medical care in her sick bay. The carrier expected to land the people at Shannon by helicopter Tuesday night.

The pilot of the downed plane, Capt. John D. Murray of Oyster Bay, N. Y., radioed of his fight to keep the plane in the air before ditching. He was reported to be one of the survivors.

Capt. Milton McCurry of Miami, Fla., pilot of one of the returning amphibious search planes, told newsmen at Prestwick, Scotland, there was a strong possibility that the missing passengers had a chance for survival if they were on rafts and could be picked up soon.

The chartered airliner carried 76 persons—68 American servicemen and their families, and a crew of eight.

Two dramatic races were in progress.

In one the rescue ships and planes were desperately trying to locate the missing survivors before 10-foot waves, cold and

Two Passengers Former Marinites

Two of the passengers aboard the Flying Tigers plane that ditched Sunday night in the Atlantic were former residents of San Rafael, it was disclosed today.

They were Maj. Carl R. Elander, son of Mrs. Robert Elander of West Point, N.Y., and his wife, Lois. The couple lived on Clorinda Avenue, San Rafael, for about a year in 1957 while Major Elander was stationed at Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco, according to Mrs. Jose G. Alicastro of 70 Marina Boulevard, San Rafael.

SHE LIKES IT STRAIGHT

Four-month-old Darian Alioto is too young to be given a cube of sugar, so Dr. Ted McCarthy drops Sabin oral polio vaccine directly into her mouth at San Rafael High School K.O. Polio clinic and she obviously likes it just fine. Darian's father, John C. Alioto of San Rafael, holds her. She was one of 124,127 Marinites who received the vaccine yesterday. Marin's turnout topped five other Bay Area counties. (Ken Molino photo)

85 PER CENT OF MARIN TROOPS IN FOR VACCINE

124,000 Get Drops, Sugar In 8 Hours

Virtually all of Marin turned out yesterday to take cubes of sugar which will prevent type one poliomyelitis.

In eight hours at 20 school buildings, 124,127 Marinites received their initial dosages of Sabin oral vaccine —84.5 per cent of the total 1960 census population of 146,820.

Added to the 4,692 who received their vaccine earlier in advance inoculations of K.O. Polio volunteers and San Quentin prisoners, this brought the total vaccinated to 128,819—or 88 per cent of the population.

The turnout yesterday is believed to be the largest, percentagewise, ever to receive polio inoculation in any one day in any county in the United States.

It topped the turnout in the five other Bay Area counties which joined with Marin, through their medical societies, for a coordinated K.O. Polio campaign. The six-county turnout yesterday totaled 2,537,700 people.

Said Dr. Eugene P. Shatkin, chairman of the Marin Medical Society's K.O. Polio committee:

"In vaccinating 84.5 per cent of our population, we exceeded our most optimistic expectations and are proud to announce that Marin County has achieved the highest percentage of people immunized among the six Bay Area counties and to our knowledge the highest percentage ever immunized in a county in one day."

The sun shone on Marin as long lines formed well in advance of the 11 a.m. opening of the K.O. Polio clinics at 20 schools.

The lines shortened rapidly as the clinics opened and the throng of volunteers—doctors, nurses, pharmacists, Boy and Girl Scouts, members of the Red Cross, the Marin Medical Assistants, the Marin Medical Society Auxiliary and "just plain people" who had wanted to help—began efficiently registering the throng, passing out little paper cups each containing a cube of vaccine-impregnated sugar, and receiving the rain of quarters contributed to pay the cost.

Marin Led Six Bay Counties

County percentage totals —including those who received their first doses in advance of yesterday's mass vaccinations—were announced as follows:

County	Total	Pct. of Population
Marin	128,819	88
Contra Costa	332,633	83
San Mateo	347,453	78
Santa Clara	587,321	78
Alameda	657,572	77
San Francisco	483,903	65

Makeup Dates Scheduled

"Makeup dates" for those who were among the 12 per cent of Marin's population who failed to receive first Sabin polio immunizations yesterday were announced today by Dr. Eugene P. Shatkin, K.O. Polio committee chairman.

The type 1 vaccine sugar cubes will be given at the Marin County Health Department, Fourth Street and Grand Avenue, San Rafael, tomorrow, Wednesday and Friday from 1 to 4 p.m.

Those who were unable to get their first immunization yesterday and who receive it at the county health office this week can continue with the second and third doses on the scheduled days — Nov. 4 and Dec. 9 — said Dr. Shatkin.

Stewardess Was To End Flying Days

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Ruth Mudd, a stewardess aboard the Flying Tiger Line plane which ditched in the Atlantic Sunday night, was fired a few days ago and had decided to quit flying, one of her San Francisco roommates said today.

It was not known whether Miss Mudd, 24, was among the survivors plucked out of the Atlantic.

Switched Day Off

LYNHURST, N. J. (AP) — It was stewardess Carol Ann Gould's day off.

But the Flying Tiger Line needed another flight attendant to accompany the 68 servicemen and their families to Frankfurt, Germany.

Officials of the line called Miss Gould's mother, Mrs. Edward Ziegler of Lyndhurst Sunday.

"I told them where she could be reached—at her girl friend's house where she stayed for the night," Mrs. Ziegler said today.

"If only I hadn't given the number to the person who called."

BOARD TO DISCUSS HOUSES ON POLES

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Marin City's "houses on poles" are to be discussed tomorrow by the county board of supervisors.

Supervisor Peter Behr, after a visit yesterday to the site where the 59 homes are under construction, said he would bring up the matter at tomorrow's board session.

About 80 Marin City residents met last night in the community lounge to hear complaints which began Thursday after the first home on poles, the "Inverness," was walled in. The protests are mainly against construction on poles, residents saying they had expected homes on concrete foundations.

They also complained that there is no closed-in garage, no hardwood floors, asphalt driveways instead of concrete driveways, redwood instead of concrete retaining walls, according to Frank Philips. He is chairman of a citizens committee which called last night's meeting.

No action was taken at the meeting, Philips said, but committee officers have agreed to meet again to discuss costs of the homes now being erected. No meeting date was set.

Philips said 25 persons signed a paper last night saying they object to pole-type foundations.

"I'm planning to withdraw my $300 down payment if the type of house is not changed," he said. Thirty residents have made $300 deposits on the homes.

Frederick Martin, representing Barrett Homes Inc., of San Francisco, builders, said today as yet no one has asked to withdraw a down payment. He said at last night's meeting that his firm would transfer down payments already made to other homes to be built later. Six hundred homes are planned in all.

"The die is cast," Martin told the gathering. He said materials are ordered, everything is crystalized and the firm is bound by contract to go ahead.

Martin said the second home, a "Belvedere" model, is being floored today and should have the walls up this week. It will sell for $15,950.

Martin also told Marin City residents that, though nothing could be changed on the 59 homes, concrete foundations

10 Believed Dead In Navy Plane Crash

KODIAK, Alaska (AP) — The burned wreckage of a Navy patrol plane that carried 10 men was sighted by a search plane today on an island on the southern coast of Alaska.

The Navy said there was no sign of any survivors. Three bodies were seen near the wreckage, the Navy reported.

The search plane radioed Navy headquarters at Kodiak that the wreckage was spotted near Cape Cleare.

A ground search party was dispatched but there was no estimate of its time of arrival.

Reward Increased In Mail Robbery

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—The reward offered for solution of the $1.5-million mail truck robbery Aug. 14 near Plymouth, Mass., was raised from $50,000 to $200,000 today.

Postal officials said they believe the $200,000 is a record reward offered in the history of American law enforcement.

Prowler Slips Away With $70

A burglar broke into Forest Knolls Lodge this morning and ransacked the place, then slipped out with about $70 in change just minutes before officers closed in.

Sheriff's Sgt. Kenneth Irving said a Forest Knolls resident, Danny Bredion, had notified bartender Nick Casanova. The bartender had closed the lodge about 11 p.m.

By the time Casanova and officers arrived, the prowler was gone. The money was missing from a drawer behind the bar. The place had been ransacked, but nothing else appears to be missing, Sergeant Irving reported. The Sergeant said the prowler had climbed the roof to enter through a window.

Quentin Pair Admit Roles In Check Ring

Two San Quentin convicts, accused of being members of a forgery ring that planned to counterfeit payroll checks inside the prison print shop, pleaded guilty today before Judge Thomas F. Keating in Marin Superior Court.

Robert Gilette, 30, serving time for felony assault and attempted robbery in Sacramento, and Antonio Bucaloy, 30, Monterey forger, admitted conspiring to commit forgery.

Judge Keating set Oct. 15 as the time for sentencing the pair. They face a penalty of one to 14 years in prison.

Charges are still pennding against two others; Robert W. Minor, 29, of San Francisco, who worked as correctional officer at the prison, and Albert Leo Martin, 30, a Sacramento express company employee. Minor is scheduled to be arraigned next Monday, and Martin will plead in two weeks.

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety contends that Minor and Martin were important links in a ring that planned to smuggle in payroll checks as samples and eventually turn out $125,000 worth of counterfeit checks in the prison print shop.

Fuel, Water Problems For Schirra Orbit

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Spacecraft fuel and water consumption will be major items under study when astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr., makes his intended six-orbit flight around the world, now set for Oct. 3.

Proper supplies of fuel to control the spececraft's attitude and water to maintain comfortable cabin and suit temperature are necessary if the next goal in Project Mercury, an 18-orbit, one-day flight, is to be met while using essentially the same spacecraft.

Project officials made several disclosures about the flight today as engineers worked to correct a valve problem which cropped up in the capsule last Friday. The trouble necessitated removal of the 4,200-pound craft from atop its Atlas booster rocket and caused a five-day delay in the planned Sept. 28 launch date.

A leak was detected in the valve and subsequent investigation revealed it was sticking. The valve is to be replaced and the present timetable calls for the spacecraft to be rejoined with the Atlas Wednesday. Six to eight days of checkout are then required before firing.

John F. Yardley, Cape Canaveral base manager for McDonnell Aircraft Corp., which makes the capsule, said the most important thing he'll be looking for on Schirra's flight will be water consumption.

"There is ample water aboard for a six-orbit mission," Yardley reported. "We're redesigning the capsule for an 18-orbit flight but we don't know how much water we'll need."

Yardley, who was responsible for preliminary design of the Mercury capsule, said the three-orbit journeys of astronauts John H. Glenn Jr. and Malcolm Scott Carpenter gave engineers no indication of the amount of water needed for one-day missions.

Yardley explained this was because Carpenter and Glenn tried to squeeze many things into their relatively short five hours in space. The activity generated body heat which resulted in extensive use of the water coolant system to maintain a comfortable temperature inside the space suit.

Glenn and Carpenter ran dangerously low on hydrogen peroxide fuel and both had empty tanks when they landed. This was caused primarily by the astronauts' mismanagement of their fuel supply. Carpenter at one point inadvertently had two fuel-consuming control systems operating simultaneously.

WANT THANT REPLACED

Russia Again May Seek U.N. Troika

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko was reported seeking support today for a three-man board to supplant the United Nations acting Secretary-General Thant.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk met briefly yesterday with Thant, strongly backed by the United States for re-election as the sole executive of the United Nations. Rusk will talk with Gromyko tomorrow.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev first told the General Assembly in 1960 that the U.N. executive should consist of three men, each with a veto, representing Western, Communist and neutralist countries.

The Russians shelved that so-called troika plan to permit Thant's election last Nov. 3 to the remainder of the five-year term of the late Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold expiring next April 10.

Over the weekend, an informed diplomatic source said, Gromyko told another assembly delegate the Russians still want the troika, and the principle should be applied from top to bottom of the U.N. structure

If Thant is to continue in office, he must be re-elected by the assembly after first being recommended by the Security Council, where the Soviet Union could veto him.

The United States came out for Thant's re-election months ago. Gromyko, talking with a reporter last night, declined to express an opinion about Thant.

That was after Gromyko, speaking in the assembly's general debate, said the United Nations would deal more effectively with the tasks it is faced with "if the three existing main groups of states—the Socialist countries, members of the Western bloc, and the neutralist countries—were represented in its leading bodies."

Delegates noted that this was only a vague approximation of the troika idea, that the secretary-generalship was not referred to and that Gromyko gave the subject only one short paragraph out of a 10,000-word speech.

African, Asian and American sources have said that no matter how hard the Russians push the troika idea they can never get majority support for it.

Some have remarked that the Soviet Union is bound to agree to Thant's re-election because he has strong support in the Asian-African group, which comprises 53 of the 108 U.N. members.

The Egyptian government has denied having anything to do with Krug's disappearance.

Argentina May Have Elections

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Backed by triumphant army rebels, President Jose Maria Guido set out today to bind the nation's wounds with a hint of amnesty for all and a promise of free elections.

Guido went on the radio last night hours after the last resistance crumbled in north Argentina, ending five days of armed forces conflict that shook the country.

Guido was thrust into the presidency last March by the military high command that took a beating from rebel forces led by Brig. Gen. Juan Carlos Ongania.

Organia accused the high command of making Guido a virtual prisoner with the aim of leading Argentina into military dictatorship. He and his backers said they wanted to free Guido.

Guido switched to the rebel side in the midst of the conflict. While he told the nation he alone would exercise the powers of chief executive, he laid down a policy advocated by the rebels.

"There will be elections of new authorities within the briefest possible time in free pools," Guido declared. "This is the firm purpose of the government."

VOTING IS NOT ENOUGH

If every Republican in California supported his political philosophy only with his vote, there would be no Republican Party, no Republican candidates, and no victory for better government. Since Democrat registrations in California exceed Republican registrations by more than a million, it is absolutely essential to carry the full Republican story to both Republican and Democrat voters if Republican candidates are to be elected. Telling this Republican story is a full time and costly job!

ALKYLBENZENESULFONATE TO YOU!— The word may be a jawbreaker, but it's no mystery to John C. Burke, 15-year-old Redwood High School junior, who will show a study of the effects of alkylbenzenesulfonate on the algae chlorella during the "Science in Action" show on TV tonight.

ALGAE STUDY

Larkspur Boy On TV In Science Action Show

He is John G. Burke, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Burke of 25 Monte Vista, Larkspur.

Arrangements for the boy's TV appearance were made by Arthur W. Relfe, newly appointed manager of the bank's San Anselmo office.

"Science in Action," now in its 13th year, is viewed each Monday on KRON-TV (channel 4) from 7 to 7:30 p.m.

A brilliant student deeply interested in science, John recently completed a nine-week National Science Foundation student research scholarship at University of California. He was also recipient of a regional award from the Future Scientists of America Foundation.

During his appearance on "Science in Action," the Redwood High honor student will show a study of the effects of alkylbenzenesulfonate on the algae chlorella.

Painting Found

LONDON (UPI) — A missing $14,000 Renoir painting was turned in to police yesterday by two bus drivers who said they found it in the street and at first kicked it into the gutter as rubbish.

The painting, a landscape, was lost Sept. 16 when it apparently fell from the trunk of a car.

Peace Corpsman Going To Africa

By THERON A. NEWELL

Novato's first member of the Peace Corps left yesterday to begin final training before he starts his duties in Africa.

Jeffry Mareck, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest F. Mareck of 100 Chamberlain Lane, visited his parents last week on a furlough from Peace Corps training. He had just finished a nine-week intensive training course at the University of Maine, to equip him for his job in Sierra Leone, a newly independent former British colony on Africa's West Coast, adjoining Liberia.

Mareck was graduated from Novato High School in 1960, attended Santa Rosa Junior College, and last summer worked in the Lower Yukon River country of Alaska with the U.S. Geological Survey.

A class of 60 began the training for the assignment to Sierra Leone, Jeff said. Of these only 21 were left at the end of the course.

At the university, their days began at 5:30 in the morning when they took a three-mile run. After that they did 45 minutes of calisthenics. Then they studied from 8 a.m. until 9 p.m., with time out for meals.

Themne, the native language of Sierra Leone, was entirely a spoken language until this summer, young Mareck said. Selsier Conteh Morgan, a native of Sierra Leone, worked with a group at the University of Maine headed by Dr. David Crabb, to reduce Themne to writing in the Roman alphabet.

Jeff said he thought it would be quite a thrill to take the written language to his own country for the first time.

The country was settled to a large degree by ex-slaves from Jamaica and Nova Scotia, similar to settlement of Liberia by freed slaves from the United States, he said.

Freetown is the capital, but Mareck will be stationed in Makeni, a town in the interior.

Young Mareck, who was born in San Francisco, has lived in Novato for eight years. At Novato High School, he was a discus thrower and shot putter on the track and field team.

The hobby of "rock hounding" led him to join the geological survey team in Alaska last summer.

He plans on carrying on his geological investigations in Sierra Leone. After his two years in the Peace Corps, he plans to resume his studies to become a geologist.

"Sierra Leone is completely unexplored geologically," he said.

The Peace Corps team to Sierra Leone is divided into four sections. Jeff will work in local water supplies. Their job will be to drill wells with a portable rig in native villages in the middle of the country.

Other groups will work in school construction, road and bridge building, outboard motor repairing and maintenance, and teaching the natives how to run their own cooperatives.

Mareck will spend two weeks in Puerto Rico to become acclimated to a moist tropical climate before leaving for Sierra Leone. He has had all 22 of the required shots before going into the tropics, he said.

"If I had known it required all that, I might not have signed up," he said jokingly.

Television, Film Camera Stolen

A burglar ransacked a home in the Almonte area outside Mill Valley Thursday, carting off a portable television set, a movie camera, and an electric razor.

Fred Clarence Bisho of 235 Princeton Avenue told investigators he arrived home about 6 p.m. and discovered the break-in. The thief had broken the kitchen door.

Bisho estimated the loss at $270. The prowler left his home in such confusion that Bisho could not determine whether other smaller items are missing.

Deputy Clerk Wins Award For Knitting

Phyllis Hellwig of 18 Bayview Avenue, Mill Valley, who does a good job as deputy clerk in Marin Municipal Court, is also a skilled knitter.

Yesterday, she received an "honorable mention" ribbon for a Scandinavian knit sweater which she had entered in the home economics division at the California State Fair. The red and white "ski-type" sweater was on display in Sacramento until the fair closed Sept. 9, the next day.

Chrysler Prices

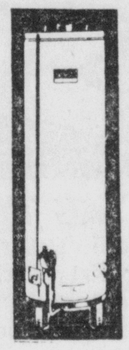

DETROIT (UPI) — Chrysler Corp., making the industry's first announcement on 1963 car prices, said today it will cut some Chrysler models by as much as $134.

But other Chrysler and Imperial models will cost as much as $128 more because previously optional equipment like power windows and bucket seats have been made standard for 1963.

Sausalito Police Have Nine Heroes

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Sausalito's nine police reserve officers come from as far as San Rafael on the north and Daly City on the south.

Five change khaki uniforms of the day for blue uniforms and badges at night. They are soldiers.

Of the other four, two work for the federal government, one for Marin County, and one is a banker.

All have one thing in common: They like working in law enforcement.

Sausalito Police Chief Howard Goerndt sums them up succinctly: "They're a Godsend," he says.

The nine "unsung heroes" are required to work an average of eight hours every two weeks but have been putting in many more hours than that, the chief said.

They work mostly during evenings on the four to 12 shift. Requirements are the same as for regular patrolmen, Goerndt added. The men are given on-the-job training by Goerndt, training officer Tom Zink, and the senior officer on duty.

"They spend 70 per cent of their time patrolling the hill areas," Goerndt continued. They carry guns, are provided with jackets, trousers and hats, are loaned hat pieces and badges and must buy their own "leather." Leather consists of handcuffs and holster, gun and holster.

If reserve officers are called to work by the chief, they are paid $2.50 an hour. If they are serving regular required hours, they are unpaid.

"We are always accepting applicants," Goerndt added.

Of the soldiers, three plan to enter law enforcement work on discharge from the Army. One civilian, a contractor, has like plans.

Sp/4 Jerry Sass of Fort Barry said, "I took criminology in college and want to follow through in some line of law enforcement after release from the army."

Married, Sass lives in San Francisco. He says "the City of Sausalito is small but it has a lot of different situations that arise that are interesting."

From Fort Cronkhite are Sp/4 Leslie Floyd and Sp/4 Harry E. Palmer. "It's the most interesting work I have ever done," said Palmer of police work. He is from Tacoma, Wash., and plans to stay in California. Palmer works about eight hours a week, he said, mostly on the graveyard shift—midnight to 8 a.m.

Two other soldiers, who asked that their names not be used are from San Francisco Presidio and Fort Scott.

The former, a specialist 4, lives in Daly City and has done military police work almost five years in the Army. He said he worked in MP work two years in Germany, "doing everything — from foot patrol to gate guard to 'prison chaser.'" The last is the sending of prisoners on work detail. This soldier plans to take examinations for a police job in the Bay Area when he completes his Army duty.

The Fort Scott soldier said he has done MP duty and is developing background experience in civil police work in the event when he gets out of the service he is able to go into law enforcement.

One civilian, a father of three, has worked three years on the Sausalito force as reserve. Two civilians work in San Francisco, Donald C. Hirsch of Sausalito with the federal government and Dave Gurnesky, who is a banker.

San Rafael contractor Leon Eddings says he will take a drop in income if he eventaully goes into police work fulltime. He has been a reserve in Sausauito one year and once worked as a junior deputy sheriff in Lagunitas in a patrol set up by former Sheriff Walter Selmer.

"Sausalito has one of the finest groups of fellows in the whole country to work with," said the husky Eddings, " and the work is never dull."

WATER SHORTAGE TOLD IN REPORT

The most critical water shortage in its history and the addition of the biggest outside source of water were the highlights of the past fiscal year of the North Marin County Water District.

The report reviews the district's activities for the 12-month period ending June 30, 1962.

During the year, the district had to impose water rationing when Stafford Lake was reduced to 400 acre feet, which is only 10 per cent of its capacity. Water was rationed between Aug. 15 and Sept. 15, 1961.

Then on Dec. 15, the 30-inch pipe line connecting the Russian River aqueduct was put into operation. Total cost of the 10-mile line was $1,105,207. It was designed and engineered by the staff of the district.

The extreme water shortage was alleviated somewhat by the purchase of water from the Marin Municipal Water District in the spring of 1961. The North Marin District also constructed a diversion system to divert the flow from Boyman Canyon westward into Stafford Lake.

The peak day of use was one day last June when 4.7 million gallons of water were used. The district had to draw two million galions from the Russian River source to supplement the local system.

To meet such demand in future, the district installed an automatic control system which reports storage levels from the Lynwood and Loma Verde tanks and will be connected with the Sunset and Trumbull tanks when they are completed.

The North Marin didstrict started its own licensed laboratory during the year to do its own bacteriological analyses. Prior to this year, the Marin Municipal district had done the tests as a courtesy.

A four-acre site was bought from Frank Pinheiro to be used as a corporation yard for the district. This is adjacent to the district office on Vallejo Avenue.

The district also joined with the City of Novato, Novato Sanitary District and County of Marin to make an aerial survey of the area.

Kwajelein Has Marin Colony

A small contingent of Marinites is colonizing Kwajelein in the Marshall Islands.

One of the pioneers in the movement is H. Edward McKinney, former operator of a San Rafael employment agency, who edits a small daily newspaper for island inhabitants.

Assistant resident engineer at the base is Marvin Brigham of San Rafael, who with his family is the most recent arrival from Marin County.

C. S. Shields, retired from the Air Force and previously stationed at Hamilton Air Force Base, is superintendent of the aviation department and assistant resident manager in charge of operations. His home is in Lucas Valley.

Supervisor of the construction department on Kwajelein is L. S. Hutchinson, a San Rafael resident for several years and an independent contractor. His wife is employed as a secretary on the island base.

"All take turns reading my copies of the Independent-Journal when I am through with them," writes McKinney. "The I-J is received about three weeks late but we all agree that what you haven't read or heard is still news.

"As editor of the island's daily newspaper, with limited wire coverage, I manage to keep them informed as to what's going on in the world generally, but we all look forward to the I-J and its coverage of Marin County news."

EDITS ISLAND PAPER—H. Edward McKinney, a San Rafael resident for 20 years, works at his desk as editor of the Daily Hourglass, published for residents of Kwajelein, Marshall Islands, in the mid-Pacific. McKinney, known for his work with an employment agency in San Rafael and activities with the SPEBSQSA chapter in Marin County, has been on Kwajelein since June 1.

Savings, Loan Application Announced

An application for a charter for a new federal savings and loan association in Marin County was announced today by Harold S. Elberg of Sleepy Hollow, former owner of Bilmar Plastics, San Rafael.

Elberg said that others joined with him in seeking the charter are Mrs. Elizabeth Rudel Smith Gatov (former treasurer of the United States), Edward J. Grady, Dr. Jack L. Gazzola, Charles W. Rosenbaum, Jackson A. Bennett, Jack A. Cooper, Mozart Kaufman, and William H. McDevitt all of Marin County.

A federal savings and loan association, he said, is owned by the depositors rather than by stockholders or financial holding companies. He said Marin County now has no federally chartered association whose board of directors and executives are local residents. It was for this reason, he said, the group made application to the Federal Home Loan Bank Board.

Elberg said the proposed name of the new association is the San Rafael Federal Savings and Loan Assn. It is planned to be located in downtown San Rafael.

Jackie Quits Concert To Avoid Big Storm

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy pulled a disappearing act last night at the opening of Lincoln Center's new Philharmonic Hall, an historic occasion marked by suitably bombastic music, free-flowing champagne and no little mystery about the first lady's whereabouts.

The glamorous first lady, who made a flying trip from Newport for the big cultural event, created a wave of excitement among the audience of 2,532 government bigwigs, industrial tycoons, showbusiness celebrities and socialites when she arrived for the New York Philharmonic's first concert in its new $15.4 million home.

They gave her a standing ovation as she entered the presidential box, a vision of elegance in an evening gown of pink satin topped with a jet-embroidered black velvet bolero.

But when her towering Gibson Girl hairdo, in a flattering new auburn shade, could not be sighted through hundreds of uplifted opera glasses following the nationally televised concert's intermission, the audience buzzed with speculation. Had the first lady let the nation's most ambitious cultural project down? Had she disliked a specially commissioned work by American composer Aaron as much as one patron who shouted:

"Stop that --- ---- noise?"

Only a few of Lincoln Center's inner circle who were in the Philharmonic Hall's green room when Mrs. Kennedy visited conductor Leonard Bernstein at the half knew the reason for the first lady's quiet disappearance. She had been informed that weather at Newport was worsening and that she would have to fly back immediately in order to be there tomorrow to play hostess to visiting Pakistani President Mohammed Ayub Khan.

Pane Smashed At Juanita's

Vandals threw a rock through a window at Juanita's Galley at Waldo Point and shouted threats at the proprietor, Juanita Musson, shortly before midnight Friday, she complained to sheriff's deputies.

Miss Musson told Deputy Herrick Morgan that a group of Negroes in a car swore at her and shouted, "Come out and we'll take care of you." She said she did not pay too much attention to them until a rock came flying through a three-by-six window about 11:45 p.m.

She ran out but could not identify the attackers because of the dark. Miss Musson said the men in the car also threatened to burn her place down.

Milk Price Upped Half-Cent A Quart

Marinites who have their milk home-delivered won't notice the difference until they get their bills on Oct. 1, but the price went up a half-cent a quart yesterday.

Store price is now 25 cents per quart, and home-delivered milk, 25½ cents. Half-cent increases were authorized by the California Bureau of Milk Control in 12 Central California counties.

'Chutes Mystery In San Geronimo

Parachutes were reported entangled among trees in San Geronimo this morning, but the source remained a mystery.

Sheriff's deputies said that a Raymond Bellah, who identified himself as a member of the Western Sport Parachute Jumpers Assn., called yesterday at 7:30 a.m. to report he would be jumping in the Black Point area.

But a man jumping in the Black Point area could not have missed his target by that much, deputies said. Black Point is some 12 miles away from San Geronimo.

Zone Plea On 37 Acres Due Planners

A request to rezone 37 acres west of highway 101, east of South Novato Boulevard and South of Sunset Parkway from limited agricultural to multiple residential will go before the Novato planning commission at 8 o'clock tonight in the community building.

The same request was made last year by Sutter Development Co., but withdrawn after protests by Lynwood Park residents. The same firm has filed the new application.

Other zone changes to come before the planning commission include a request by Harry Johnson to change from single family to multiple family three and one-half acres on Madrone Avenue in the Essner Park subdivision.

Architectural supervision has been asked for an addition to the Novato Community Methodist Church and for an 18-unit apartment house at Hill Avenue and Diablo Avenue, requested by Jack Caristi.

Parolee Given 5 Years To Life For Robbery

Paroled convict Anthony Dennis O'Gorman, 28, of Forest Knolls, who robbed the Eat and Run Restaurant in Kentfield at gunpoint last month, must serve five years to life in prison.

O'Gorman pleaded guilty before Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court and admitted he was carrying a loaded gun at the time he held up two employees of the restaurant on the morning of Aug. 11. The judge sentenced O'Gorman to prison for first degree robbery, which carries a term of five years to life.

Elmer Clayton White and Dennis Russell White, no relation, were closing up the restaurant about 12:45 a.m. when O'Gorman forced thim back into the restaurant at gunpoint and robbed them of $7.50.

From a description of the getaway car, Fairfax police stopped O'Gorman on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard a few minutes after the stickup.

Transistor Imports

NEW YORK (UPI) — A move by U. S. transistor makers to lower prices on some transistor radios has been followed by a decline in imports of Japanese transistor sets. A company which imports Japanese sets, said sales are down 10 per cent from last year.

Freshman Class Offices Go To Girls

For vice president, Karen Goldberg, although she entered the race late, beat out two boy candidates, Dave Deal and Robert McLennan.

Tish Gallivan had no opposition for treasurer.

Jackie Hartman was elected commissioner of social affairs in an all-girl contest.

Marilyn Corona and Dolly Ringo were in a run-off for yell leader from a four-candidate field in which the only boy was among the two losers.

Elected to the student congress were Fred Buehler, Margie Costello, Sharon Dixon, Cindy Hunt, Barbara Leamish, Christine Owen, and Sandy Wechsler.

Student body president Gene Maiolini said he was not permitted to disclose the vote tallies nor the order in which the candidates finished.

Driver Charged With Leaving An Accident

A Tiburon man was charged today with leaving the scene of an injury accident and sheriff's deputies were looking for a man who deliberately knocked a Kentfield girl off her bicycle.

Booked by the California Highway Patrol in San Francisco was Robert Burton, 64, of Apt. 102, Hilarita Housing, Tiburon, accused of a felony for allegedly leaving the scene after hitting a stalled car on Golden Gate Bridge.

Patrolman W. P. Gregg arrested Burton at the Pig Haven at Richardson Bay on the strength of a car description given by witnesses.

Officers said that Joan Garten Smith, 32, of San Francisco lost control of her southbound car near the south tower of the bridge about 1:40 a.m. today, hit the right-hand curb and careened across the divider, stopping crosswise of two lanes.

Passersby Gail Binkley of Santa Rosa and Thomas Linebaugh, a sailor from the USS Hancock, told officers they stopped to help the woman and saw a northbound car slam into the victim's stalled auto, knocking it out of the way. The other driver sped away.

Miss Smith was taken to Mission Emergency Hospital in San Francisco for treatment of severe facial injuries.

The woman was cited for failing to drive on the right-hand side of the roadway.

Sheriff's deputies are looking for a man who reportedly knocked 12-year-old Madeline Hales of 10 Broadway, Kentfield, off her bicycle Friday while she was riding west on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Terrace Avenue.

According to the girl's father, who reported the incident, a man who was a passenger in a 1959 model station wagon reached out, grabbed the girl's arm and threw her off the bicycle as the vehicle passed by. She suffered only minor injuries and scratches.

Deputy Wade R. Powell said the license number of the car was traced to a dealer in Linden, Wash.

Men's Clothing Reported Stolen

A thief, possibly armed with a .32 caliber pistol, broke into a parked car outside Juanita's Galley this morning and stole about $720 worth of men's clothing.

Jerry Edward Calvillo, who was in the process of moving from his San Francisco home to 6017 Redwood Highway at Ignacio, told officer he stopped in for a bite at Juanita's Galley north of Sausalito about 5 o'clock this morning. When he returned to his car, he noticed a 1955 cream colored car speed away.

He noticed the right window of his car had been smashed, and about 30 items of clothing missing. Sheriff's Deputies Ray Tschirgi and Joseph Kelly said the thief left a loaded clip for a .32 caliber pistol lying on the front seat of Calvillo's car.

Bank Of America In Corte Madera Due Town Planners

Plans for a branch of the Bank of America in Corte Madera will go before the town planning commission when it meets at 7:30 p.m. today in the town hall.

The bank plans will be submitted developer Fred R. Sanford, whose proposed $500,000 business complex between Tamalpais and Meadowsweet drives includes an office building and possibly the new postoffice.

The commission will review plans for 22 apartments proposed by developer Maurice Miller on Deer Run Road in the Meadowsweet District owned by Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Beatty.

Plans by Robert C. Burns for a medical-dental building at 5643 Paradise Drive and revision of the town general plan will be discussed.

LINEUP FOR POLIO—Long lines stretch from K.O. Polio Clinic at San Rafael High School as it opens for first of three K.O. Polio Sundays. The San Rafael High clinic gave 11,687 doses—most of any of the 20 clinics in Marin's record-breaking attack on polio virus. The long line shortened rapidly as the throng, most of whom had filled out registration forms in advance, moved through clinic receiving their sugar cubes of Sabin vaccine. As at four other schools, crowd here so exceeded expectations that additional vaccine supplies had to be sent during day from county center at Marin General Hospital.

PAPA HAD HIS HANDS FULL — Mrs. William L. Hildeburn of Kentfield pops Sabin polio vaccine sugar cube into mouth of her husband at Redwood High School K. O. Polio clinic as he holds son Charles, 6 months. Interested watchers — who also took their first doses of the oral vaccine—are sons Will, 5 and John, 2.

Marin Turns Out For Oral Vaccine

able assistance of Boy Scouts in directing parking.

There was a holiday spirit to the throngs. As the lines moved along, people chatted and joked—and guessed as to how big the turnout would be. (Nobody, apparently, guessed as high as 84.5 per cent.)

"Why shouldn't we be happy?" quipped a man in the lineup at San Rafael's Davidson School. "We're all going to get sugar."

Another recalled the sugar rationing days of World War II and said, grinning, "the lines were never like this."

Five of the 20 schools — San Rafael, Terra Linda and Tamalpais Highs, Lagunitas and Novato's Lynwood—ran short of supplies as the turnout far exceeded predictions which had been based on study of the 1960 census tracts. Red Cross vehicles rushed additional supplies from K.O. Polio Center at Marin General Hospital.

The National Guard had made initial distribution at 9 a.m. of supplies of the vaccine—kept frozen at 15 degrees below zero — sugar cubes, signs, registration forms, and dozens of other items necessary for each K.O. Polio center.

So smoothly did the operation go that volunteers at two schools—Lagunitas and Fairfax's Manor—called K.O. Polio headquarters to ask, "Send us more customers; we're not keeping busy." Yet 2,251 appeared during the day at Lagunitas, and 5,981 at Manor.

Only major difficulty developed in traffic and parking direction at Terra Linda High School, which is reached by a dead-end street. San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa said a different parking plan would be worked out for the second K.O. Polio Day on Nov. 4.

Dr. Shatkin said today it has not been decided definitely whether to give Type 3 or Type 2 vaccine on the second day. If Type 2 is given, the third K.O. Polio Day—scheduled for Dec. 9—may be moved later because the Type 2 takes longer to develop immunity in the body, he said.

SAN RAFAEL — San Rafael High School, 11,912; Davidson School, 7,091.

FAIRFAX — Manor School, 5,981.

GREENBRAE — Greenbrae School, 5,692.

Electioneering Nipped In Bud

Electioneering got mixed into the K.O. Polio campaign in Novato yesterday.

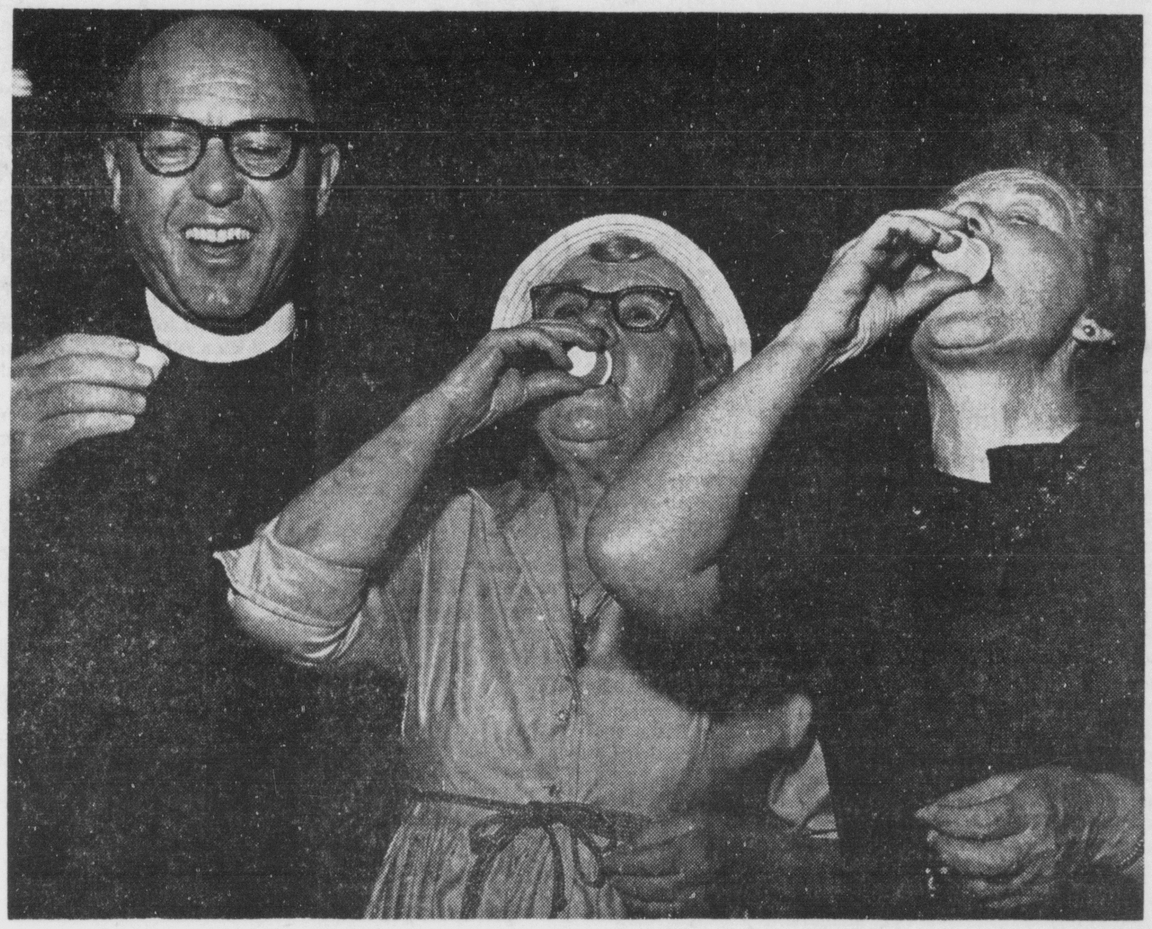

James Rose complained to Supt. James Bunker of Novato Unified School District that campaign lilterature for Max Rafferty for state superintendent of public instruction was being passed out to the crowd at Novato High School waiting to take Sabin polio vaccine.

After checking with County Counsel E. Warren McGuire on legality of such activity on school property, Bunker had Robert McKeay, high school principal, order the literature distributors off the premises.

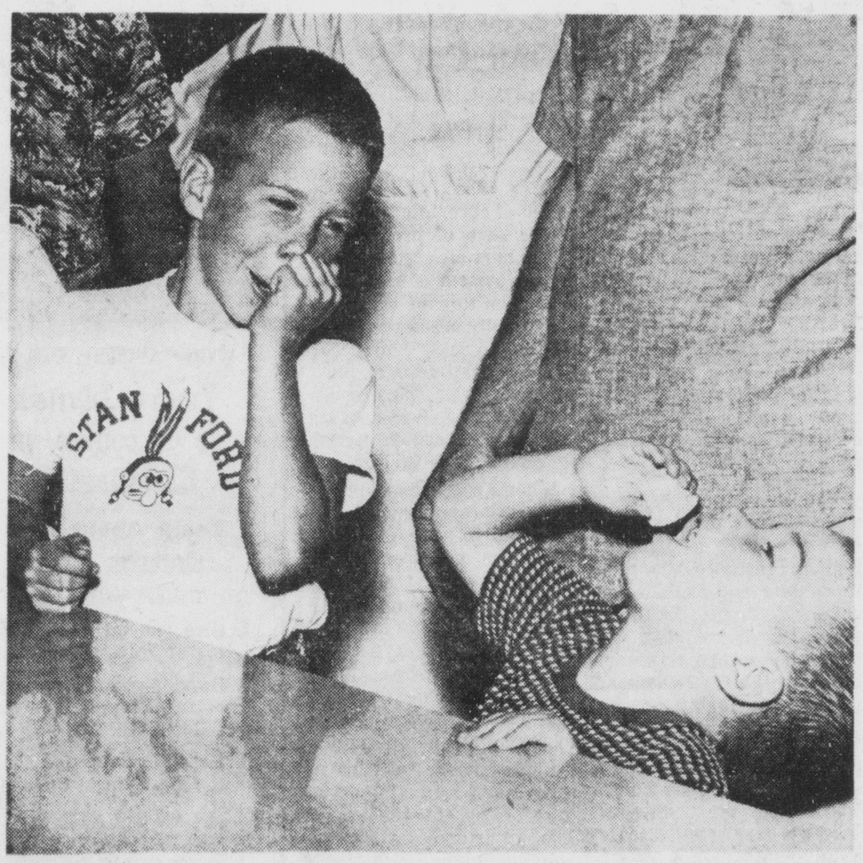

Similar literature was passed out at the sidewalk in front of Marion School in Novato—off the school property.

Berlin Still Shows The Scars Of War

By SAMUEL W. GARDINER
Special to the I-J

BERLIN (Thursday) — If you can keep from crying as you view Berlin, you are a brave person.

The ruins of World War II have been partially removed, but there are plenty of them here yet. At one point, 3,000 Allied bombers attacked within one and one-half hours and decimated it; 40,000 people were killed.

The Marin Executive Delegation to the USSR toured both West and East Berlin today. There are ruins in both — and much rebuilding in both.

West Berlin is now building about 23,000 apartments per year, all privately financed. They claim to have West Berlin 80 per cent rebuilt, but there is a lot of destruction yet apparent.

I must add that immense strides have also been made in East Berlin. On both sides, apartment house construction seems to have been the chief source of pride. On the West, we have data; on the East, we looked but have little actual data.

The Wall and East Berlin made a deep impression on all of us. We had been well indoctrinated by our State Department to remember that on the other side of the Iron Curtain we are guests and should conduct ourselves as we would expect our own guests to act. I will therefore only say that going to East Berlin has been a memorable experience.

One reason for the wall may have been that comparisons between East and West were too easy. Probably the main reason for it was, however, that three million people defected from East to West before it was built and the number was increasing rapidly up to August, 1961, when the border was closed.

This trip is proving to be positively fantastic. Upon arrival at Tempelhof Airport, Mayor John F. McInnis of San Rafael was met by a special car and representative of Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin. The rest of us took the airport bus into town where we all met at the Hotel Bristol Kempinski.

With little time to turn around, we left again for the city hall and a personal conference with Mayor Brandt and Dr. Thiessen, senator for economics. Aside from seating us at a specially prepared round table for coffee and pastry, we were briefed on Berlin affairs at some length.

Mayor Brandt speaks English and is an intriguing person. Everyone here assumed that he will succeed Konrad Adenauer as the leading figure in West Germany.

West Berlin is clearly a thriving, prosperous reconstructed metropolis of 2.2 million people. Brandt expressed its indebtedness to the United States for Marshall Plan aid and military support. However the facts and figures show achievements which outdo the whole of the 16 million people of the East Germany Communist regime — and Berliners are proud of that.

235th Known Suicide Off Gate Reported

What was termed the 235th known suicide from the Golden Gate Bridge was reported Saturday when a man identified by police as Glenn Wilson McCurdy, 36, of Petaluma, plunged from the middle of the span.

A half dozen witnesses saw the man halt his car in the southbound lane and go over the west rail, said California Highway Patrolman Wallace Erskine. Seven minutes later a Coast Guard cutter found the body "dead center" under the bridge. No note was found.

Freshmen Elect Douglas Manuel

the darkness of another night could snuff out their lives.

In the other efforts were being pushed to get medical attention to those already picked up, many of whom were injured and suffering from shock and exposure.

The 7,004-ton Cunard freighter Andania radioed that she had sighted a raft from the ditched airliner with people aboard.

The 9,041-ton Swiss ship Celerina took 48 survivors aboard after being directed to the scene by Lt. Joseph K. Lewis, 25, of Tuscaloosa, Ala., the pilot of a U. S. Air Force C-118.

Lewis arrived at the scene just as the Super Constellation was ditching, made an accurate fix and circled the area.

The British Admiralty said many of the survivors were injured and neither of the first two ships to reach the scene had a doctor aboard.

At 10 a.m., the Air Force reported the weather in the area closing in rapidly with visibility extremely poor and gales whipping up huge waves.

The 34,000-ton Cunard liner Mauratania, with a luxuriously equipped hospital and full medical staff, switched its course and sped to the rescue.

Another speaker, Mrs. Juanita Cobb, Sausalito School Board president, said she didn't mind the poles at all and wished they were building on her lot so that she might move in by Christmas.

The homes were designed by Vernon de Mars, of the firm of De Mars and Reay. He is head of the department of architecture at University of California and was formerly chief of design standards for the National Housing Agency.

The reception honoring Judith Mazor, a finalist in the Miss Universe contest this summer, will be held at 8 p.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Flax, 10 Lagunitas Road, Ross.

Miss Mazor is touring the United States promoting the sale of State of Israel bonds. The reception is being sponsored by the Marin Women's Division of the State of Israel Bonds.

Miss Mazor, who speaks four languages and is planning to learn Greek, has said that she will start infantry training Dec. 1 as a sacrifice for her country.

Atmosphere Linked To Cancer Of Lungs

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI)—A scientific team led by an authority on environmental cancer believes every community has its own atmospheric potential for causing lung cancer and it's high time these individual potentials were being minutely investigated.

Dr. W. C. Heuper, chief of the environmental cancer section of the National Cancer Institute, and his five associates, investigated only four potentials from the atmospheres of eight American cities and found all of them capable of causing cancer—in mice.

The four potentials were aromatic and aliphatic hydrocarbons which the exhausts of motor vehicles and industrial plants put into the atmosphere. The eight cities were Atlanta, Ga., Birmingham, Ala., Cincinnati, O., Detroit, Los Angeles, New Orleans,, San Francisco and Philadelphia.

Particles of these four chemical fractions were dissolved and injected into mice and invariably gave rise to cancers at the sites of injection. Because mice are not people and because injection site cancers are not lung cancer, the scientists made no direct comparisons among cities.

But their evidence indicated each city had a different potential which involved much more than four chemical fractions in pure form. Also involved were the effects of varying climates and amounts of sunshine on these and other ingredients of atmospheric pollution.

"The present studies represent merely a first and preliminary step in a prolonged and comprehensive program dealing with relationships between air pollutants and heard hazards, including cancers," they said in reporting to a technical organ of the American Medical Assn.

But it was clear to them that "every community has at atmospheric carcinogenic (cancer-causing) spectrum which depends upon local conditions but also climate, solarization and geologic conditions."

They were critical of the scientific evidence which has assigned cigarette-smoking a principal role in the increasing rate of lung cancer. However, they thought the evidence "justifies the conclusion that cigarette-smoking has contributed to or aggravated the action of other carcinogenic respiratory pollutants by producing especially functional disturbances of the bronchial muscosa.

"It would be most unwise, on the other hand, if through an exaggerated emphasis placed on the significance of cigarette-smoking, the study of general and local industry-related air pollutants would be impaired or neglected.

"The available evidence rather definitely assigns to these factors an important role as human respiratory carcinogens. The obvious and proven lung cancer hazards related to these agents deserve serious attention especially since they can be controlled by proper sanitary and technologic measures."

Frightening Asthma Attacks End In Minutes As New Formula Unblocks Lung Passages Fast

New Medical Formula Restores Free Breathing Without Vaccines, Shots Or Narcotics. Calms Anxiety. No Prescription Needed.

New York, N.Y. (Special) —A team of scientists has announced a new formula that stops frightening asthma attacks in minutes and unblocks lung passages fast.

Medical tests prove this formula promptly restores free breathing, so calms anxiety and relieves the worst symptoms of asthma—the straining for breath, the gasping, the wheezing, the terrible fear of suffocation. All without vaccines, painful shots or habit-forming drugs. This formula is so safe when used as directed, it can be sold without prescription in tiny tablets called BRONITIN®.

Doctors know that when asthma strikes, breathing tubes become swollen, lung passages become blocked, so air is "trapped" inside lungs and less and less oxygen can enter. Now BRONITIN, with two asthma relieving medicines that doctors prescribe for their patients, acts quickly to open bronchial tubes and loosen the mucus that blocks lung passages. Trapped air is released and new vital oxygen enters the lungs.

The result is: free breathing is restored, tension eased and so fears are calmed in minutes. Sufferers can now look forward to restful sleep.

Get BRONITIN—available at all drug stores without prescription.

Check Your Spine As Well As Your Car

by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

The wise motorist will have his car checked and repaired as soon as any of the important parts begin to show signs of wear and tear. Most car owners know that continued driving of an automobile with a faulty carburetor or distributor will cause damage and inefficiency in other parts of the vehicle.

The same thing happens when disease overtakes us. If we neglect a digestive fault for instance, the intestines, liver, gall bladder, circulatory system, the heart and other organs soon will begin to lose their efficiency because of the extra demand placed upon them.

But because of the body's amazing system of defenses, some time may pass before we notice the symptoms which indicate disease. Symptomatic pain is a warning signal that something is wrong and requires attention.

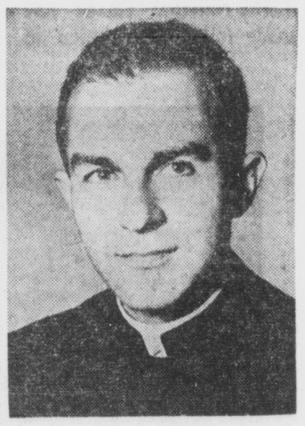

Most of us agree with the old saying that an "ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." But how can we be sure of prevention?

The nervous system is the master system of the body. When the flow of nerve energy to any organ or part is blocked, disease will occur in that organ or part. Such interference in the nervous system nearly always occurs in the spine, which carries the main nerve cables.

When a spinal bone or vertebra is pushed out of line by a fall or an accident, it will press, pinch or stretch one or more of the nerves inside or just outside the spine. As a result, the organs effected will not get their proper nerve supply and may become diseased. The obvious answer then is to repair the nerve supply.

Chiropractors specialize in finding and correcting nerve interference in the spine. The adjustments they are able to make with their trained hands are painless and effective.

Dr. R. W. Pearce, D.C., practices the Palmer Method. His office is at 1628 Fifth Ave., San Rafael, GL 3-6201 (Adv.)

District Protest Due Supervisors

First protest about recommended supervisorial redistricting in Marin County will be put before county supervisors after 9 a.m. tomorrow in the form of a letter from the Stinson Beach Progressive Club.

A special meeting of the club "strongly opposed" the advisory committee's proposal to remove Stinson Beach and Bolinas from Supervisor Peter Behr's District 3 and place them in Supervisor George Ludy's District 4, according to the communication.

Instead of accepting the view that these two communities logically belong to the general coastal area, the meeting felt that "topographically (they) resemble Southern Marin in the predominance of mountains, coastal shoreline and scarcity of tillable farm lands."

The letter says that Stinson Beach is only nine miles from Mill Valley, not describing the roads, but noting that it's "even less by air."

A final point is that there is community with interest on resort and commuting factors, also being within Tamalpais High School District.

The letter suggests that the advisory committee have another hard thought about all this, and let well enough alone.

Recount by the assessor's office will put up to the board a finding that only 22.66 per cent of qualified signers of Terra Linda-Marinwood petitions for "Santa Margarita" incorporation had signed petitions, though representing 26.43 per cent of the land value. County counsel has found 25 per cent needed in both categories.

Afternoon business taken up from 1:30 p.m. will include proposed courthouse remodeling, several items concerning the imminent move to the civic center and a recommendation by public works director Donald R. Frost that the county recommend the suggested "J" line of freeway in the Novato area.

Twenty items from the county planning commission will be dealt with.

Bomber Worries Vatican

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Worried Vatican authorities closed the great central doors of St. Peter's today to shield the mother church of Roman Catholicism against an unknown bomber.

Vatican gendarmes stood reinforced guard as Italian police and explosive experts sought clues to the origin of two incendiary bombs found in the church Saturday night. Had they exploded, the devices could have ruined the church and destroyed its art treasures.

A high Vatican source said there was little doubt the intended bombing was directed against the Ecumenical, or World-wide, Council opening in the basilica Oct. 11.

The usual throngs of visitors were admitted today through a smaller door, under close scrutiny of Italian plainclothes police.

The security moves were described as the tightest in Vatican history.

The time bombs were found at the base of the tiers of upholstered wooden seats installed for the 3,000 prelates who will attend the council.

EXECUTIONS DUE REPORT ON VIDEO

Two Marinites, whose opposition to capital punishment springs from different backgrounds but in both cases from long service at San Quentin Prison, will appear soon on the "Huntley-Brinkley Report" on television.

Chet Huntley and a crew were at the Greenbrae home of former prison warden Clinton T. Duffy Saturday to make a filmed interview with Duffy based on his recent book, "88 Men and Two Women" — a story about the 90 executions at which he officiated at San Quentin.

Last Thursday, Huntley interviewed Rev. Byron Eshleman, prison chaplain, in New York. Eshleman's book, "Death Row Chaplain," followed Duffy's into print by only a few weeks.

The two interviews, said David Teitelbaum, "Huntley-Brinkley Report" writer, will be fused for a special program on capital punishment which likely will be telecast in mid-November. The program is seen in the Bay Area over station KRON-TV (channel 4).

Fire Brigade Asks Aid From Women

Muir Woods women will be asked to be prepared to assist the Nut Hill Volunteer Fire Brigade, said Chief Gerritt Orton at a meeting Friday of the Muir Woods Improvement Assn.

Orton outlined progress in the organization of the volunteer group. Women will be able to help the firemen, in the event of fire, by preparing food for the men.

The group also discussed plans for the Oct. 6-7 Mountain Fair.

The next meeting will be held Oct. 19.

Bankers' Battle Shapes Up

The fight could be touched off by an exhaustive report sent to the White House last week that calls for the first major overhaul of the nation's banking system since 1933.

The report prepared under the direction of comptroller of the currency James J. Saxon contains sweeping recommendations that would greatly expand the lending and branching powers of federally chartered banks.

The report supplied the chief topic of discussion for some 7,500 delegates at the second day of the four-day ABA convention in this resort city.

Commercial bankers tended to favor many of the recommendations contained in it, but state bankers were critical of some of its features which they feel would weaken their competitive position in relation to national banking institutions.

State banking officials took sharpest issue with the proposals that would grant national banks broader lending authority and permit them to establish branch offices in areas where this authority would supercede state laws.

Harry B. Freeman, president of the state bank division, said that such branching authority "without regard to state law is contrary to the state's rights concept inerent in our present free enterprise system.

CALIFORNIA CANDIDATES

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Republican Richard M. Nixon calls the governor's office, as run by his opponent, "the weakest link in our law-enforcement chain." Two officials backing Gov. Edmund G. Brown vigorously disagreed.

Nixon in a statewide radio broadcast last night said organized crime now has a firm foothold in California. He said California's crime rate is nearly double the national rate.

Dist. Atty. Tom Lynch of San Francisco, Brown's co-chairman, retorted that Nixon had used rigged figures on the growth of crime and has slapped the face of the state's peace officers.

And Walter Dunbar, state director of corrections appointed by Brown, said Nixon is obviously uninformed about the state's prisons.

Nixon said: "State, county and local officials have been handcuffed" by the Brown administration.

Lynch declared FBI statistics for the first half of this year show the crime rate nationally rose 3 per cent while it rose less than 1 per cent in Los Angeles. He said the figures for the state are not compiled but the trend in 1961 was for a smaller state increase than nationally.

"Nixon's proposals on narcotics are vague and two years late," Lynch said. "The narcotics control program which the governor sponsored in 1961 is nationally recognized as the best in this country."

big influence

Your first baby affects your whole pattern of living, makes you stand taller, look farther ahead. As your money takes on new importance, you can expect these 8 big changes.

1 You'll face new demands on your income. If you've never budgeted before, you may face a real need to do so now that your money must do more. A new baby means more money for food, for services. An evening out means baby sitting expenses added to the entertainment cost. You'll probably go out less often, make it a bigger evening when you do. If your increased expenses make it difficult to pay accumulated bills, you may need to see how you can consolidate them.

2 Your medical expenses will increase. While your youngster is growing up, your medical expenses will probably be greater than ever again until you are advanced in years. But medical plans, by and large, favor families with children and your insurance program can give you protection, too. Large medical bills can often be paid by a loan from your bank. Pay for all deductible medical expenses, including medicine, by check, for reliable income tax proof.

3 You'll need major appliances. A baby in the house can make a washer-dryer, a bigger refrigerator, a freezer, even a television set (for your escape) seem an urgent necessity. The down payments may be easy to manage—but before you pile up too many monthly payments, decide the total you can wisely afford to spend this way. Your bank manager can help you judge your safe credit limits.

4 Your housing needs may change. Is your present place big enough? Will taking baby for an airing be a major project? Can you rent a larger place at a price you can pay? Or would a house be a better answer? How much should you spend for one? How much will you need for a down payment? What will it cost for upkeep? Should you try to find a home that will provide all the major appliances and include them in the mortgage? Expert counsel saves costly mistakes.

5 You'll find it more difficult to save. When expenses are adding up, it's a temptation to slow down on your savings plan "until you catch up." But a family needs at least an emergency fund of available cash, and even a small amount saved systematically adds up surprisingly fast. Special savings funds for insurance payments or taxes help you budget ahead. Relatives and friends may give money to your new baby and a special savings account for these gifts can grow along with your child.

6 You will have more responsibility. A totally dependent wife and baby makes a father consider their care in case of his illness, and insurance assumes a new importance. But don't buy it piecemeal. Have your agent take a new look at your whole situation, including the social security and employee benefits available to you, and ask him to work out a plan that gives you the maximum protection you can afford. Be sure you alter social security and veteran's records to cover your new baby. And don't overlook the new need for a Will. If you haven't thought it necessary before, ask your lawyer now about this sensible protection for your family.

7 Vital records assume a new importance. That brand-new birth certificate is an important document, isn't it? Do you have a special place to keep it? What about your own? Your wife's? What about your social security and military service records? And where are you going to keep your Will? A desk drawer may be handy, but it's smarter to put all these important personal documents in a safe deposit box where they're protected from fire, theft and loss.

8 You should expect the unexpected. Take a look at where you're going, get ready for the changes that are coming, talk to the experts who can help — and you'll enjoy the responsibilities of parenthood more as the years go by.

South wins the first trick with the queen of hearts and leads out the ace of spades, not being a mind reader. He discovers the bad news, of course. How should he proceed?

At first glance it seems that South should cash the ace of diamonds, ruff a diamond, discard a diamond on the ace of clubs, and return a trump through East.

East puts up the jack of spades to force out the king. Now you cash the ace of hearts and ruff a heart with dummy's eight.

Too bad. East declines to over-ruff. Now South can get back only by using up a trump, after which he cannot draw trumps.

You can get to a similar position if you start by ruffing a low heart with dummy's eight of spades before touching the diamonds. East refuses to over-ruff.

Now you go down if you return a trump through East. The jack of spades forces out the king.

You cash the ace of diamonds, ruff a diamond, discard on the ace of clubs, but now you must use up a trump to get back. You cannot afford to waste this trump.

There's nothing hard about the right play, but you do have to follow the right sequence. After discovering the bad trump break, cash the ace of hearts and ruff a heart with dummy's eight. East refuses to over-ruff.

Get back to your hand with a diamond to the ace, reserving the trump play for later. Ruff a diamond in dummy, discard a diamond on the ace of clubs, and then lead dummy's last trump.

East puts up the jack to force out the king, but now you are in your own hand without wasting a trump. You can afford to lead the ten of spades to force out the queen. You still have the deuce of spades to ruff a club or diamond return.

Then you can draw East's last trump and cash the king of hearts.

Today is Monday, Sept. 24, the 167th day of 1962 with 98 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The morning star is Mars.

The evening stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1959, President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev met at Camp David for cold war talks that generated a friendly "spirit of Camp David" between the two leaders.

A thought for the day: Dwight D. Eisenhower said: "In the final choice a soldier's pack is not so heavy a burden as a prisoner's chains."

Every once in a while we like to call your attention to an unique organization, a nationwide organization which performs a service of self-regulation to a great industry.

We are speaking of the Audit Bureau of Circulation, better known as the ABC. Its purpose is to provide accurate information on how many copies of a newspaper, magazine or other publication are actually purchased; not printed, purchased.

This is a three-way arrangement between the publishers, the advertisers and you, the readers. It's purpose is to benefit all three.

Here's how:

Before ABC (and sometimes still, among publications which don't belong to ABC), claims of circulation were fantastic. Sometimes the number of papers printed were cited. Other times, numbers of papers circulated were claimed as the net paid circulation, although no proof was given as to how many of them were paid for.

How many paid readers a publication has is important to an advertiser because it has been clearly demonstrated that a reader is more interested in something he buys than in something given to him. He's interested enough to put out his money for it.

This is not possible, of course, in the radio industry or in the television industry, where they make fantastic claims of "readership," claims that no one can prove or disprove.

This is also not possible with other types of advertising, like billboards or streetcar posters, or even the junk mail you receive in your mailbox. There is no way to show advertisers what "readership" any of these advertising methods produce.

But ABC provides this for printed publications. With a careful auditing system, carried on independently but with publishers' cooperation, net paid circulation figures are available for advertisers to know just what they are buying.

And ABC is tremendously conservative, in fact lags well behind actual figures of a growing publication. For example:

The official ABC net paid circulation figure for the Independent-Journal right now is 28,702 papers. But that official figure was compiled as of Sept. 30, 1961. Since then, the publisher's sworn statement of March 31, 1962, is 30,158 papers and today's net paid will be something over 31,000 papers.

Nevertheless, until the ABC does its annual audit (we hope it will be soon) our ABC circulation remains at 28,702.

Now what does such exactness mean?

To the publisher, it means that his paper will be in fair competition with other publications and not involved in circulation flights of fantasy.

To the advertiser, it means a solid foundation on which to determine what space to buy, to compare rates and to compare results.

To the reader, reading an ABC newspaper means he is dealing with solid, straight-forward business people, that the advertisements in it are there because the advertiser knows what he is buying and wants to buy it. That gives a reader knowledge that as the advertiser can rely on what the publisher says, so can the reader rely on what both the publisher and the advertiser say.

Good business practices mean reliable businesses. The ABC is proof of good business practices. That is why ABC is good for all three, the publisher, the advertiser and the reader.

The Flower Of Constancy

The chrysanthemums has symobilized constancy for centuries in China. This flower's happy habit of blooming after most others have quit is responsible for the designation.

Marin's chrysanthemums are blooming now and will continue into deep November. Their warm colors will transform many drab, tail-end gardens into show places.

In Japan, where chrysanthemum culture is almost a national avocation, the flower is deep in the tradition of the people. It is used to represent the Imperial Family.

BECOME A WELL-INFORMED VOTER

Most voters have at least a passable knowledge of presidential candidates, as well as those in their own election district.

Where they fall short is in the wide middle group—the dozen or more offices between the top and bottom of the voting list.

One post-election poll, for example, revealed that less than a third of the voters in one state could name the Congressional candidate they had supported a short time before.

Another poll asked a cross-section of citizens if they could name the two men running for the Senate. Only 27 per cent could identify the man who had been representing them for the past six-year term, and only 7 per cent knew who his opponent was.

Laborious as it is to make a reasonably thorough investigation of candidates, there is no surer way to exercise your God-given freedom of choice in a responsible manner.

"Do not neglect the grace that is in you." (1 Timothy 4:14)

Let me show my appreciation for the blessings of freedom, O Lord, by living up to its obligations.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Fort Bragg Girl Had School Spirit

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

My wife and I attend many football games during the season and have noticed the blase attitude towards school spirit. This attitude has increased into a sickness that has taken away from the enjoyment of the game.

So it was refreshing to say the least to watch the Fort Bragg cheerleader Miss Christine Peterson (Terra Linda-Fort Bragg game).

It was American youth at its finest hour, and no one watching could not have been moved by the brilliant and exuberant Miss Peterson who never allowed the tide of battle or the stifling heat drain her enthusiasm.

This is the spirit that made this nation great and which saw it through many harrowing times. This is the flag waving-hats in the air attitude that we had given up as lost in today's youth.

We need the Miss Petersons as they may have never been needed before. We can all take pride in her. Let's follow the Miss Petersons and never be ashamed to stand and shout down apathy and non-participation.

We are indebted to her for reaffirming our faith in America's youth.

Let Candidates Speak Nicely

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I venture to predict that the first candidate for governor who says something kind or nice about his opponent and continues to say it from time to time will be elected.

As a devout Republican, I concede that several of Brown's judicial appointments were not wholly bad. On the other hand, I'm sure that any sane Democrat (if there are any) will concede that Eisenhower would not repeatedly express his admiration for a candidate for high public office who honestly deserves epithet of "Tricky Dick."

Yours for sanity and a modicum of sweet reasonableness, even in political warfare.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Marin County Supervisor George Whiteley of San Rafael held out against his four colleagues in opposing Marin acquisition of Angel Island. Mrs. Caroline Livermore urged that the county include the island in its master plan before the army could set up a guided missile center.

State Sen. John F. McCarthy denounced what he termed "wanton extravagance" of Golden Gate Bridge directors and said he might seek legislation to have management transferred to the California Toll Bridge Authority.

20 YEARS AGO

Auditor Leon de Lisle announced that sign-up for U.S. bond buying was proceeding in county offices at such high velocity that it might be possible to abandon plans for a special sales campaign among county employees. Half the county workers signed for payroll deductions within the first two weeks.

Mill Valley and San Rafael took inventory of local stocks of men's rubber boots and shoes, preparatory to rationing such articles. Women's and children's rubbers remained unrationed.

Many Gomez Back And Bubbling; Ricky Helps Nature; Doorknobs Up

Gomez, the bombastic one, rolled back into town last week, just a little late for the City Council meeting.

He said he had not attended any planning commission or city council meetings in Europe, but that he did talk at length with his cousin, Joseph Garcia, the ex-mayor of Caltama.

"THEY HAVE the same growth problems in Spain we have," said Manny. "But over there they work differently than we do. They facilitate and work with the people. You find this in Italy, England and Germany. They work to help the man invest his money because he is the one who is building the country."

Manny said he is negotiating for an apartment unit and a motel in Spain, that he is unhappy with the "ugly cut" which has appeared in Blithedale Canyon in his absence, as well as a remark made by a councilman who said he made more money attending planning commission meetings than at his jewelry store.

"I'll be back at City Hall meetings," he said.

Ironically, though surrounded by friends of nature, Richter does not cater to yellow jackets. Or, in different words, he likes them too much. Richter, or Ricky for short, stalks them, grabs them in his mouth, chomps them—and eats them.

"At first I was puzzled," Austrian-born Marchegger said, "I thought they would bite him. They haven't." We asked about how many a day Richter caught and Marchegger replied, jokingly, "If it is a nice day, he gets about 2,000 at least."

GEORGE PATTERSON, superintendent of construction on the addition to Old Mill School, says that door knobs are 38 inches from the floor. In the old building they are 34 and 36 inches. "The kids are getting taller," said Patterson. "In fact, everybody's getting taller."

"DON'T LET THEM build a highway on the best high school site (Trestle Glen). Write to Peter Behr," a sign reads on the bulletin board at the Board Walk in Belvedere.

Size Of Ted Kennedy's Victory Gives Him Head Start On Lodge

WASHINGTON — The size of Teddy Kennedy's victory in the Massachusetts primary gives the President's youngest brother not only the Democratic senatorial nomination, but a long lead over his Republican opponent, George Lodge.

Lodge is not going to throw in the towel—he is not that kind of a person or that kind of a campaigner—but Kennedy's massive vote gives him a tremendous leg-up in the election.

I'm not saying that Kennedy is in. But the odds are definitely on his side. Lodge will have to come from behind with a rush if he is going to have a fair chance of countering the political forces which the Democratic nominee now has going for him.

THE ADVANTAGES which give Kennedy his formidable lead are these:

1—His 2-to-1 victory over Edward McCormack, himself a popular and powerful figure in Massachusetts, gave Kennedy something like a 2-to-1 victory over Lodge in this pre-election trial run; that is, Kennedy and McCormack between them polled twice as many Democratic votes (800,000) as the combined vote of Lodge and Rep. Laurence Curtis in the Republican Senatorial primary.

2—Since the proportion of registered Democrats to registered Republicans is 3-to-2, it is evident that the Kennedy-McCormack race drew many more independents to it than the Lodge-Curtis race, and in Massachusetts the independents hold the clear balance of power.

3—AND THEN THERE is the White House—from whom many "blessings" can flow. At a press conference several months ago, President Kennedy was asked if he would actively help his brother get elected. He laughingly remarked that he didn't expect to send in any political troops but might dispatch a few training missions. Let's not be naive; before the Kennedy-Lodge campaign is over, there will be more than training missions coming from Washington.

Bear in mind that Teddy Kennedy has made the central slogan of his campaign: "I can do more for Massachusetts." Obviously nothing could help him better than to be able to demonstrate that he can do things for Massachusetts even before he is elected.

I think you can expect to read soon about a Defense Department procurement conference which will come at just the right moment.

THE SCENE OF the conference was originally to be in New York state, but somehow the word got around that it would be more constructive and convenient for everybody concerned—or for somebody concerned—to have it in Boston in mid-October, or not much later, and certainly before Nov. 6.

None of this means that George Lodge is out of the running. Of course he is in the running, but for quite a time he will be running uphill.

Hickey Blames Inept Pass Defense For 49er Loss

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A dejected Coach Red Hickey today blamed collapse of the San Francisco 49er pass defense for the Prospectors' 45-24 loss to Detroit.

Newly-acquired Milt Plum had his second big day in a row for the Lions as he hit 16 of 22 passes for 272 yards and four touchdowns against the befuddled San Franciscans.

A near-capacity Briggs Stadium crowd of 51,032 yesterday saw Detroit move out to a 31-10 lead and then hold on in the face of a desperate 49er comeback.

John Brodie, who also had a hot day, took charge and piloted San Francisco to two quick touchdowns.

Then came the turning point of the game.

Operating out of the "Shotgun" offense, Brodie hit Bill Kilmer on the San Franciso 35 with a pass. Kilmer put on a dazzling broken field run as he twisted his way to the Detroit 10. But old pro Night Train Lane of Detroit knocked the ball out of Kilmer's hands and Detroit pounced on the pigskin.

Plum took over and quickly directed the Lions to another touchdown. Thus what might have been a 31-31 contest had Kilmer held on to the football was turned into a 38-24 rout.

The Lions added icing to the cake when Danny Lewis burst through a drawn up 49er defense for a 64-yard run in the game's closing moments.

Despite Kilmer's costly bobble, the presence of the former UCLA star at starting halfback seemed to add noticeable oomph to the Prospector attack.

Kilmer ran for 25 yards, passed for 49 more on the option play and caught four passes.

Others who sparkled for the 49ers included pass receivers Bernie Casey and Clyde Conner, with five catches and one touchdown each, and J. D. Smith, who ran for 41 yards and caught four passes, one good for six points.

Brodie hit 18 of 26 passes for 256 yards. He operated out of the Shotgun formation about one-fourth of the time.

But the continued inability of the 49er defense to hold down the opposition was what depressed Coach Hickey. Chicago used a ground attack to pound out a 30-14 win Sept. 15 and it was the Detroit passing attack which did the job yesterday.

Hickey said that the 49ers did not rush Plum enough and that the backs did not cover their men well.

Two years ago the 49ers' defense backfield of Dave Baker, Jerry Mertens, Eddie Dove, and Abe Woodson was hailed as one of coming greatness.

Two years later, Baker is in the army and Jim Ridlon and El Kimbrough are trying to fill in for him. But Mertens, Dove, and Woodson still have not reached their predicted heights. They did not get the job done yesterday.

Giants Home For Windup

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The San Francisco Giants returned home today still flirting with the National League pennant and now hoping they can make St. Louis sing the blues.

The Cardinals whipped the front-running Los Angeles Dodgers 12-2 yesterday at St. Louis to help bring the Giants to three games out of first place. St. Louis will come to Candlestick Park to start a three-game series be-Tuesday.

The Houston Colts will open a three-game stand at Los Angeles tomorrow. All national league teams are taking a day off today before the final week stretch.

The Giants smashed the Colts, 10-3, at Houston yesterday to regain some of the ground they lost on their recent road trip. San Francisco started the journey only one-half game behind the Dodgers but won only three of 11 games.

Bill O'Dell picked up his 19th victory of the season for the Giants. He gave up seven hits and had a shutout until the ninth inning, when Houston scored three unearned runs.

McCOVEY'S HOMER

It was also number 19 yesterday for Willie McCovey, who blasted a three-run homer to cap a seven-run sixth inning for the Giants. Matty Alou helped out with four of San Francisco's hits off four Houston pitchers.

San Francisco started the scoring in the second with a single by Orlando Cepeda and a double by Ed Bailey. The Giants scored two more runs in the fifth inning on singles by Harvey Kuenn nad Matty Alou and a passed ball.

Losing pitcher Bob Bruce lost the mound in the catastrophic sixth. Houston's Bob Tiefenauer and Russ Kemmerer made brief pitching stands before the inning was over.

The seven-run spree featured singles by O'Dell, Chuck Hiller and Willie Mays. Matty and Jose Pagan doubled before McCovey slammed his 420-foot homer off Kemmerer.

The inning matched the Giants' previous seven-runner against the Dodgers April 16.

The Colts made their scoring debut in the ninth, a wild inning that opened on Roman Mejias' grounder through Pagan's legs.

WOODSON RAMBLES—Abe Woodson, San Francisco 49er back, streaks on one of his long kickoff returns in yesterday's game with the Detroit Lions. This runback was on a kickoff in the fourth period and illustrates the fine blocking by the 49ers. Detroit won the game 45-24. (AP Wirephoto)

49ers Are An Improved Club But Plum Was Just Too Hot

RANDOL

There was no excuse for the miserable showing of the 49ers a week ago against the Chicago Bears. But there was plenty of excuse yesterday when the Detroit Lions outscored the Hickeymen 45 to 24.

Despite the apparent run-away, this was a good game to watch, and the score is not indicative of the improved play of the 49ers. The way Lion quarterback Milt Plum was pitching, and the way his ends and backs were catching, even the Green Bay Packers would have had their hands full.

Just like Mother said, there are days like that. Too bad it had to happen to our boys.

COACH RED HICKEY has let no grass grow under his feet. The 49er offense showed the greatest variety and the most imagination in years. The basic T formation was mixed with the Shotgun and even a double wing, with a good mix of formations. Eventually, this will pay off.

John Brodie was on target most of the day, completing 18 passes out of 25 attempts. Comparable to Plum's 16 for 21, but lacking in long-goners.

Wild Bill Kilmer gave notice that he wants to stay in the 49er backfield as a permanent fixture. His passing is no picture type, but it delivers the ball, and his running threat will increase with his experience, as will the correction of his propensity to fumble . . . I hope. Kilmer has the knack of showing up at the right place at the right time, and this is something in-born, not developed.

IT IS IMPORTANT to note that the 49er play picked up after big Bob St. Clair came out swinging after being charged by defensive end McCord of the Lions. If anything, Bob's complacency has been the only thing that has kept him from greatness. When he is fired up, his huge bulk can be menacing.

The 49ers still hurt for lack of a crunching fullback, and if they could beg, borrow, or steal one, there would be a great change in the attack threat. Volunteers form a double line on the right, please.

Next Sunday, at Kezar, the 49ers step back into their own class when they tangle with the Minnesota Vikings, and they should come up with their first win of the year and a chance to get the rough edges off the new attack patterns.

THE OVER-ALL outlook is still not too bright for the entire season, but the 49ers could be an interesting and explosive ball club, a spoiler if you will.

When the doormat Washington Redskins can lick the mighty Cleveland Browns, as they did yesterday, anything can happen in this league. I hope a little rubs off on our boys.

Redskins Stun Cleveland

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Whoosh!

That was the sound the Cleveland Browns heard late yesterday afternoon when exteammate Bobby Mitchell took off on a touchdown run in their game against the surprising Washington Redskins.

Fizzle!

That was the sound two minutes later of the Browns' threatened quick getaway in the National Football League's Eastern Conference race after Mitchell's touchdown run on a pass from quarterback Norman Snead helped the now-amazing Redskins ring up a 17-16 victory over a team rated at least a two-touchdown favorite.

Ho-ho!

That was Mitchell having the last laugh on his old boss, Paul Brown, who deemed him expendable by trading him to the 'Skins for top draft choice Ernie Davis.

Mitchell, the halfback the Browns didn't want and the one the Redskins so desperately needed, has helped turn the Eastern race into the expected dog fight, and-hold on-put Washington into first place.

The Redskins, who tied Dallas a week ago, lead the Browns, New York Giants, St. Louis Cardinals and Pittsburgh Steelers, all 1-1, by a half game today. The Giants, losers a week ago to the Browns, evened their record with a 29-13 victory over Philadelphia, now 0-2. St. Louis fell before the Green Bay Packers 17-0, while the Steelers edged Dallas 30-28 as Bobby Layne set a pair of NFL career passing records.

FOUR-WAY TIE

The Packers, Detroit Lions, Chicago Bears and Baltimore Colts are all 2-0 in the Western Conference. The Lions continued their rampage behind new quarterback Milt Plum, whipping the San Francisco 49ers 31-10, the Bears belted the Los Angeles Rams 27-23 and the Colts defeated the Minnesota Vikings 34-7.

Mitchell lost favor in Cleveland with his sometimes erratic play, and when he became a Sundays-only player last year because of Army duty, his effectiveness was cut even more. So Brown bundled him and rookie LeRoy Jackson of Southern Illinois off to the Redskins for Davis, the Syracuse All-America and Heisman Trophy winner.

The deal has worked in the Redskins' favor. Davis has not been able to play because of a blood disorder, while Mitchell and Jackson, the first Negroes ever to play for the 'Skins, have helped put teeth into Washington's attack. Mitchell scored three times against Dallas last week, and then tormented his old buddies no end yesterday.

WINNING PLAY

After fullback Jimmy Brown fumbled near midfield and Ed Khayat recovered for the 'Skins, Snead hit Mitchell with a pass over the middle, and he jolted free from a converging group of Browns' defenders and streaked down the sideline to complete a 50-yard touchdown play. Bob Khayat kicked the winning punt.

The 'Skins then blocked two field goal tries by Lou Groza in the final minute to nail down the victory, which matched their season totals in each of the last two years. Groza field goals of 32 and 37 yards and Tom Wilson's touchdown had given Cleveland a 16-10 lead.

Y. A. Tittle hit end Del Shofner with two touchdown throws, Don Chandler kicked three field goals and the Giant defense did the rest. Though giving Sonny Jurgensen 33 completions in 57 tries for 396 yards, New York's defensive unit blocked three field goal attempts, turning one of them into a 77-yard TD play, and intercepted three passes. It held the Eagles six times without a TD inside the 20-yard line.

TOUGH DEFENSE

Green Bay's defense held the Cards' hard-running offense to 16 yards including 9 by John David Crow. The Packers' offense, led by Jim Taylor's 122 yards pushing and 40 passing did the rest, with Paul Hornung scoring on a 3-yard run and Max McGee on a 19-yard pass from quarterback Bart Starr. Hornung, who had 28 points against Minnesota last week, added 11 with two extra points and a 13-yard field goal.

Former Ram stars Billy Wade and Joe Marconi led the Bears. Quarterback Wade tossed a touchdown pass and scored once, while Marconi tallied once and gained 81 yards pushing while filling in for the injured Rick Casares.

Weatherly, Gretel Repeat Tomorrow

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI)—A gusty and rainy wind blew over Newport today but the forecast said the skies would clear for the America's Cup boats tomorrow in the fifth — and possibly last—race of the U.S.-Australian encounter.

Australia's Gretel was hauled from the water yesterday and refloated again today after minor repairs and hull polish.

Both skippers, Bus Mosbacher and Jock Sturrock, planned to take their sloops out for practice sails today.

Weatherly was a strong favorite to wrap up the 111-year-old competition tomorrow.

This is a best-four-out-of-seven affair and Weatherly, the U.S. entry in this 12-meter sloop competition, already has won three races against one for the challenger, Australia's Gretel.

GREAT EFFORT

So it could all end tomorrow, over a 24-mile, windward-leeward course, six miles on each leg and twice around—sort of like a huge bathtub. But regardless of which way it ends, it will not be without a great effort from the men from "down under."

The Aussies have won only one race, but they have given the defender a great run. Their best, but losing effort came Saturday when they glided across the finish line only 26 seconds behind Weatherly, a heart-breaking defeat.

Gretel's loss on Saturday was the closest race that ever has been run in America's Cup history. It all began in 1851 when the U.S. schooner America brought home from England the cup which this country has retained successfully ever since against 17 foreign challengers.

Saturday's race was run in winds that ran between 6 and 14 knots, from the south mostly, not the kind of breezes preferred by Gretel. She has shown best in strong, better than 20 knot winds, much as they blow usually off the Australian coast where the crew trained. The crew hopes for these heavy winds tomorrow, but the forecasts are not optimistic.

Burford Goes; Dallas Whips Raiders 26-16

OAKLAND (AP) — Chris Burford, an Oakland product playing for Dallas, scored three touchdowns to ruin the debut of a Texan playing for Oakland yesterday.

That's the story of the 26-16 triumph of the Texans over the Raiders as Dallas remained undefeated with a 3-0 records and Oakland fell to 0-2.

Burford, a graduate of Oakland High School and Stanford University, grabbed throws of 12, 27 and 26 yards from Len Dawson in his first showing as a professional in his hometown. Dallas played Oakland before in the Bay Area but the games have been in San Francisco.

Cotton Davidson, the Baylor rifleman whom the Texans traded to Oakland, proved his worth as he hit 20 of 41 passes for 248 yards. He should be tougher when the Raiders meet San Diego at Oakland's Frank Youell Field next Sunday.

In addition to Burford's touchdown, Dallas scored on field goals of 10 and 24 yards by Durwood Pennington and his two conversions.

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Insatiable Maury Wills is going for 100, but the Yankees will settle for one more tomorrow that would bring them their 12th American League pennant in 14 years.

Wills elatedly announced "I'm going for 100 steals" upon passing Ty Cobb and seting a modern major league record for stolen bases yesterday with his 96th and 97th thefts of the year.

Yankee Manager Ralph Houk also had an announcement after his team clinched at least a tie for the pennant with a 5-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox in 10 innings.

"This thing could go down to the wire," Houk said, convincing absolutely no one in light of the Yanks' 4½ game lead.

Seeing that no one was buying his conservatism, Houk noted that the Yankees play Washington Tuesday night and Wednesday and admitted "we should win one of those."

One is all it will take, but even if the Yanks lose to the Senators Tuesday night, they can still clinch if the second-place Minnesota Twins lost their game to the Cleveland Indians.

ALL DOWNHILL

The 29-year-old Dodger whippet, who broke Cobb's 47-year-old record even though his team was trounced 12-2 by the St. Louis Cardinals, tied the Georgia Peach's mark of 96 steals after singling off Larry Jackson in the third inning and established the new mark after singling again in the seventh.

Wills received a loud ovation from the St. Louis crowd of 20,743 and was presented with the actual base he stole to surpass Cobb.

His two steals came in the Dodgers' 156th game — Cobb also set his record in 156 games during the 1915 season —and Commissioner Ford Frick promptly said of Wills' feat:

IT'S A RECORD

"It's a record. Whether we say it's a record in 162 games or not, there's no question it's a record—the most bases ever stolen in a season."

Despite Wills' record, the Dodgers' lead in the National League was shaved to three games when the second-place San Francisco Giants shellacked the Houston Colts, 10-3.

Don Drysdale, the Dodgers' 25-game winner, failed to last four innings as the Cardinals scored eight of their runs off him and saddled him with his eighth defeat. Stan Musial and Bill White each drove in three runs to help Jackson notch his 14th triumph.

Elston Howard's two-run homer climaxed a four-run 10th inning rally by the Yankees that balked Early Wynn's bid to win the 300th game of his major league career. The loss was the 14th of the season for the 41-year-old Wynn, who has won seven this year. Bill Stafford held the White Sox five hits for his 14th victory.

Tam, Terra Linda Romp To Easy Gridiron Victories

Flashy Indians Score 32-6 Over Castlemont

By MAURICE WEINGER

Playing like a championship was at stake, Tamalpais High School completely outran and outhustled Castlemount, 32-6 Saturday at College of Marin Stadium.

The Indians were unbelievable as their defense held the opponents to a mere eight net yards on the ground while the offensive unit ran the ends with ease to set up four of the five touchdowns.

While heroes were plentiful for Tam, quarterback Bill Gillingham did start the ball rolling in the right direction with a first quarter score around right end that capped a 48-yard drive in nine plays. Included in this drive were four remarkable runs by Warren Domino which put the ball on the 19 and a defensive roughness penalty which set up the score from the four.

Tam increased the score on the third play in the second quarter as Gillingham, getting beautiful blocking by Domino and John Hammond, ran from Castlemont's 40 to the 20. A one-yard gain by Hammond was offset by an offside penalty, but Ellis Williams, a sophomore speedster, didn't let a defender touch him on the third down play that covered 24 yards.

The third quarter was a beauty for new coach Pete Belden, who won his first game after being tied a week ago. Three touchdowns came each time Tam got the ball. The first resulted by Castlemont's ineptness to punt and the Indians had possession on the opponents' 34. Ev White drove two and Terry Oldham sped for 12, and then White, on a sensational trap play over left guard zoomed the next 20 to pay dirt.

FANCY FUMBLE

On the ensuing kick-off, Castlemont moved five yards but got fancy on a double reverse and fumbled. Art Foster, the defensive end, scooped up the loose ball on the 38 and was home free to a TD.

The ordeal for the opponent wasn't over yet as Tam's defenders moved the East Bay 11 back 31 consecutive yards highlighted by a bad pass from center on a fourth down punt situation. From the 22, Oldham ran for five but Gillingham got caught for three. With speed necessary, the call went to Williams, who again ran his left side to the one-foot line, from where Gillingham went over on a keeper.

LATE SCORE

Castlemont scored late in the second half when Chuck Locati's pass was intercepted by Bob Kelley and returned 61 yards to the Tam 21-yard line. Quarterback Glenn Sweeny reared back and threw a strike to Phil Coleman for the single tally.

Belden was quite pleased with the results. Asked to name the standouts, the youthful coach remarked, "It was a team effort and everyone was a standout."

Terra Linda Wins Over Sonomans

The Terra Linda High Trojans were basking in the winner's circle today after their second practice football game victory Saturday over Sonoma High School, 25-7, on the Terra Linda High field.

Joe McBurney, Sonoma halfback who suffered a head injury during the contest, was scheduled to be released from Marin General Hospital today. A hospital spokesman described McBurney's condition as satisfactory and said he was "resting comfortably."

Halfback Don Dreusike scored a pair of touchdowns for Terra Linda, one on a seven-yard pass from quarterback Dick Schultze in the second quarter and the other on a 12-yard run through the middle in the third period.

Steve Seymore brought the crowd to its feet with a dazzling 65-yard punt return good for a second period touchdown for the Trojans. The other Terra Linda TD came on a 47-yard run by fullback Ray Miller after he gathered in a screen pass from Schultze in the fourth stanza.

SHORT LEAD

The lone Sonoma touchdown came in the first period, giving the visitors a lead which they kept for only a short while. Dave Inart, scored the touchdown from the one-yard line.

Terra Linda outgained Sonoma, 359 yards to 190 in total yards gained. Terra Linda made 293 yards on the ground and 66 in the air and Sonoma made 160 yards rushing and 30 yards passing.

Schultze attempted six passes and completed four and the other Trojan quarterback, Bob Taylor, hit for one out of two tries. Terra Linda was penalized eight times for 90 yards and Sonoma penalized seven times for 75 yards.

One of the Terra Linda penalties came on a pass play from Schultze to end Bob Cooney in the end zone which nullified the touchdown. The Trojans scored seconds later, however, on the touchdown pass to Dreusike.

The score by quarters:

Terra Linda	0	13	6	6	—25
Sonoma	7	0	0	0	— 7

Terra Linda scoring — Dan Dreusike on seven-yard pass from Dick Schultze. Steve Seymore on 65-yard punt return; placement good by Chuck Izenour. Dreusike on 12-yard run. Ray Miller on 47-yard run on screen pass.

The Mill Valley Junior Indians crunched the San Francisco Junior Mariners "B" team 31-6 Saturday on San Francisco's Lincoln High School field.

Due to a difference in league regulations, the Mariners had a maximum weight of 115 pounds and the Indians had a maximum limit of 123 pounds. This was the difference in the grid contest.

Mill Valley touchdowns were scored by Steve Reiter, Scott Laurie, David Hayes, Mike Biber and Jim Kerrigan. The Junior Indians squad was the only Marin Pop Warner team to play a practice game this week.

The league will open play next weekend.

THE BIG 96TH STEAL FOR WILLS

Drake '11' Shut Out Again, 14-0

By RALPH CHATOIAN

The Drake High Pirates today are wondering when they will score their first touchdown of the season.

Failing to come through in their scoring chances against Edison High of Stockton Saturday, the Pirates were shut out for the second week in a row, 14-0, in a battle played at College of Marin stadium.

In addition to Lee, Edison had two other speedsters off the track team in the starting backfield. Johnson and left-half A. B. Coleman both run the century in 9.9.

FIRST CHANCE

The first big chance for Drake to score came in the second quarter when it put together a drive which ended on the one-yard line. The scoring threat came alive when quarterback Hamish Tyler threw a strike to end Mike Crabtree setting up a first and goal situation on the Edison nine.

After an incomplete pass and runs around both ends advanced the ball to the one, a power play up the middle failed and the ball went over to Edison.

Next big scoring threat came in the opening minutes of the last quarter when the Pirates got the ball up to the Edison three-yard line and couldn't push the ball into the end zone. Drake got the break to set up the drive when tackle Roger Bovard picked up an Edison fumble on the Stockton team's 37.

Head coach Bob Franceschini used two quarterbacks at the same time throughout most of the game. Tyler played at the quarterback spot and reserve quarterback Mike Kemp was used in a halfback slot, making use of option plays. Tyler showed the better arm of the two.

Score by quarters:

Ukiah Rally In Second Half Gains 14-14 Tie At Novato

Novato Hornets have one more chance to get a practice game victory before they start to defend their Marin Athletic League football title.

After losing their first practice tilt 26-0, the Hornets fought Ukiah High School to a 14-14 deadlock Saturday afternoon on the Novato High football field.

The Novato gridders were on their way to victory with a 14-0 lead during the third quarter, but Ukiah bounced back with a pair of touchdowns to even things up.

The first Novato score came in the second period on a 10-yard run by halfback John Miller. The second Hornet TD came on a 20-yard pass play from quarterback Roy Otis to right end Ron Heidinger in the third period. Al Blos made both place kicks good to give Novato a 14-0 margin.

Later in the third quarter, Ukiah blocked a Novato punt deep in Hornet territory and took over the ball on the Novato 12-yard line. Seven plays later Ukiah scored with fullback Larry Myers crashing into the end zone.

Then in the last quarter, with about three minutes remaining in the game, Ukiah quarterback Joe Jahn unloaded a 30-yard pass good for the touchdown on a fourth and six play. Then Myers smashed into the end zone for the all-important point after touchdown, knotting the score at 14-14.

THREAT HALTED

Novato then took the kick-off and advanced the ball to the Ukiah 20-yard stripe for a first down with only seconds remaining. Trying to throw the big bomb, Otis passed into the end zone only to have a Ukiah defender intercept the ball and then stop the scoring threat. Two Ukiah plays later the final gun sounded ending the game.

Head coach Marlin Olsen had praise for Otis, Miller and Heidinger for their offensive play. He also noted Ukiah quarterback Jahn, a 6-2 athlete, "threw the ball real well."

Score by quarters:

Novato	0	7	7	0	—14
Ukiah	0	0	7	7	—14

Breaks Galore, But Redwood Loses, 13-6

Unable to capitalize on scoring opportunities, ball control, and a good share of the breaks, the Redwood High Giants went down to their second consecutive seven point loss at Bailey Field in Santa Rosa Saturday night. Final score had Montmery High on top by a 13 to 6 score.

With their first three fullbacks hurt or hurting, the Giants could not move down the middle in scoring territory. Coach Bob Troppmann, understandably disappointed, could still find some solace in the play of senior veterans Jeff Teather, Doug Houston, and Jim Troppmann, and improving performances from at least five juniors — Dave Auerbach, Dave Cox, Steve Minutoli, Dennis Shunk, and Rick Klein.

FIRST MOVE

Redwood made its first move after the opening kickoff. Two completed passes to Doug Houston, a nicely executed roll-out by quarterback Troppmann, and a 13-yard run by Auerbach put the Giants on the Viking seven yard line before the attack fizzled.

Moments later, 200-pound Viking fullback Steve Ostrom burst through a stacked eight man line, caught the Giant secondary flatfooted, and ran 80 yards for Montgomery's first score. Ken Pedersen ran over the point after touchdown for an early 7-0 lead.

Auerbach, the running star of the night, took the kickoff back to his own 46. Steve Solinsky went for eight and Auerbach for fifteen, but the drive flattened and the Giants kicked to touch on the four. A recovered fumble on the Viking 20 gave the Giants another shot at a score but Troppmann's pass was intercepted by big Mike Francis.

Auerbach ran another Viking punt back to the Santa Rosa 35, but again no progress. Next time, Auerbach made it closer with a run-back from mid-field to the Viking nine, Four plays later (actually five,counting a penalty) Montgomery had the ball on its own two yard line.

A fired up Giant varsity finally went all the way after half time. Troppmann recovered a fumble on the Viking 38, Auerbach went for 12, Jerry Rumsey for 10 and then Rumsey again for the score. The PAT run missed and it was 7-6.

The Vikings met the challenge with two strong drives of their own. The first ended with a Troppmann interception on his own eight, but the second ground out the final five yards in four tries against a stubborn Redwood defense, with Ostrom going over. The PAT run was missed and the scoring was over.

STENGEL SIGNS TO AGAIN HEAD METS IN 1963

NEW YORK (AP) — Casey Stengel was signed again today as manager of the New York Mets baseball team. Salary terms were not disclosed, but it is believed he will receive $80,000 for the 1963 season.

Scalpers Hit Title Fight

CHICAGO (UPI) — Ticket scalpers were doing a booming business today in preferred seats for tomorrow night's six million dollar Floyd Patterson-Sonny Liston heavyweight title fight.

The scalpers were demanding and getting $150 a seat for tickets in the first five $100 rows, as champion Patterson and challenger Liston prepared to break camp tonight and motor into the city for their scheduled 15-round bout tomorrow night.

Meanwhile, a brigade of workmen began installing the ring and field seats at Comiskey Park.

A box-office man for Championship Sports, Inc., the promoters, declared angrily, "I don't know what we can do about the scalpers. We positively refused to do any business with ticket brokers on this fight. But some of them apparently sent a lot of stooges around early and bought choice tickets. Now the demand for them is terrific."

RAIN OR SHINE

The demand was stepped up by promoter Al Bolan's announcement that the fight will be staged tomorrow night "rain or shine." However, the weather outlook for the bout is cloudy and cool, but dry. Bolan issued his rain-or-shine edict because of threatening skies today.

"Three weeks ago architect Lionel Levy of New York, who laid out the ring set-up and the seating plan, arranged for a large tarpaulin to be placed on rollers above the ring to protect the fighters in case of rain," Bolan explained.

He added with a grin: "How can we have a postponement—with more than 35,000 people expected at the park and with more than 750,000 expected at closed-circuit theaters throughout this country and Canada?"

RECORD PAY

Liston, who expects to make about $400,000 out of the fight, was still favored at 8-5 today although an early poll of 104 American and foreign writers favored Patterson to win over Liston, 62-42. Floyd hopes for an all-time record purse of $1,700,000.

Both fighters were slated to motor into Chicago tonight in order to sleep here before going to the weigh-in tomorrow at 10:30 a.m. in the Hotel Sheraton. Patterson planned to weigh about 190 pounds, 25 less than Liston's target of 215.

Patterson considered 190 his best fighting weight because that was his figure for the second bout with Ingemar Johansson of Sweden in which Floyd became the first man to recapture the heavyweight crown, by knocking out Ingo in the fifth round.

Liston, 28, is trying for the crown and his 27th straight triumph. He is going after his 34th win in 35 fights. Big Sonny lost only on a decision to Marty Marshall, whom he later knocked out and outpointed.

Lavorante Condition Is Serious

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A neurosurgeon says stricken Argentine heavyweight Alejandro Lavorante has slightly better than a 50-50 chance of living.

Doctors removed a piece of bone from the prizefighter's skull yesterday to ease the pressure of his swelling brain. It was the third operation performed on the boxer since his knockout loss to unheralded Johnny Riggins Friday night.

After the three-hour operation, Dr. J. DeWitt Fox said the 212-pound, 6-foot-4 fighter is "far from out of danger."

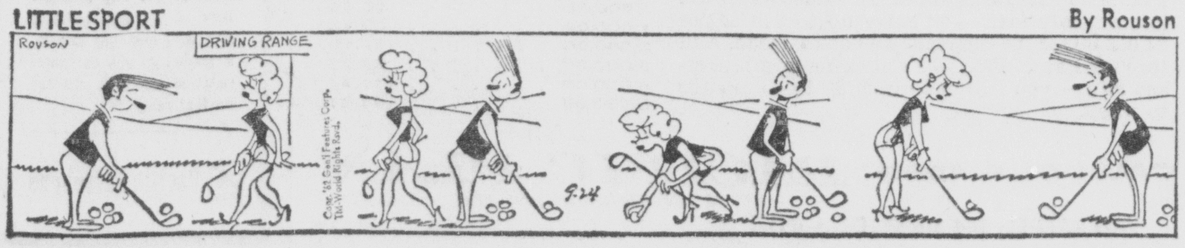

"But he responds with boxer-like motions of the arms to painful stimuli, like pinches," said Dr. Fox. He said it would be two days before he could predict Lavorante's future.

The hospital said Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion who discovered the big Argentinian, called twice from Chicago.

And Pinkie George, Alejandro's manager, has won permission to go into Lavorante's room. George told the Associated Press he put his hand on the stricken fighter's shoulder and said, "Pinkie's here."

BICYCLE BRIGADE TO SCHOOL

Peter Noyes of 119 Hill Drive, Kentfield, was well on the way toward losing a $25 bet with his father, Dr. Chester Noyes, today as he led a number of fellow students to Redwood High School on bicycles. Dr. Noyes bet Peter, who is president of the student body, that by the end of the week 10 per cent of the student body would be following his example and riding to school on bicycles. Today was the first day. (Independent-Journal photo)

TEAM TEACHING IN MARIN–I

Pupils Getting The Benefit Of Some Special Talents

By LOREN MacARTHUR

The beat of hands clapping rhythm sounds from one music room at Edna Maguire School in Mill Valley. Down the hall a second class chants the blues. In a third room, pupils hear recordings of Miles Davis or Louis Armstrong.

These seventh and eighth graders are taking part in a "completely new and experimental" program which soon may change the face of education throughout the United States.

"Team teaching," or "better time utilization" as it's known by the professionals, frees teachers to use their specific talents by allowing them to pool their resources.

It can be as simple or complex as a school district chooses to make it. Team teaching is so new there hasn't been time for thinking on it to fossilize. It is found most often in wealthier school districts which can afford to experiment.

Many Marin County school administrators and teachers have inaugurated team teaching programs this year and last, as they say, "with some apprehension." These men and women have earned the right to be called the true pioneers in education today. Here, in their own words, are descriptions of team teaching done in their schools and its effect on the students participating in it.

David Reed, chairman of the music department in Edna Maguire School for seventh and eighth graders in Mill Valley, was not satisfied with the conventional sort of musical education his pupils were getting. For only a half hour each week, the students gathered to sing and sometimes hear a record. One teacher carried the entire music teaching load.

By last spring Reed had acquired two more music teachers, Tod Fleming, a drummer, and Donovan Stahl, a specialist at singing. Reed was most interested in musical form and history. The three, he thought, were wasting their time teaching each other's specialties in generalized classes.

Reed's answer to the problem of using the best of every teacher was his version of team teaching. Edna Maguire pupils now learn music in blocks of six weeks and change teachers each two weeks during the six.

"When we study jazz," said Reed, "one class will work with me listening to all kinds of jazz and learning something about the form of jazz. They go to Stahl and learn to sing the blues or modern jazz. The third unit, with Fleming, is in some related activity. In the case of jazz, they might practice rhythm with each row clapping the beat of a different rhythm instrument. They might make primitive rhythm instruments.

"We'll handle units on history of song, musical comedy, musical styles, exotic music symphonic form in the same way. The approach is completely new, and it's experimental. The idea of cooperating, tossing ideas back and forth, has made us quite excited about it.

"We got some adverse early reactions from students because we're now giving them grades instead of a plus or minus. They'll have to write papers; it's an academic class with meat in it. Now, though, they seem to like it very much. They know they're experimenting in something new."

In districts for younger pupils, such as Reed Union School District and the Dixie School District, team teaching often means hiring an additional teacher to relieve classroom teachers for work with remedial or above-average students.

In the Bel Air School in Tiburon, under principal John Fitch, all first grade teachers work together planning their program so some classes can be taught together. One teacher then gives the main lesson while the others circulate helping individuals or small groups.

Similar programs have been inaugurated in other schools in the Reed district since the arrival of Supt. Edward C. Pino a year ago. Pino formerly was assistant superintendent of Lamphere Public Schools in Madison Heights, Mich., one of the innovators in the field of team teaching.

At the Lucas Valley School in Marinwood, a part of the Dixie district, upper grades are combined for a team teaching reading program where each teacher is able to work with a group of similar ability.

"We did it to really stretch the ability of these youngsters," said Supt. Dennie B. Willis. "We've divided the fourth, fifth and sixth graders up together according to their reading ability. Last year the results were phenomenal as far as rapid learners were concerned. All the students like it because they're doing what they can do and want to do."

At a higher student age level, team teaching programs produce some of their most startling results. The history department at Sir Francis Drake High School in San Anselmo this fall started still a different team teaching program after a successful experimental summer school program.

'We want a program which frees the student to express his own views. We hope to break down the dogmatism that's associated with so much teaching of history on the high school level," said Gerald M. Lucey, a Drake history teacher who, with teacher Duane Miller, originated the program.

"We've combined the senior history classes. We think it's redundant for one teacher to give the same lecture five times a day. This way, one teacher gives the lecture once to the entire group. The idea is that the teacher has more time to prepare a better lecture. The other teachers are free to meet in seminars with small groups.

"Other days the three of us (Lucey, Miller and Richard Campion, former principal of Tamalpais High School) each presents to the entire group divergent viewpoints on the same topic. The students are extremely excited about the uniqueness of being exposed to a number of views.

"Seeing teachers disagreeing frees the student to speak his own views. It breaks down the feeling that students must accept the teacher's world as fact. One of the main problems you have is getting students to realize their own opinions are worth something, and what they're worth is the logic and reason behind them. Team teaching helps them realize this."

Shooting Figure To Court

Albert Clarence Jennings, 33, of 49 Cole Drive, Marin City, suspected of shooting a Richmond youth in the back last month at the Pig Haven Restaurant near Richardson Bay Bridge, was scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

Jennings turned himself over to Deputy Sheriff George Johnson Saturday afternoon and was booked in Marin County Jail on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon. He was held in lieu of $10,500 bail.

Witnesses told Deputy Boyd Burnham that a man named "Slim" walked up to Siminton and asked him who had thrown a bottle at his (Slim's) car, then shot Siminton in the back with a pistol.

Investigators believe that the man named "Slim" is Jennings.

Historic Grave To Be Improved

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — A $3,000 bequest will be used to improve the grave of Mrs. Lucy Virgin Downs, the first settler born west of the Alleghenies.

Mrs. Downs was born near Uniontown, Pa., in 1769, but is buried in Old Town, Ky., where she lived for about 40 years.

Kentucky poet-novelist Jesse Stuart heads a committee which will obtain a new gravestone and buy highway tourist markers.

No Hardesty Conflict

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—San Diego County superintendent of public instruction Dr. Cecil Hardesty today was assured of retaining his post even though he has declared himself a write-in candidate for the office of state superintendent of public instruction.

County Counsel Bertram McLees ruled Saturday that Hardesty will not forfeit his present job by running as a write-in candidate for the state post.

Deer Causes Small Car, Driver To Flip

A deer ran a Novato man's small imported car off the road early today. The car rolled over, landing on its wheels again, and the driver, Thomas Leo Hazel, 37, of 849 Wilson Avenue, suffered only minor injuries.

Hazel told the California Highway Patrol that he was driving north on U. S. 101 near Miller Creek crossing at about 50 miles an hour when a deer ran in front of his car. Hazel braked and swerved, bumping the deer with a right fender, but he lost control, veered over the divider and struck an earthen berm on the far side of the highway.

Hazel complained of back and chest pains, and was picked up at the scene by his wife and taken to a physician for treatment.

It was not known what happened to the deer.

The sun's glare and the obscured vision of a motorist this morning resulted in minor injuries to Lewis Baker, 73, of 1 Hill Road, Fairfax, who was hit by a car while crossing Center Street near the Pacheco-Broadway intersection.

Fairfax police said the driver, Ronald John Bosco, 36, of 12 Valley Road, Fairfax, couldn't see Baker, who was already in the middle of the street as Bosco was making a turn. Baker's right leg was hurt, but X-rays at Marin General Hospital showed no fractures and he was released. Bosco was not cited.

A 22-year-old airman stationed at Hamilton Air Force Base last night received a broken right ankle when his motorcycle ran into the back of a car on U. S. 101 near Entrada the California Highway Patrol.

A/1C Peter Jay Freitag of the 78th Ordinance Maintenance Squadron was given emergency treatment at Hamilton and transferred to Travis Air Force Base, where his condition today was termed good.

Freitag told officers that a car ahead of him, driven by Dino Carlini, 40, of Eureka, stopped too suddenly to allow Freitag to avoid hitting the other vehicle. Carlini said he had to stop for traffic ahead of him. Both vehicles were southbound.

Robert Scott Jackson, 26, an Alameda taxicab driver, was cited by the highway patrol early yesterday for driving for hire more than 10 hours straight without resting following an accident on U. S. 101 two miles south of Highway 37.

Jackson reportedly told officers he fell asleep and hit a guard rail, and that he hadn't slept for 18 hours. He had minor injuries, but went to Mare Island base hospital by himself.

Two San Francisco men were injured, one seriously, early yesterday when their car left East Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley, and plunged 187 feet down a slope, landing in the yard of Wallace J. Meyers at 2 Dorset Lane.

Police said Narciso Ramirez, 21, the driver, apparently fell asleep. He was treated at Marin General Hospital for nose cuts and released. Luis Joe Oliu, 31, suffered numerous facial cuts and serious injuries to his left eye.

After surgery yesterday afternoon Oliu's condition was termed fair. Police said the car plunged from the 187 block of East Blithedale at 3:30 a.m.

Two Brothers Jailed After Drive-In Fracas

Two brothers, suspected of trying to pick a fight at C's Drive-In on Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, were jailed last night on citizens' complaints.

Paul Edward Kordik, 18, of 11 Meadow Drive, Mill Valley, was booked on suspicion of assault and battery and freed on $367.50 bail. His brother, Thomas George Kordik, 23, of 123 Willow Avenue, Fairfax, was booked on suspicion of disturbing the peace. He bailed out for $105. Both are scheduled to appear in Municipal

Raoul Gomez, 24, of San Francisco, told Deputy Sheriff Herrick E. Morgan he drove into C's about 6:30 p.m. with his girl and another couple, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rangel, and their 10-month-old daughter. Gomez said he was giving his order at the counter when the Kordiks asked him if he wanted a fight. When he ignored them, Paul hit him on the back of the head, Gomez told officers.

Bagley, Carrow Debate Tonight

Candidates for Assembly from this Seventh Assembly District will appear on the same stages together twice in two days.

Tonight a debate is scheduled between Assemblyman William T. Bagley, Republican seeking re-election, and Robert D. Carrow, the Democratic nominee, at a 7 p.m. San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce dinner in Rickey's Rancho Rafael, Ignacio.

Tomorrow night the two candidates will appear in Redwood High School auditorium to discuss the issues before the Redwood Political Club. The program is open to the public starting at 8 p.m.

Sickness, death and crime all increase during periods of high humidity due, say the experts, to the weariness and tension that accompany discomfort.

Era Of Breakfast In Bed Is Over

CHICAGO (AP) — Joseph J. Haley, general manager of a new Chicago hotel, says the era of breakfast in bed is over.

"Out of 300 guests, room service orders for breakfast are almost nonexistent. When one of the rare calls does come, we thing, 'Ah. Here's our chance to serve breakfast in bed.' But instead, it usually turns out that the guest is up and waiting, and eats it at a table," Haley said.

Car Broken Into

His 1960 Volkswagen was broken into and $600 in clothing and golf clubs taken while the car was parked on Tiburon's Main Street over the Labor Day holiday, Randall V. Greig of San Francisco belatedly reported to the Marin sheriff's office Saturday for insurance purposes. The car was parked while he was sailing on Sept. 2 and 3.

ALUMNAE from the Bay Area, Sacramento and Southern California gathered Saturday afternoon at the San Rafael campus to attend the reception honoring Sister Mary Maurice O.P., principal of the Dominican Upper School. On balcony with Mesdames Neil Burton and Charles Clifford, Sister Maurice waves to former students having luncheon under bright parasols in Hawthorne Court.

Dominican Principal Is Honored

AMONG THE HUNDREDS of former students who greeted Sister M. Maurice on Saturday were, from center, Mesdames Charles Clifford, alumnae president; Mrs. Marcell Smith, past president of the alumnae, and Neil Burton, past student body president and now a member of the lay advisory board. The reception, which marked the 18th year as Upper School principal for Sister Maurice, drew long lines of former students to the hall of Administration building for the event. Today's Youngsters Losing Touch With Fantasy In Factual World, Says Author

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—The woman author of a best-selling series of children's books believes today's youngsters are losing touch with fantasy because of the nature of current writing for them.

"The general run of reading material for them is factual," said Pamela Travers, British author. "How to do this. How to do that!"

To P. L. Travers, as she signs her works, "A balanced menu" of reading for children must include fairy stories.

"Fairy stories tell how to be," she said. "They're the lessons of the race. They include all the truths."

We asked Miss Travers to suggest what else should go in a balanced diet for children's reading.

"I would prefer the term 'food'," she said. "Food is for eating when hungry. Diet connotes a regime."

She wouldn't eliminate today's "How to" books from the menu. But she would suggest that parents always furnish the "food" of nursery rhymes and hymns, as well as the fairy tales.

"THE OLD RHYMES are built on the same truths as the fairy tales," said Miss Travers.

"Lamentably," she added, "not enough adults are reading fairy tales now, either."

She added that for children reading should be for fun—they shouldn't need to interpret. But for adults, the ideal fairy story starts the reader asking questions . . . interpreting "according to ones own morals."

Miss Travers said the true fairy tales, as those by Grimm, are "passed down through many generations. Most of the great ones we know came out of the East, many from old Persia.

"Do you know, I have found 232 versions of Cinderella alone?"

P. L. Travers is the author of the Mary Poppins series of books for children. Mary is the heroine who gets into all sorts of adventures—and in 12 languages into which the books have been translated. Mary also soon will be the heroine of a motion picture Walt Disney is planning, Miss Travers said.

THE AUTHOR is on a visit to this country for further discussion of the film and also to supervise publication of the new book for adults—"The Fox at the Manger," based on the tradition that on Christmas nights have the gift of speech.

In the field of children's books, she suggested some reading bores children because the author writes down to them.

"I think it is a great pity to think about age groups when recommending reading material," she said. "Perhaps the very young child has to be catered to a bit. But not to the extent that reading is predigested."

"Children like to chew over big words," she said. "It is a pity to understimate the wisdom of a child.

"And I think that anything that is true can be told to children."

PAMELA TRAVERS contends that she does not write for children—"I don't visualize them as an audience," she insisted. "I write to please myself."

She added, "if we are fortunate, we do not leave the world of childhood behind us when we grow up, but carry it complete somewhere within us . . .

Alumnae Gather From Throughout State For Fete

Attending the reception honoring Sister M. Maurice, O.P. at Dominican Convent on Saturday, were many of the school's former student body presidents.

Sister Maurice, whose feast day coincides with the Convent's fall luncheon this year, is celebrating her 17th anniversary as principal of the Upper School. She greeted her former students in the Convent Administration Building prior to the luncheon.

Coming from Los Angeles for the occasion were former presidents Mrs. William Still (Peggy Lou Lacy) and Mrs. Francis Purcell (Joy de Benedetti), as well as Southland Chapter chairman, Mrs. Nicholas Bakewell (Elizabeth Dills).

SEW SIMPLE

By EUNICE FARMER

"I'm hoping this suggestion will be helpful as well as economical to many who love slim-jims as I do. This idea will save buying anywhere from ½ to ¾ yards more material when using the wider width materials or those with a nap.

"Cut gussets in the crotch of the pants. When using velvets, plaids, etc., be sure to match the plaids and cut the gusset with the same nap, and allow for seams on both the gussets and the pants." Mrs. James E. Boggs of Tulsa, Okla. has been awarded a tailor trix pressing board for this suggestion.

"I was attracted to a beautiful simple dress that was made on a diagonal cut, using two colors. A third color was used in the form of a bias covering the seam of the dress where the two colors joined. I have searched the pattern books and can't find a pattern like this. Would this be too difficult for me to try to do and would you please help me with any cutting instructions?"

Mrs. C. G. W.

Dear Mrs. C. G. W:

I would begin with a perfectly basic type pattern which can be found in all pattern books First, lay the pattern on a large folded piece of newspaper as you would with your fabric, and cut a new paper pattern which will be the full width of your dress instead of just half the width.

Using your yardstick, carefully mark a line where you wish the diagonal line to appear. If you want a diagonal line in the back, be sure the seams will end at the same point of your skirt. Mark your paper pattern with the words "right side," so you will know that the pattern and the fabric must both be cut on the "right side." Your fabric will not be cut double.

Cut your new paper pattern on the diagonal line and place it on your fabric, leaving a seam allowance on each of the diagonal sections.

The third color, if desired, is achieved by making a bias tubing and pressing it flat, then hand-tacking it to your dress

just over the seamline. Grosgrain ribbon could be used instead of a bias tubing.

This can certainly be a novel and unusual dress and will draw gobs of attention to your sewing. Somehow or other most people would never imagine you had made a garment yourself if you vary from the pattern and add your own little creative ideas because they don't think we are smart enough for that, but that's the fun of sewing.

"Please excuse my hasty letter, but if I don't sandwich you in with my ironing, I won't make it! I have some lovely wool straight-cut skirts that are 2 inches too long, all with a double kick pleat at the hem. Is it better to shorten these skirts on the top? Please help me so I won't botch them up."

Mrs. J. A. B.

Dear Mrs. J. A. B:

Probably the best way to shorten these skirts would be to eliminate the pleats altogether and make a slit opening the width of the hem. In order to shorten a skirt from the top, you would have to replace the zipper, waistband, and re-cut the skirt to fit the side seams. In other words, you would be re-making the skirt the hard way.

Your sewing glossary: Nap—(Last week we discussed the pile of velvets and corduroys).

The following information applies to woolens or any mixtures of fabric that have a fur or hair content which gives it a napped feeling. This also applies to cashmere, some types of metallics or coatings that have a dense pile. These fabrics must be cut with the nap, or smooth as you stroke down.

Before cutting any garment, check with your fingers to see if there is any up or down to the fabric. All pieces of your pattern must be cut in the same direction or they will look like two entirely different pieces of fabric. Mark your scraps with an arrow in chalk so if you need them, you will not make a mistake.

Three-Year-Old Son Now Rebels Constantly, Worrying His Mother

"My son's conduct worries me," a mother writes. "I have even prayed that he would improve, but he hasn't. He is three-and-a-half. Up to his third birthday, he was almost too obedient. But now he rebels continuously. He tries to find ways to hurt me. The worst thing he does is to run out in the street. He waits until a car is coming, so he can scare the driver. My husband says to whack him for it. Is there a better way to make him stop?" Mrs. E. J. W.

I doubt it. Your son is in the normal period of "negativism." Up to about three, most children are little angels. They try to obey. Their mistakes are unintentional; their motives are good. Then, rather abruptly, they start thinking for themselves. They are impelled to experiment with all kinds of behavior. They rebel impulsively, and learn by the consequences of their actions. Gradually, they build their lifelong guidelines, their "consciences." You should not let your son get by with bad or dangerous conduct.

Explain to him what is right and what is wrong. Be consistent. Let him know what you expect. When he is deliberately naughty, crack down, always using the mildest punishment that will teach the needed lessons. But for his most dangerous mistakes, spank him. Don't hesitate. You've waited too long already.

Some folks spank their three-year-olds many times a day. That is a mistake. They lose the effectiveness of the punishment, and gain only resentment. But if you save the spankings for your boy's worst offenses, he'll learn fast. Good luck!

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Our girl is only four, but already she has a bad reputation. She kisses boys on the mouth. Even older boys come around for her caresses. We think she is having innocent fun, but the neighbors are worried. They say she's deliberately naughty. Should we make her stop?" Mrs. S. T.

(A) Yes, you should. Explain to her that kisses are reserved for family members. Answer her questions about it. Be sure she obeys. I'm sorry the neighbors feel as they do; however, their reaction is understandable.

MRS. PETER ASPINWALL

Barbara Atwood Recites Vows With Earle Michael Young Jr.

At a Saturday afternoon ceremony at the First Presbyterian Church Barbara Joan Atwood of Vallejo became the bride of Earle Michael Young Jr. of Kentfield.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Atwood of Vallejo, was given in marriage by her father for the double ring rite. She donned a candlelight brocade gown of ballerina length to recite her vows.

Mrs. Jerald Watson of Vallejo was matron of honor and the sole attendant, wearing a dress of blue satin styled with a bell shaped skirt.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Russell Westover III of San Rafael, and escorting guests to seats were Ragnvald Bernt and William Asbell, both of Ross.

The bride was graduated from Vallejo High School and she attended Vallejo Junior College. She is the sister of Robert E. Atwood of Vallejo.

The bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Earle Young of Kentfield and he is the brother of Lynda Young of Kentfield and Mrs. George Poppe of San Francisco.

He was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and Redding University, and is employed by Ross Valley Savings and Loan Co.

DORCAS SOCIETY TEA WILL MARK FOUNDING OF CHURCH

The 42nd Anniversary of the Dorcas Society of the Fairfax Community Church will be celebrated with a silver tea tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. in Berger Hall at the church.

Slides of the Holy Land, taken last year by Miss Betty Teare, will be shown by her mother, Mrs. Thomas Teare. Chairmen for the day will be Mesdames Claude Miller, Carl A. Benson, A. A. Boulter and Florence Dierks. Charter members Mrs. Carl A. Benson and Mrs. A. F. Adams will pour tea.

In 1917, when there were no protestant churches in the Fairfax area, four women responded to a notice posted in the Fairfax Postoffice. They met at the Women's Club in Fairfax, and after a number of fund raising events, mostly lunches for business men, Dorcas was formed as the first step to start a church. Meetings were held at the Women's Club. Then a joint venture with the Masons for a building to be used both as a church and as a hall established the first church, on Park Street. Some years ago it was sold and the present church on Sir Francis Drake was built.

Country School Planning Reception

Marin Country Day School in Corte Madera will hold a faculty reception Friday from 6 to 8 p.m. at the school, sponsored by the board of trustees and the Parents Group.

Committee members includes Mrs. Donald Westerbeke, Mrs. Alexander Imlay and Mrs. Edmond Nash, decorations; Mrs. Sandor Burstein, Mrs. William Grace, refreshments; Mrs. Thomas Page, invitations and Mrs. William Brinton, who is planning dinner parties at the homes of the parents for the faculty members after the reception. Mrs. George Hellyer of San Francisco is chairman.

No Yardsticks

Today's foot-measuring devices differ greatly from the yardsticks of yesteryear, which only registered the length of the foot. One foot-measurer in use today gives the length and width of both feet at the same time for accurate fitting.

Marin Girls Entering Nurses Training Class

Carole Nelson of San Rafael and Linda Frater of Kentfield are among the 46 freshmen entering Samuel Merritt Hospital School of Nursing in Oakland to begin the three-year course.

Carole, a 1962 graduate of San Rafael High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Nelson of San Rafael. Linda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Frater of Kentfield. A Redwood High School graduate, she attended the College of Marin and University of California at Santa Barbara.

Still Pressing

NEW YORK (UPI)—The ironing board is far from shelved by the advent of wash and dry clothes. One manufacturer of ironing board covers estimates 1962 sales of irons at 7.680 million. That, said the firm, is a total of $110 million spent on the ordinary iron. Ironing board sales run about 10 million units a year and covers average between 50 and 60 million, said the firm.

Garden Color Is Topic For Outdoor Club

"Pot Gardening, or Color in Your Garden All Year 'Round" will be the program for Thursday's guest day meeting of the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley, announced program chairman Mrs. Kenyon Spalding.

Mrs. William Ferguson of Belvedere will be the speaker for the 2 p.m. program to be presented under the direction of Mrs. John Lennon, cultural arts chairman.

Mrs. Ferguson has developed shortcut techniques for busy women who like to garden with the easiest and best results. She has been a visitor to the Orient, where she learned to achieve colorful effects all year with the use of pot plants.

Before and after the meeting the club garden section will have an assortment of pot plants and bulbs in the patio. Mrs. Jerry Schuepbach will exhibit two sand castings in panel form suitable for garden decor, as well as Oriental wall hangings, trays and other mosaic articles.

The best man was John S. Humphreys of New York, and William N. Thorndike of Boston, and Anderson Storey, brother of the bride, were ushers.

The bride attended the Cambridge School of Weston and the Rhode Island School of Design. She made her debut at the 1958 Boston Cotillion.

Foreign Study Becoming Major Trend

Overseas study is taking the shape of a major trend in U. S. higher education. Formerly, it attracted only graduate students and a few rare undergraduates. But today, were they all in one place, our wandering scholars would fill a university larger than all but a half dozen universities in the United States.

According to estimates, nearly 25,000 young Americans from hundreds of U. S. colleges will spend at least part of the 1962-63 school year at foreign universities. Notable is the fact that a growing proportion of the U. S. students heading overseas is made up of undergraduates, chiefly sophomores and juniors.

AS MIGHT BE expected, Europe is experiencing the largest influx. Seven of every 10 U. S. collegians enrolled in other countries this year will be studying there.

What's behind this trend? The broader world view of today's student, says the Institute of European Studies, largest U. S. organization conducting foreign study programs for American undergraduates.

Travel certainly lures some students. But officials find more and more youngsters want to enrich their future studies through on-the-spot investigation of Europe's culture, history, politics and languages. Back on their "home" campuses, most prove to be better students for the experience.

Helping to stimulate the trend is the cost of study overseas, where universities are often heavily subsidized. Eleven months in Europe may cost from $2,000 to $2,500, including full tuition for the year, room, board, study trips with academic guides, and round-trip ocean-passage — roughly equal to a year's tuition, room and board at private U. S. colleges. A six-month stay, including a semester of study, may range from $1,400 to $1,600.

BUT THE UNWARY student faces problems and pitfalls. Foreign study, it says, is rewarding in the degree to which the student can be "immersed" in the European university and the culture of a different land. The amount of immersion depends on his previous education, his ability in a foreign tongue, and his capacity for adjusting to alien ways.

The alternative to "immersion" is "drowning," which the Institute believes is the almost certain fate of the average U. S. undergraduate who attempts independent study in Europe. Universities there are essentially graduate schools for those who have a solid background of general knowledge and can exercise considerable initiative in specialized studies and research. No homework, quizzes, term papers or mid-semester exams are used to guide and measure scholastic progress.

The vast differences between the two systems have challenged American educators convinced of the value of foreign study for U. S. undergraduates. To bridge the "educational gap" they have supplemented European university courses with language instruction, special lectures and orientation to Europe.

THE RESULT IS an accommodation of European learning to U. S. college requirements. American colleges are keeping close tabs on overseas study in the absence of international accrediting agencies, but most of them accept credits earned on programs they regard as academically sound.

Some 200 U. S. colleges and universities have approved the three programs conducted by the institute in Europe. In each of its centers—in Vienna, Paris and Freiburg, West Germany —the institute combines formal lectures, seminars and academic field-study with opportunities for immersion in the European university.

Students live in private homes to deepen their acquaintance with European life. During university vacation periods, faculty members lead them on study trips in western Europe to give them firsthand experience of art, culture and political institutions and provide them with background for formal course work.

THE VIENNA AND Paris programs are open to juniors and some sophomores, while the Freiburg program is limited to juniors.

Most educators agree that, in the sciences and in business fields, for example, foreign universities can add little to what the U. S. undergraduate may readily obtain at home. What Europe does have to offer, especially to liberal arts students and those in general studies, is the wealth of its art, literature, history, political variety, cultural tradition and languages. Those attractions are helping to make Europe a "branch campus" for U. S. collegians.

U. S. STUDENTS enrolled with the Institute of European Studies attend a psychology class taught by Dr. Viktor Frankl at the University of Vienna in the city that is the birthplace of modern psychology.

AMERICAN SCHOLARS take an orientation tour through Vienna's Inner Ring, central and oldest section of the city, led by an institute faculty member. Vienna and Paris programs are designed for U. S. College sophomores and juniors and a West Germany program is available to juniors only.

Opera Salute For 'View' Luncheon

"Have a Ball at Fol de Rol" is the salutation of "Fashions With a View" on Thursday, at the Ondine in Sausalito, with a promenade of American designer fashions and furs.

Invitations have gone to Marilyn Horne and Giorgio Tozzi of the San Francisco Opera Company, to be the "guests with a viewpoint," saluting the Opera Guild, sponsors of the "Fol de Rol."

Showing the fashions will be Mesdames John Willcutt, David Sederquist, Hal Wagner and Yvonne Buchi. Luncheons and fashions will begin at 12:30 p.m.

Out Of The Past

Take the word "past"—give the letters a subtle twist and lo, you have "spats"—the over-the-shoe, shin-climbing "boot top." For daytime they're simple and tailored and for evening they go as respendent as a queen's jewel box. A narrow strap fits under the shoe, and the spot climbs as high as you want it to. Whether plain or fancy, it's a real fun note this fall.

North Bay Council To Open Fall Term

The North Bay Council of Chapters of Children's Home Society will welcome members tomorrow at the first fall meeting at 10:30 a.m. at Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club. Jolly Rogers, Peter Pan, Chicken Little, Rose Red, and Tom Thumb are the five chapters included in the North Bay Council of Chapters.

Mrs. James Kean, serving her second year as council president, will introduce the newly elected officers, Mesdames William Maxwell, vice president; Joseph Huffaker, recording secretary; Clyde Nelson, corresponding secretary and Andrew Kozak, treasurer.

Mrs. Grace Hahn, assistant director of volunteers for Northern California, introduce the guest speaker, Miss Martha Burnside, caseworker from the San Francisco office of Children's Home Society. Miss Burnside will discuss the role of the social worker in the adoption program.

'Men In P-TA' Topic For Meet

Dr. Mitchell Soso of Santa Rosa, men's participation chairman for the 14th District of the California Parent-Teacher Assn. will be guest speaker at the Marion School P-TA meeting in Novato at 8 p.m. Thursday in the multi-purpose room. Dr. Soso will speak on "Men in the P-TA."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Van Dellen

Hemophilia no longer is hopeless and its victims need not live in fear of bleeding to death from every scratch or bruise. Those surviving childhood can lead a near normal life by compensating for the few restrictions the condition imposes. They should avoid manual labor and take a job or learn a profession in which the risk of injury is minimal.

Everyone knows that hemophilia is hereditary and is transmitted to sons by mothers who carry the trait. The daughters born to a female carrier and an unaffected male stand an even chance of being carriers, and the sons of being hemophiliacs. On the other hand, if the father has hemophilia, all of the sons will be normal provided the mother is not a carrier; the daughters will carry the trait.

HEMOPHILIA IS RARE among women but may occur when the father has hemophilia and the mother is a carrier. This is noted more often today because of the tendency of persons with common infirmities to get together. Dr. R. G. Macfarlane told of a young man with hemophilia who was so impressed with the way a girl nursed her hemophiliac father he married her. Their daughter has the disease.

Hemophilia is caused by a congenital deficiency of either of two blood clotting factors. Hemophilia-A has too little factor VIII (AHF) whereas hemophilia-B is deficient in factor IX (PTC).

THERE ARE 12 different factors in blood that play a role in blood clotting, hence various bleeding disorders are possible. Some bleeders lack this, and others, that. Diagnosis can be made only by running specific tests to determine clotting defects.

Treatment of bleeding is aimed at augmenting the deficient factor in the blood. Those with hemophilia-A need fresh blood or plasma because factor VIII is not found in serum or stored blood. Factor IX is more stable and is present in plasma, serum, and stored blood.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

DISTURBED FOCUSING

K. M. writes: What is the cause of eyes going out of focus?

REPLY

Many chapters in the standard books on ophthalmology are devoted to this subject. The individual may need glasses, the eyes straightened, the circulation improved, increased tension within the eyeball (glaucoma) decreased, to discontinue toxins such as alcohol, or other conditions corrected that interfere with sight.

PSORIASIS AND ARTHRITIS

R. S. writes: Is there any difference between psoriatic arthritis and the other kinds?

REPLY

There is some suggestion that psoriasis is the outward manifestation of rheumatoid arthritis. But the evidence is by no means positive. The 8 to 10 per cent of psoriasis victims who develop arthritis probably would have developed the condition, regardless of the skin disorder.

CLIMATE FOR BRONCHITIS

T. R. writes: What kind of climate is good for bronchitis?

REPLY

There is no perfect climate for bronchitis. A warm area, where colds are not common, should be ideal. A dry climate aids those who bring up excessive secretions, provided the dust in this area is not bothersome. A moist climate helps when the respiratory membranes are dry.

BABY NOT HARMED

Mrs. W. writes: If a pregnant woman is given an antibiotic for an infection would the baby develop side effects from the drug?

REPLY

No, even though penicillin and the other antibiotics pass through the umbilical cord.

Today's Health Hint—Insect sprays and powders are hazardous when used improperly and carelessly.

Tariff Walls Won't Tumble Overnight

NEW YORK (AP)—The world's tariff walls won't come tumbling down overnight.

As Congress puts the finishing touches on a sweeping grant of powers to the president to work toward freer trade, the key word today still is bargaining.

The president will have power to bargain with the Common Market and England and Japan. The goal is to lower, perhaps abolish in time, their tariffs or quotas or other restrictions on the admission of American goods.

In return the bargain would include similar lowering of barriers or penalties in this country on the admission of foreign goods.

Such bargaining is usually a long, slow process. It can go on, industry by industry, item by item, for many months or even for years.

Tariffs are only one of the walls that nations raise against others' goods. After the war, most European nations put strict quotas on the amount of American goods, item by item, that could enter.

They also imposed currency restrictions that made it hard or impossible for an American manufacturer to get his money back in dollars or other currencies.

Quotas and currency barriers have been falling steadily in recent years. But some still remain.

The United States in turn has many trade barries still. These range from strict quotas and allotments on importation of sugar, to tariffs that can be raised when domestic manufacturers show they are being hurt by foreign imports. This provision, though modified, is still in the bill.

Also, we have trade agreements with some countries whereby they send here only a certain volume of particular products, to leave a major percentage of the market to American industry.

Both the United States and the Common Market have plenty on which to bargain.

What Congress is giving the president is the power to do this bargaining, more power than his predecessors ever had. The expectation is that the Common Market and others will see enough advantages to themselves in freer trade to reach agreement with the United States along these lines.

If all sides are the gainers, the resulting greater economic health of the non-Communist nations will weigh heavily in any future conflict with the Reds.

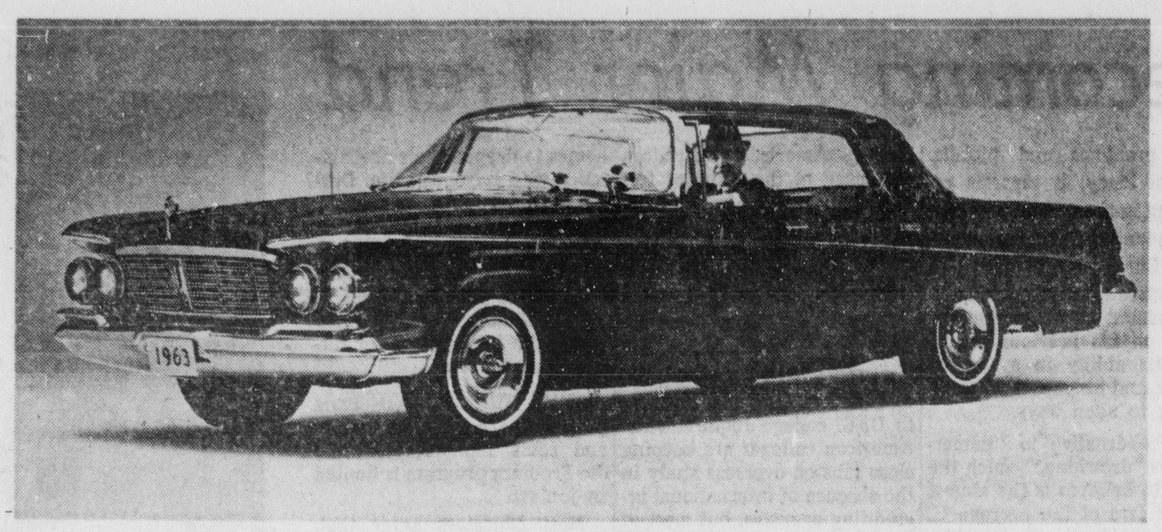

The very fact that the president will have power to make such deals will make the Common Market more willing to enter into bargaining sessions.

But in every case the special interest of various American industries and agriculture will remain. Many trade barriers, therefore, may be slow in coming down, or may be lowered only gradually.

The president's triumph in getting these powers is unquestioned. But the final bargains may be some distance away and far from being a sure bet—either on our side or the Common Market side.

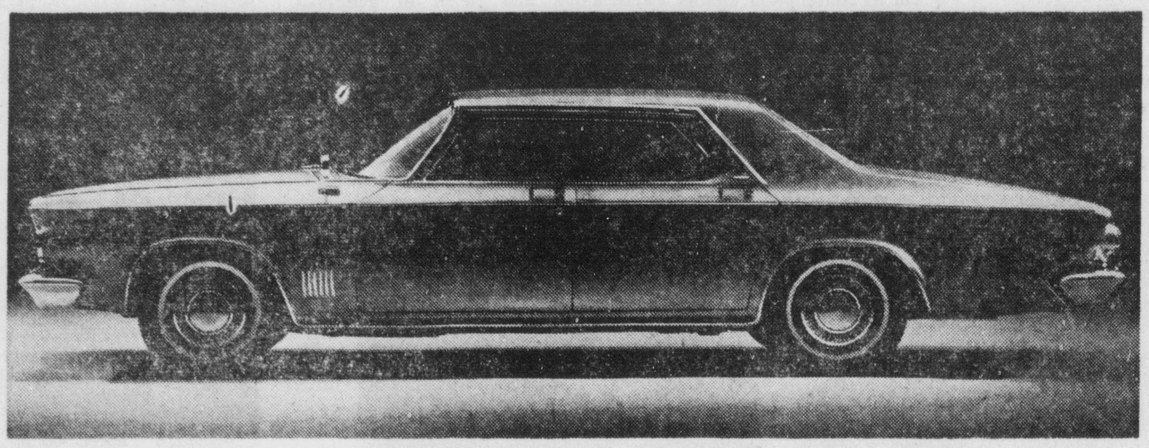

To Aid Retarded

All proceeds from the "spaghetti feed" at the Office Cocktail lodge, Mill Valley, tomorrow will go to Marin Aid to Retarded Children. Service at the lodge will begin at 8 p.m.

IMPERIAL FOUR-DOOR HARDTOP

Imperial retains many of its styling features of previous years, including the free standing head lamps of 1961 and 1962. But there is a new grille and a more elegant rear design treatment. This top-of-the-line Chrysler series will be shown at Jack L. Hunt, San Rafael and at recently opened salesrooms of James L. Walker, Inc., 505 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley during October.

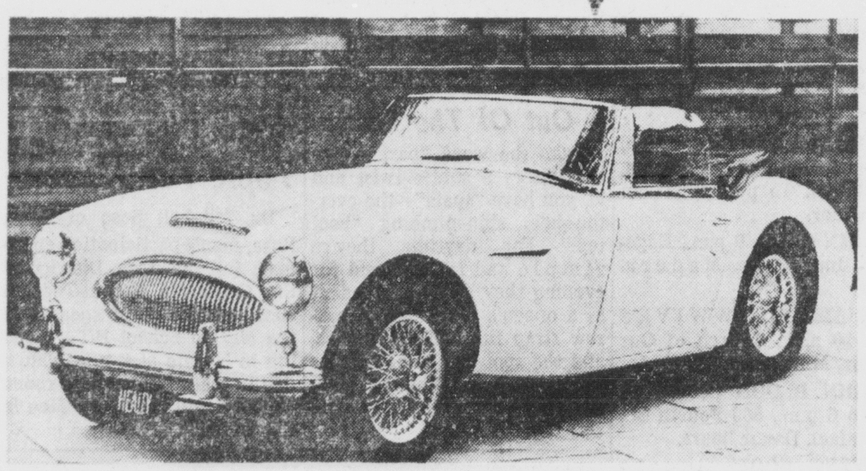

CHRYSLER FOR 1963

This New Yorker four-door hardtop is one of 14 models offered by Chrysler. Crisp, uncluttered styling distinguishes the new line which will be offered next month at Jack L. Hunt salesrooms in San Rafael and at the newly opened Chrysler agency, James L. Walker, Inc., 505 Miller Ave., Mill Valley.

NEW LARK WAGONAIRE

1963 AUSTIN HEALEY SPORTS CONVERTIBLE

This prestige sports car of the British Motor Corp. line features as standard equipment a tough vinyl-treated top that can be raised or lowered by one person from inside the car. The occasional four-seater also has a new wrap-around windshield and removable flexible plastic rear window. The model is now being shown at E. F. Sweeney British Cars, San Rafael.

Two Youths Hurt As Car Rips Rail

Two youths were treated at San Rafael General Hospital after the car driven by one tore up 100 feet of chain-link fence on the Highway 101 Frontage Road in Terra Linda Saturday.

Police said the car's right bumper caught in the fence, preventing it from plunging into a 15-foot drainage ditch. Gary A. Richter, 18, of 430 Via Herbosa, San Rafael, said he was watching another car when he lost control of his car while southbound.

Richter complained of pains in his head. His passenger, Donald D. Kehrli, 20, of 34 Karl Avenue, San Anselmo, was treated for ac ut forehead and sent to Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital for further treatment.

Marin General To Study Insurance

Bids for liability insurance will be reviewed by the Marin County Hospital District Board tomorrow night, Administrator Thomas Broderick announced today.

The bids will be opened at 5 p.m. The board will meet at 8 p.m. in the doctors' lounge of Marin General Hospital.

Directors will hear reports from the board's operations committee and planning committee and a medical report from Dr. Dallas Wagner, chief of staff.

The Most Up-To-Date Method
Of Buying And Selling Real Estate

MULTIPLE LISTING

- IT GETS FASTER RESULTS!
- IT COSTS NO MORE!

Thousands of homes have been sold by Marin REALTORS through the efficiency of the Marin County Multiple Listing Service.

This modern cooperative system has conclusively proved to property owners its value as a sales asset.

Unlike the "old days" you do not have to shop around from office to office to list your house. Today you sign one agreement with one MARIN REALTOR, and your listing — with photograph and giving complete details—is broadcast from the Real Estate Board office to its entire membership. Automatically the property you wish to sell is called to the attention of a Sales Force of more than 700 realty experts. Any Marin REALTOR will multiple list your home. Whether he or a fellow REALTOR sells it, only one commission is paid.

Phone your nearest Marin REALTOR, ask him to put your name on Multiple Listing.

Dear Maude:—

You said when you found a house of your dreams, it would have to be new, and yet have complete charm, and above all, PRIVACY and a view that went as far as Mt. Diablo, the Bay, and above all, Mt. Tamalpais.

You also made a specific request it must have a different fireplace . . . preferably a massive rock type . . . you said, it must have original design . . . like maybe an amber mullioned glass entry . . . that it had to have 3 large bedrooms with their own private deck . . . that the bathrooms must be elegant . . . that the kitchen must be perfection with every conceivable built-in . . . that it must have a fabulous living room with a gigantic deck and above all . . .

NO GARDENING! You certainly asked for everything possible that would be in a perfect home . . . AND we finally found it . . . for only $26,500! Get over here quick and bring your check book!

P.S.—We didn't forget your low-down-payment request either —we have a most agreeable seller!

4-DOOR—Here's a 4-Dr. Super Hardtop we sold new in '56 to local dentist. It's absolutely without a scratch or mark of wear inside or out. White with green two tone. Power steering, dynaflow, radio, heater, ww tires and all the Buick extras. Just turned 50,000 miles which means a lot of trouble-free miles in this clean older car.

'56 Buick $695

WAGON — Special model 4-Dr. Estate Wagon that we sold new in '56 to local couple. Their children are grown now so they purchased a new 4-Dr. hardtop. Light green with full leather interior. Dynaflow, radio, heater, power steering and all the extras. Not a mark on this wagon. It's been used strictly for family transportation and has never been used commercially. The cleanest older wagon we've seen in years.

'56 Buick $495

COUPE — Special 3-Dr. Riviera Hardtop Coupe in light green with white top. Dynaflow, radio, heater and many other Buick extras. One owner car that's really clean inside and out. Would make a wonderful second car for the family.
